President's Report

By Ray Lamoureux #9

The weather is getting hot here and the pool is back open with limited people that can use it at one time. The club house is still closed, and everyone is keeping space between each other because of the virus.

The Hardin house sale will be completed by June 1st. The survey of the property has been completed and the problem with the property line is with the bank. We have a space that no one claims that they own it. If we claim the land we will own it in seven years. The residents will be able to tour the house when they return to determine what to do with the property.

The cameras are being fixed as of this writing. We hope they are finally fixed so they are working properly. It has been a long time that they have not been working right.

The pool is scheduled to be resurfaced this summer. We had two places patched temporarily this winter and we need the whole surface renewed so it won't lift again.

We are having the storm drain repaired again. We did not like the original job done. We are also having two more drains that look like they are unstable. We hope that all the repairs are done to our satisfaction.

The palm trees are growing so fast that we need to have some trimmed again. They are hanging down so far that they hit your face when walking under them on the sidewalk.

The board hopes everyone is staying safe this summer.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

From the Editor's Desk

By Sue Bailey #188

Greetings,
All activities for the month of May were also canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Both our clubhouse and pool were closed for over a month. The good news is that Dunedin is gradually opening again. Our pool has been opened, with no more than 10 people allowed in the pool area and are to remain six feet apart. I want to thank everyone who contributed by writing articles for this newsletter. It is very much appreciated. Read about how to protect yourself and keep these scammers at bay with an article from the Fraud Watch Network; an update on our GA task force; A look back on our St. Patrick's Dance in 2016; more Chuckles, since we all can use a good laugh; the story behind gray hair from News In Health and more.

Wherever you are located, please keep in touch with all of us by sending articles and pictures for the monthly newsletter. We love to read about what's going on.

As June approaches, here are some notable events to remember:

- June 14th is Flag Day in the US.
- June 20th is the first day of summer (Summer Solstice).
- June 21st is Father's Day, so Happy Father's Day to all you Dads out there.

Until next time,
May God bless and keep you well and safe...

Greetings from the Office

By Karin Desmone #1

The 2020-2021 park directory and activities pamphlet have been printed. Everyone who was in the park received both at your coach. Those who left before I could get them delivered will receive both when your return to the park for the winter months. Many rushed out of the park to return to your summer address and were unable to sign out. Many thanks to all who phoned or emailed me about your departure date. Stay well and healthy!

Looking Back March 17, 2016

Since the virus has canceled so much of the G A Spring season fun, I thought we might like to look back. Here is a group of lads celebrating St Patrick's Day.

Seated is an Irish gal, friend and guest of Ann and Bob Stewart #89. Celebrating with her and wearing lots of green are some Irish boys from Golden Acres.

Golden Acres Community Task Force

By Sue Bailey #188

Phone # 727-242-7352

Email: suebail@tampabay.rr.com

Our Golden Acres Community Task Force is still operational although the “needs” have diminished since our stay at home orders in Pinellas County has eased and more are now allowed to go out. Many of our residents continue to reach out to their neighbors and friends on a regular basis. As of this writing, the “needs” of those in our park have been fulfilled thanks to so many of our caring residents. The generosity that I have witnessed here in our park has been amazing.

Once we are past this pandemic, we will continue with this community outreach program, not only for any “needs”, but also to reach out to those without email for important park information. There are currently about 51 residents with about 24 of them being year-round without email.

Lastly, I am still the point-of-contact for anyone with “needs”. My email address and my phone number are below the heading of this article. I will then reach out to our task force to assist in fulfilling any needs.

Chuckles

From Bob & Gizele Brewer #80

- Anyone else's car getting 3 weeks to the gallon at the moment
- The police want you to know that running from them is not social distancing
- Just like that, having a mask, rubber gloves, duct tape, plastic sheeting, and rope in your trunk is okay
- The drop-in petrol price during the lockdown is like a bald man winning a hairbrush
- Quarantine Day 20: Today I melted an ice cube with my mind just by staring at it. It took a lot longer than I thought it would
- All those Grandparents who are missing their grand kids right now. Once this is over you can have them for a month. Sincerely, a tired Mom
- Glad I didn't waste my money buying a planner for 2020
- No hair salons, nail salons, or tanning beds...some of you guys are about to meet your girlfriends for the very first time
- Home school update: My child just said I hope I don't have the same teacher next year
- It's like being 16 again, gas is cheap, and I'm grounded
- Three weeks of home schooling, my 7, 9, and 12-year old went surprisingly well. They have all graduated High School and are now ready to move out and get jobs once quarantine is over
- The Powerball is up to an 18 pack of Charmin
- What's the difference between Wuhan and Las Vegas? What happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas
- Fact: In 4 weeks 88% of blondes will disappear from the earth
- So, can we expect car insurance to go down since nobody can go anywhere?

Warning Signs

- A remedy, supplement or treatment is touted as a quick, sure-fire fix for a wide range of unrelated illnesses and health issues.
- Ads, emails and other communications include testimonials from “doctors” or “real people” about the amazing results they’ve seen from the product.
- Pitches include terms like “ancient remedy,” “natural cure,” “new discovery” or “scientific breakthrough.” They also might hint at government or health care industry conspiracies to prevent people from getting these miracle products.
- The product comes with a “no risk” money-back guarantee.

Do’s

- Do be skeptical. If claims made for an untested or little-known health product sound too good to be true, they probably are.
- Do closely check email and web addresses in messages purporting to be from major health organizations like CDC and WHO.
- Do go to the CDC and WHO websites for reliable, up-to-date information on disease outbreaks and other national and global health issues.
- Do research unfamiliar treatments:
  - Search for the company name or treatment online with the word “scam,” and check the claims with trusted sources of medical news and information.
  - Check with the Better Business Bureau and your state’s attorney general to see if a product or its marketer has generated consumer complaints.
  - Check with the FDA to see if a product is federally approved.
  - Consult a doctor, pharmacist or other health care professional before trying a new medication or treatment.

Don’ts

- Don’t let labels like “herbal” and “natural” sway you. Just because a remedy is natural does not mean it is safe or effective, especially in treating a serious illness.
- Don’t give in to pressure to act quickly. Health fraudsters rely on scare tactics or short-term “special offers” to close deals.
- Don’t try a product based on a money-back guarantee. Promised refunds don’t make an untested treatment any safer or more effective, and they often come with small-print strings that make it difficult to get your money back.
- Don’t open attachments or click on links in unsolicited emails or texts about medical products or global health crises. They could unleash malware on your device.

How Stress Causes Gray Hair

From NIH (News in Health) newsinhealth.nih.gov

A new study shows that stress really can give you gray hair. Researchers found that the body's fight-or-flight response plays a key role in turning hair gray.

Your hair color is determined by pigment-producing cells called melanocytes. New melanocytes are made from melanocyte stem cells that live in the hair follicle at the base of your hair strand.

As we age, these stem cells gradually disappear. The researchers showed that stress also leads to the loss of these pigment-producing stem cells in mice.

Nerves in your sympathetic nervous system — which is responsible for the body's fight-or-flight response — go throughout the body, including into hair follicles. The study showed that stress causes the release of the chemical norepinephrine into the follicle.

Norepinephrine affects the melanocyte stem cells living there. It causes them to rapidly turn into pigment cells and move out of the hair follicles. Without stem cells left to create new pigment cells, new hair turns gray or white.

“When we started to study this, I expected that stress was bad for the body — but the detrimental impact of stress that we discovered was beyond what I imagined,” says Dr. Ya-Chieh Hsu of Harvard University, who led the study. “After just a few days, all of the melanocyte stem cells were lost. Once they're gone, you can't regenerate pigments anymore. The damage is permanent.”

Home Exercise Routines

From Darin Hunt at Monthly Media Newsletters

Adding a fitness routine to your daily schedule is a great way to stay in shape both mentally and physically. Many of us are missing our regularly scheduled fitness activities offered in our communities or at our local gyms, but that doesn't mean you can't stay fit at home! Check out these exercise suggestions below for an effective at-home workout. The number of repetitions and sets of each exercise is up to you. You can customize this routine based on the amount of time you have.

*** If you're new to an exercise routine, please obtain clearance from your medical doctor before starting a new program or attempting any of these activities.

Warm-Up. First, warm up your body! If you can, go on a brisk 5-10-minute walk around your neighborhood to get your muscles warmed up. Prefer to stay inside? March in place, step side to side, or turn on your favorite tunes and dance around the living room for a few minutes. After heating up your muscles, dedicate some time to your joints. Think about starting at the top of your body and working your way down. Move your head left and right and tilt your head side to side to warm up your neck. Raise your shoulders up and down, then add some shoulder circles. Roll your shoulders forward for 30 seconds or so then reverse the motion rolling your shoulders back maintaining the circular pattern. Holding your arms out directly in front of you (you may choose to sit in a chair), do some wrist circles in one direction and then reverse the motion. Next, stand with your leg's hip width apart, slowly making a figure 8 shape with your hips. Continue in one direction for about 30 seconds and then reverse. Have a seat in a chair and lift one foot off the ground and begin making circles with your ankle. Start in one direction, then reverse the motion. Repeat with the other ankle. Whatever warm-up you prefer, the goal is to warm your muscles and joints to prepare your body for exercise.

Chair Squats. If you have knee issues, you may choose to skip this exercise (please consult with your doctor). Squats are a great way to strengthen your lower body. If you can, find two chairs to use for this exercise. One chair will be used for squatting, and the other chair will be used for balance. Place the chairs one behind the other facing the same direction leaving enough room for you to stand between the two chairs. Place your hands on the chair in front of you for balance, then slowly push your hips back, bend your knees, and lower your body to the chair. You may choose to lightly sit on the chair or barely touch it before standing up and returning to the starting position.

Wall Push Ups. Wall push-ups are a great way to strengthen your upper body. Stand about two feet behind a wall and place your hands on the wall about shoulder height. Begin to bend your elbows out to the sides as you bring your face and chest close to the wall. Your heels will most likely come off the floor – that's ok! Press your hands into the wall to straighten your elbows and return to the starting position.

Toe Stands. Grab one of the chairs you used for the squatting exercise and stand directly behind it using the chair for balance. Slowly raise up onto your tiptoes then slowly lower your heels back to the floor.

Knee Extensions. Using the same chair, have a seat keeping your back straight and knees bent. One leg at a time, slowly extend your leg out in front of you. Hold this position for a few seconds and then lower back to the starting position. Repeat with opposite leg.

Chest Expansions. While still sitting in your chair. Bring your arms straight out in front of you (shoulder height) and place your palms together. As you inhale, open your arms wide extending your fingertips in opposite directions. As you exhale, bring your arms back to the starting position. Continue moving in these motions along with your breath.

Relax. At the end of your routine, you may choose to stay sitting in your chair for a little relaxation time. You're encouraged to maintain proper posture and place your hands in your lap. If you'd like, close your eyes and take a few deep breaths. Imagine your favorite person, place, or thing; think about anything that brings you joy and gratitude. With a smile on your face, slowly blink your eyes open, take one last deep breath, and celebrate the positive work you just completed for your body and mind!

Daffodils Covered in Snow in May

By Norma Moore #54

It is definitely not usual! But the cool/cold weather keeps the daffodils fresh and they last for weeks when the weather is like this. Because deer are a fact of life in the country I plant daffodils everywhere, not tulips, as they won't eat the daffodils. So, I have quite literally hundreds of daffodils blooming - some in the beds, some in the woods where they are naturalized, but all beautiful. Some are double white or double yellow, or all white or white with a yellow trumpet or yellow with an orange trumpet. Some trumpets are frilly, some short, some long. There are just so many varieties, it is always fun to plant a new bag in the fall to add to the collection. In case you didn't notice, I love gardening!

Editor's Note: I absolutely love this picture! Since I no longer live where there is snow, it reminds me that nature is beautiful no matter what season.

AN EMERGENCY IS STILL AN EMERGENCY. EVEN DURING THIS EMERGENCY.

Don't hesitate when it comes to getting emergency treatment.

Even during a pandemic, you still need to be treated immediately if you have an emergency. Debating whether or not to risk going to an emergency room during a heart attack, stroke or other health emergency—waiting even a few extra minutes—could be harmful. That's why in all BayCare hospital emergency rooms, patients who have symptoms of COVID-19 are screened and treated in a separate area. This helps keep emergency room patients and our team members safe. So if it's an emergency, don't wait. For more information: BayCareEmergencyCare.org

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."
