TRIVIA QUIZ

The Island of Malta is in what body of water _____

Madison is a city in the Badger state of _____

The capital of S. Carolina is _____

If someone is officious that person is _____

The Detroit Tigers play in _____ Park 160

(Answers on page 8)

Presidents IQ

The U.S. Presidents with the highest IQs, qualifying them for the MENSA Society (scoring over 130 to qualify):

James Madison & Thomas Jefferson 160

Chester Arthur & John Garfield 152

Franklin Roosevelt & Abraham Lincoln 150

Many causes, experiences and confidence levels play into such statistics. More recent people who held/hold this office do not have this statistic readily available. High IQ does not necessarily mean “genius.” An example of how this stat can be skewed is Albert Einstein: he probably would not do well, even though he is considered a genius. He usually thought “outside the box” and could probably come up with a dozen answers to one question.

DISCOUNTS

A message from the Fire Chief of Seminole:

Recently a resident died in an apartment fire in Seminole Garden Apartments and, as with every fatal fire, I asked the question, “what could have been done to prevent this death?” 100% of the time fatal fires deemed “unintentional” or “accidental” are preventable. Prevention is accomplished by actively living a safe life: by having working smoke alarms; by practicing safe cooking; by using extension cords in a safe manner; by cleaning dryer vents regularly; by storing flammable liquids carefully and by ensuring those around you do the same. We know this, but why do some of us not live safe lives?

Part of the answer is in the phenomenon known as “optimism bias.” This is a cognitive bias that causes someone to believe that they themselves are less likely to experience a negative event, especially if the event is unlikely to occur, as in a house fire which has a relatively low probability of happening. It is the “it’s not going to happen to me” thinking. We all have it, as optimism bias transcends gender, ethnicity, nationality and age.

Preventions that work must motivate safe living practices in spite of human tendency for optimism bias. We have to motivate ourselves to check smoke detectors periodically, even if we believe they will never be needed. Migrating to a “it can happen to me” and “I better be ready for it” thinking can ultimately save our life. In the next issue I will address “Prevention that Overcomes Optimism Bias.” Chief Heather Burford

diane.piscopo6@gmail.com or 716-479-9133

I am looking forward to offering our community members the opportunity to submit a news item or an idea our readers might enjoy hearing about. Life is too short to wait for someone else to always capture a moment or learn something new and not share it. Harbor Lights is composed of lively, energetic individuals who are widely traveled, have expertise in varied areas and can share positive experiences or ideas. I welcome your suggestions on what you might like to learn about or share something noteworthy with your neighbors. Deadline for submissions is the 10th of each month for the following month’s publication. Activity chairs are encouraged to submit their upcoming events with time, date, details, etc. Remember, the info will appear in the “next month’s” edition.

Just a friendly reminder: Hurricane season is not over. Be sure you have all important papers, a personal supply of water, some foods, clothing, gas in the car tank and cash on hand in the event we receive a warning of a hurricane. Plan where you are going, notify family of your destination and heed the notice of evacuation.....we are in mobile homes, therefore, we are all ZONE A, mandating evacuation. A watch is given 72 hours ahead, a warning is given 48 hours ahead, so there is ample time to leave and go inland or to a friend/family member who has a safe structure. Refer to the newspaper found in the laundry and tv alerts as they are given.

Phone Numbers and Addresses

Hello everyone and welcome to a little bit of Paradise.

My name is Dennis, and I along with a lot of help from my wife Mary, try to keep up a current directory for the residents here at Harbor Lights. Your help can make it a lot easier for us to produce a directory that is as accurate as possible at the time of printing. If you are new to the park or have had a change of address or phone number please, simply fill out the form on this page. You can then drop the form off at our home at 9126 48 Terrace N. or give the form to Mary or myself at one of the social meetings.

By now the 2019/2020 directory has been printed. If you haven't received one, we will have them at the social meetings, or you can drop by and pick one up at our home. If any of your information in it is incorrect and you would like it corrected for the 2020/2021 issue, please use this form as well and we will update our file for the 2020/2021 edition.

A cup of tea

A group of students visited their old university professor. Conversation soon turned into complaints about the stress of work and life. Offering them tea, the professor produced an assortment of cups and mugs—porcelain, glass, crystal, some plain looking, some expensive, some exquisite—telling them to help themselves to hot tea.

When all had a cup in hand, the professor said: “I see you have all chosen the nice-looking expensive cups, leaving behind the plain ones. While it’s normal for you to want only the best, that’s also the source of your stress. What you really wanted was tea, not the cup, but you still went for the best cups, and you’re eyeing each other’s cup! If life is the tea, then jobs, money and status in society are the cups. They are just tools to hold and contain life. Don’t let the cups drive you. Enjoy the tea.”

Why fight over shadows?

A wealthy man hired a peasant and his camel for a long trip across the desert. The rich man rode the camel as the peasant led it across the sand.

In the hot noonday sun, they stopped for a rest. Because there was no shade but the camel, they began arguing about who had more of a right to sit in its shadow: the peasant who owned it, or the rich man who had rented it to ride.

Their voices grew louder and louder as the argument went on. Finally the camel got frightened and ran away—leaving them stranded in the middle of the desert.

Moral: Don’t let yourself get so determined to be right that you lose what you’re fighting for.

Some of these things are true and some of them lies. But they are all good stories.

— Hilary Mantel

Buried treasure

In a small village lived a hardworking farmer who owned a vast vineyard. Year after year the vineyard provided a rich harvest, and the farmer became very successful. He had three sons who were young and energetic but never bothered to work hard. As the farmer grew old, he began to worry about his sons' future.

Then he fell very ill and realized his death was fast approaching. He called the sons and told them: “Dear sons, I see my death nearing me, but before I bid goodbye to all of you, I want to share a secret. There is a treasure hidden under the fields. Dig the entire field after my death to find it.”

The old farmer died. After the funeral, the sons began to dig for the treasure without leaving any part of the field untouched, but they found nothing. However, their digging of the field led to a healthy crop and resulted in huge earnings. This made the sons realize what their father meant.

Moral: Hard work always pays off. Fruits of hard work are always sweet whether or not they are in the form you expect.

Toss of a coin

A great warrior was going to war with a fierce enemy with only one-tenth the number of soldiers the opposition commanded. He knew that he could win the fight with a well-planned strategy, but his soldiers were in doubt.

On the way to the battle the leader stopped at a temple and told his men: “After my visit here I will toss a coin. If the head comes up, we will win; if tails, we will lose. Destiny holds us in her hand.”

The warrior entered the temple and offered his prayers. Then he came forth and tossed a coin in front of his men. Heads appeared. The soldiers were filled with confidence and eager to fight the battle, which they won.

“No one can change the hand of destiny,” one of the soldiers told the leader after winning the battle.

“Indeed not,” said the leader, and showed the coin—which had heads on both sides.

September Daily

National Wildlife Day, Sept. 4. Also celebrated on Feb. 2, National Wildlife Day serves to bring awareness of endangered animals nationally as well as globally.

Labor Day, Sept. 7. A day off and a day to pay tribute to working men and women.

National POW/MIA Recognition Day, Sept. 18. This honors those who were prisoners of war (POWs) and those who are still missing in action (MIA). It is most associated with those who were POWs during the Vietnam War.

Rosh Hashanah, Sept. 18–20. The Jewish New Year and the traditional anniversary of the creation of Adam and Eve, the first man and woman according to the Hebrew Bible, and the inauguration of humanity’s role in God’s world.

World Alzheimer’s Day, Sept. 21. An international campaign to raise awareness and challenge the stigma that surrounds dementia.

The history of Labor Day

Labor Day is a creation of the labor movement, a yearly celebration of the American worker, and a national tribute to the laborer’s contribution to the social and economic achievements of the United States. There is some uncertainty about the origins of Labor Day. Some records show that Peter J. McGuire, general secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and a co-founder of the American Federation of Labor, was first to suggest a day to honor those “who from rude nature have delved and carved all the grandeur we behold.” Other research suggests that machinist Matthew Maguire, later the secretary of Local 344 of the International Association of Machinists in Paterson, N.J., proposed the holiday in 1882 while serving as secretary of the Central Labor Union in New York.

The first Labor Day holiday was celebrated on Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1882, in New York City, in accordance with the plans of the Central Labor Union. In 1884, the first Monday in September was selected as the official holiday. The first governmental recognition of Labor Day came through municipal ordinances passed in 1885 and 1886. The state of Oregon passed the first law recognizing the Labor Day holiday on Feb. 21, 1887. Four more states—Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York—followed suit that same year. On June 28, 1894, Congress passed an act making the first Monday in September of each year a legal holiday in all the states, the District of Columbia, and all U.S. territories.

September Monthly

Baby Safety Month. Parents and caregivers have many responsibilities, but keeping their baby safe and healthy is a No. 1 priority. Whether you are expecting your first baby, adding to your growing family, or are a grandparent, this is an ideal time to put into action some simple steps to keep baby safe.

National Cholesterol Awareness Month. September is a good month to get your blood cholesterol checked and take steps to lower it if it's high. It's also a good time to learn about lipid profiles and about food and lifestyle choices that help you reach personal cholesterol goals.

Prostate Cancer Awareness Month. Prostate cancer is the second-most common cancer in U.S. men. Learn about prostate cancer to start stepping up against it. The “Step Up for Blue” campaign empowers men to take control of their health and encourages their loved ones to support them.

National Self-Improvement Month. Is there something in your life that you want to improve? September is National Self-Improvement Month. Usually there is a list of things people want to change about their lives. Many items on that list are often things over which we have no control. Stop dwelling on them and focus on what you can change—you.

Weekly

Suicide Prevention Week, Sept. 6–12. National Suicide Prevention Week is the week surrounding World Suicide Prevention Day, Sept. 10. It's a time to share resources and stories, as well as promote suicide prevention awareness. The week focuses on informing and engaging health professionals and the general public about suicide prevention and warning signs of suicide.

National Waffle Week, Sept. 6–12. The word “waffle” comes from the Dutch “wafel,” which comes from Middle Dutch “wafele” and stretches as far back as the 13th century. Before that, the French called it “walfre” from the Frankish “wafra,” which meant “honeycomb” or “cake.” No matter what you call it, no one can deny its deliciousness.

Deaf Dog Awareness Week, Sept. 20–26. Deaf dogs, like other special needs pets, make wonderful furry family members. Their deafness in no way reduces their potential to bring joy to your life and become a loving companion for your family.

Banned Books Week, Sept. 27–Oct.3. An annual event celebrating the freedom to read, Banned Books Week spotlights current and historical attempts to censor books in libraries and schools.
