"Thank you for doing a very professional job on my roof. I am not easily pleased with most contractors, ASC is the exception! Your crew was on time, sometimes even early. There are no leaks and it looks great. ASC was not the cheapest, which proves you get what you pay for."

Can beet juice keep your brain young?

Beet juice may keep your brain young and fit, according to an article on the Runner's World website. The article cites a study reported in the Journal of Gerontology: Medical Sciences that found that a shot of beet juice an hour before exercise can have positive benefits to brains as they get older.

In the study, 26 sedentary men with an average age of 65 participated in six weeks of exercise. Some took daily shots of beet juice; others received a placebo. The participants walked on a treadmill three times a week for six weeks, building up to 50 minutes per session at increased effort. Comparing MRIs from before and after the trial, researchers found that the group that drank beet juice had significantly higher levels of “community consistency” within their brains.

The nitrate in beet juice, which converts to nitrite and then nitric oxide in the blood, has a strong positive affect on responsiveness in blood vessels, which in turn can increase the amount of oxygen reaching the brain and boost aspects of cognitive function.

Make sure drinking glasses are safe

Take a look in your kitchen cabinet at your drinking glasses. Do you have decorative glasses for water, wine, beer, or whatever you drink during the day? They may be hazardous to your health.

The Medline Plus website reports that researchers at the University of Plymouth in the United Kingdom analyzed more than 70 new and used drinking glasses and found that seven out of 10 tested positive for lead or cadmium—both toxic metals.

Lead was found in all colors and goldleaf designs. Cadmium was found in the highest concentrations in red enamel.

Lead in children's bodies can cause growth and developmental difficulties. Cadmium can cause cancer. Studies have also linked it to bone softening and kidney problems.

Keep deadly chemicals out of your body

The list of chemicals that can cause cancer is intimidating, and keeping them out of your food can seem like an impossible task. The Fox News website, though, offers these tips for keeping your food and water free of toxic chemicals:

- Buy a water filter. A good filter can remove many cancer-causing chemicals.
- Eat organic foods. You'll cut your exposure to pesticides and other chemicals and support an industry that doesn't pollute the environment.
- Bring your own mug. Foam cups from most coffee shops contain styrene, which gets pulled out when in contact with hot liquids. Take your own travel mug when you go out for coffee, tea, or other hot beverages.

Did you know that February is also...

Black History Month. This monthlong celebration of the accomplishments of African Americans throughout history began in the early 20th century as a result of the efforts of Dr. Carter G. Woodson and the organization he founded, The Association for the Study of African American Life and History.

National Children's Dental Health Month. Highlighting the practices and benefits of good oral hygiene and their effect on health and well-being. The theme of the American Dental Association's 2018 campaign is, "Brush your teeth with fluoride and clean between your teeth for a healthy smile."

Creative Romance Month. Not big on candy and flowers? Plan the perfect rendezvous with your valentine. Consider an overnight stay at a bed and breakfast, a day hike at a scenic location, or a romantic movie marathon. Let love inspire your imagination to express what's in your heart.

Great American Pie Month. What better way to spread love and happiness than with a freshly baked pie? It doesn't matter if it's sweet or savory. If February has you snowed in, you've got plenty of time to perfect your crust-making and lattice-weaving skills.

Burn Awareness Week, Feb. 4-10. The American Burn Association devotes the first full week of the month to raising awareness and education about safety issues in an effort to prevent burns.

International Networking Week, Feb. 5-9. The first business week of February is a time for members of businesses, communities, and governments to meet, exchange ideas, and forge partnerships.

National "Wear Red" Day for Women's Heart Health, Feb. 5. Heart disease is the No. 1 killer of women in United States. Raise awareness of heart health issues and disease prevention by wearing something red on this day.

World Radio Day Feb. 13. Before social media, podcasts, or cable television, families gathered around the radio to listen to news of the world, popular music, and radio plays. This day marks the anniversary of the United Nations international broadcasting service established in 1946.

National Tell a Fairy Tale Day, Feb. 26. Some have morals that help guide our actions and others are filled with magic where goodness triumphs. Reread a classic, share your favorite with a group, or discover a new one on this day.

Obesity around the world is a growing problem

Obesity is a worldwide epidemic, and it's only likely to get worse. A report by Renew Bariatrics suggests that approximately 775 million people around the world are obese. That's 10.3 percent of the global population. An estimated 125 million are children and adolescents.

The top 10 most obese nations are:

- United States 73,872,022 33.7 percent
- China 65,706,627 6.9 percent
- India 44,332,755 4.9 percent
- Brazil 28,279,032 20 percent
- Brazil 28,279,032 20 percent
- Mexico 24,520,821 28.1 percent
- Russia 23,444,354 24.1 percent
- Egypt 19,047,097 28.9 percent
- Turkey 16,092,644 29.5 percent
- Iran 14,311,564 26.1 percent
- Nigeria 14,185,907 11 percent

The report notes that obesity has skyrocketed among countries large and small in the past 30 years.

Bad luck for the dinosaurs

Every schoolchild is taught that the dinosaurs were wiped out by a massive meteor impact millions of years ago. According to an article on the Live Science website, though, scientists now believe the mighty reptiles might have survived if the meteor had landed somewhere else.

The meteor, which crashed some 66 million years ago in a region of Mexico near the present-day town of Chicxulub, ignited huge amounts of hydrocarbon molecules like oil, spewing huge amounts of soot and ash into Earth's atmosphere. The resulting clouds would have cut off the amount of sunlight reaching the surface, creating an "impact winter" that killed off most plants, vegetation, and other sources of food, leading to the dinosaurs' extinction.

Japanese researchers analyzed all the spots on our planet where a meteor strike could have caused that devastation. Unlucky dinos—they might have survived if the meteor had hit the Earth's surface almost anywhere else, where hydrocarbon molecules aren't as thick and plentiful. One scientist puts the odds of that particular impact at about 13 percent. "If the asteroid had hit a low- to medium-level hydrocarbon area on Earth, occupying approximately 87 percent of the Earth's surface, mass extinction could not have occurred," one of the scientists says.

VINYL IS FINAL

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

Red sky in Asia mystery solved

It's a centuries-old mystery: In the year 1770, skies over Asia turned a bright red for nine days. The cause of this unusual phenomenon has never been identified. Now, though, scientists believe they have an answer.

As reported on the Slate website, researchers recently uncovered a collection of 111 contemporaneous documents from that time, and learned that the red sky had lasted longer than previously thought (just two days) and was much larger as well.

Scientists' conclusion: The effect was created by an aurora caused by solar activity, sparking the longest geomagnetic storm in recorded history.

A similar aurora was observed on two nights in 1859 by a massive solar storm known as the "Carrington Flare." Analysis of records of sunspot activity in 1770 suggests that the Asian aurora was caused by sunspot twice as large as those that created the Carrington event.

If such an event happened today, it would likely have catastrophic effects, knocking out satellites crucial to communications and GPS instruments.

New mineral found on Martian surface

NASA has discovered evidence of an ironoxide mineral on the surface of Mars, the SciNews website reports. The mineral, called hematite, was detected by spectral analysis of photos taken by the space agency's Curiosity rover in an area known as the Vera Rubin Ridge.

Curiosity zeroed in on a rock dubbed "Christmas Cove," and used its dust removal tool, a wire-bristled brush, to uncover an area some 2.5 inches across.

Observations made the rover's Mast Camera (Mastcam) and its Chemistry and Camera (ChemCam) confirmed the presence of the hematite, a mineral that may provide information about ancient environmental conditions on the red planet.
