From The President

Kathy Bornick

We have visitors in the park that are not registered in the office. People entering homes that are not occupied or registered may get a visit from the Sheriff. If you SEE something SAY something. The Neighborhood Watch Program is to protect all of us. If someone is checking on you home while you are away. Please let us know. Thank you.

From The Office

Kay Tyrrell

Well “D” Day June 6th, 1944 is normally remembered as the date of the “D” Day Landings in Normandy, France, where many of those brave young Americans stormed the Omaha beach only to be killed by German gun fire.

This year on “D” Day, Monday, June 6th, Pinellas county was hit by Storm Colin and will be remembered by other “D’s”. – Deluge, Drenching and Downpour. Many areas experienced flooding but here at Holiday Shores, although we had heavy rain and Gazebo Drive had a power outage for a while, but we thankfully had no Damage.

Also a reminder to all residents who either send their maintenance fees to our lock box address at BB&T or to the office (especially through a “bill pay” with your bank), the check must be sent early enough to arrive at either the bank or the office by the 10th of the month – otherwise it is considered “late” and is subject to a $25.00 late fee charge. For the month of June, there were five checks dated prior to 10th but did not arrive until the 14th. A $25.00 late fee will be assessed to residents in the future if they are not there in time.

Holiday Shores Activities Association

Marie Rapoza/Lucy Zunica

With the summer upon us, the Activities Association is limiting its activities. However, there will still be some activities for the full-time residents.

On Sunday, June 12th there was an ice cream social and social hour. Everyone who attended enjoyed a dish or maybe two of delicious ice cream with toppings. Fletcher's Music Center provided relaxing and enjoyable musical selections. A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

On Wednesday, June 22 a few residents ventured out for the monthly luncheon to Seabreeze. The food and service was excellent. Again, Lucy chose another good restaurant.

The Activities Association officers would like to comment about the excellent presentation of the Memorial Day Program by the participants. The program's participants were so well-prepared and presented the program with excellence and pride. Our thanks to Mark Stevens, Peggy Beane, Nancy Pion, Kathy Bornick and Karyn Monroe. Also a special thanks to our veterans for completing the program with a group picture.

Thanks to Monty Slaybaugh and Dave Sperry for taking care of the recyclable cans. We (the residents) appreciate your help and kindness.

Don't forget to check the lobby, A-Frames, and bulletin board for upcoming activities for all pertinent information.

HOLIDAY SHORES TRAVEL IS FUN

Here are a few trips to consider:

July 6th – St John's River Ship with Lunch - $99.00

PLEASE call me if you know of someone who is ill, in the Hospital, having surgery, or has passed away, etc. Very often, people think someone else has called me, therefore I am not informed. So please give me a call at 399-0147!! Thanks for your help.

Fran Foudray is in Largo Medical.

We would like to express our sympathies to friends and family of Ray Pritzl who passed away in June.

High IQ = fewer friends?

How do friendships influence happiness? A study published in the British Journal of Psychology looked at data from a long-term survey of 15,000 people ages 18–28 to find out. The study found that happiness tends to increase with the number of social interactions people have.

Not too surprising so far, but researchers noticed an interesting fact: People with high IQs seem to be less happy the more they spend time with friends. The researchers theorize that people with higher IQs are more likely to find satisfaction in long-term endeavors than socializing with friends.

Vacation trends: Money and more

If you're making vacation plans for the rest of the year, you might be interested in some of these trends reported by the TripAdvisor website:

Seventy-eight percent of U.S. travelers plan to spend the same amount of money or more when they vacation this year, for an average of $8,400—the third-largest budget of travelers in any country worldwide. Baby Boomers will likely spend an average of $10,600 for the entire year, but millennials will be more budget-conscious, shelling out an average of $5,300.

The most important factors in choosing accommodations: price (94 percent cited that as the leading factor), followed by ratings (90 percent), close availability to attractions (89 percent), and dining options (79 percent). Other amenities are crucial as well: Seventy percent of those surveyed said they wouldn't stay at a hotel without air conditioning, and 42 percent won't sign in anyplace that doesn't have Wi-fi.

Happy 4th of July!

Advice from the A-List

Celebrities aren't necessarily smarter than the rest of us, but their success speaks for itself. Here's what they have to say about achieving success in any endeavor:

- Leonardo DiCaprio, actor: "I've been very lucky to have achieved a lot of the things that I dreamt of achieving as a young man. But at the end of the day—and I truly believe this—it is not about achieving great wealth or success, because they don't bring happiness ultimately. They really don't. What matters is whether or not you've fulfilled the idea of having led an interesting life, whether you've contributed in some way to the world around you."
- Beyoncé, singer: "The reality is, sometimes you lose. And you're never too good to lose, you're never too big to lose, you're never too smart to lose; it happens. And it happens when it needs to happen. And you have to embrace those things."
- Justin Timberlake, singer: "I like being a beginner. I like the moment where I can look at everyone and say, 'I have no idea how to do this. Let's figure it out.'"
- Chris Pine, actor: "Fear runs our lives. It doesn't matter who you are. You have to understand your relationship with fear. Whether you're scared of getting into a relationship or taking the new job or a confrontation—you have to size fear up."
- Ellen DeGeneres, talk show host: "Never follow anyone else's path, unless you're in the woods and lost and you see a path. Then, by all means, follow that path."

Succeed with kindness—and these kindly tips

Nice people can finish first. The key is knowing how to use kindness to your advantage. Practice these habits until they become second nature:

- First, be kind to yourself. You'll find being nice to others easier if you build your self-respect with positive thoughts about your personality and achievements.
- Treat everyone with respect. Don't worry about who's on top. Treat everyone the way you want to be treated, regardless of their position or job title.
- Say no when necessary. You can't do everything. But when you do say no, be polite and positive.
- Plant seeds of kindness. Do something nice every day even when your kindness may not have an immediate payoff.
- Complete this statement: "If I were a better person I would ____." Then act on it.

Did You Know That July is Also...

Independent Retailer Month. Support and celebrate independent retailers across the country. Independent Retailer Month encourages consumers to shop at independent retailers in their communities, highlighting their positive social and economic impact local, nationally, and globally.

National Black Family Month. During this month, African-American families celebrate their connection, common heritage, and commitment to one another. Families around the nation seek to implement positive changes, connect through old traditions, create new ones, and participate in activities that can be continued throughout the year.

Parks and Recreation Month. Sponsored by the National Recreation and Park Association, the leading nonprofit organization dedicated to the advancement of public parks, recreation and conservation. Discover wildlife and outdoor fun at your local park.

Captive Nations Week, July 7-13. A week aimed at raising public awareness of the oppression of nations under the control of Communist and other nondemocratic governments. Begun in 1953, it was signed into law by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1959.

Sports Cliché Week, July 10-16. It's time to celebrate—or possibly get rid of—such common sports clichés as “We’re taking it one game at a time,” “He gave 110 percent,” “Step it up,” and more.

National Zoo Keeper Week, July 17-23. Sponsored by the American Association of Zoo Keepers to advance excellence in the animal keeping profession, foster effective communication beneficial to animal care, support deserving conservation projects, and promote the preservation of our natural resources and animal life.

World UFO Day, July 2. Look to the skies for evidence of alien visitors.

Independence Day, July 4. Celebrate the birthday of the United States of America.

Global Forgiveness Day, July 7. Begun in 1994 to help people around the world identify with their personal need to forgive and be forgiven.

Space Exploration Day, July 20. Neil Armstrong and Edwin “Buzz” Aldrin first walked on the moon on this day in 1969.

World Ranger Day, July 31. Sponsored by the International Ranger Federation to celebrate the work rangers do to protect wildlife.

A good sleep starts with good nutrition

If you have trouble getting a good night's sleep, try looking at your diet. A study by the Institute of Human Nutrition at Columbia University Medical Center in New York suggests that cutting back on sugar and fat, along with increasing the amount of fiber in your meals, may help people sleep better.

Researchers kept track of 26 men and women, and found that subjects fell asleep faster and slept more soundly on days when they ate a high-fiber diet. When their meals were high in saturated fat and sugar, they took longer to nod off and tended to wake more often at night.

The scientists note that more research is needed to establish a definite link between nutrition and good sleep. Still, eating better can't hurt.

Healthy lifestyles are rare in the U.S., study finds

A healthy lifestyle has four basic characteristics, according to physicians: moderate exercise, a healthy diet, not smoking, and maintaining the recommended body fat average. But only 2.7 percent of Americans fit those standards, researchers at Oregon State University say.

Looking at data on more than 4,700 people, the researchers determined that 16 percent had three of the characteristics, 37 percent had two, 34 percent had one, and 11 percent had zero. Other findings: Seventy-one percent of adults didn't smoke, but only 38 percent ate a healthy diet, 10 percent had a healthy body fat percentage, and 46 percent were physically active.

Do you read me? Ants send and receive via antennae

Ants may not be able to speak, but they can communicate effectively through signals they receive—and send—through their antennae, researchers at the University of Melbourne have discovered.

Ants use chemicals called CHCs, for cuticular hydrocarbons, to identify whether other ants are friendly or hostile. When CHCs are removed from an ant's antennae, it can no longer tell whether other ants are from its nest. The CHCs apparently enable ants to share basic information about their affiliation, something scientists couldn't confirm until now.

Antennae have long been known as vital to ants' behavior. In an experiment conducted more than 125 years ago, a scientist removed the antennae from four different groups of ants and placed them together. Instead of breaking out into fights, the ants interacted peacefully with each other. The role of CHCs clarifies how such communication works, scientists today say.

'Hobbits' older than thought

Scientists discovered ancient human fossils on the Indonesian Island of Flores more than 10 years ago and nicknamed the new species “hobbits” because of their diminutive size, about 3.5 feet tall. They believed these small humans (official name: homo floresiensis) lived about 18,000 years ago, or perhaps even later.

But according to an article in The Christian Science Monitor, the remains may be much older. Some scientists are now arguing that erosion made the fossils appear modern than they really are. Using such techniques as radiocarbon dating and uranium-series dating, they’ve determined that the fossils may be 60,000 to 100,000 years old. Artifacts made of stone discovered in the same area appear to be between 50,000 and 190,000 years old, pushing the date of the hobbits’ existence—and extinction—back further than previously thought.

Master the elements of successful innovation

Innovation is crucial to an organization’s long-term success. To help it take root, remember that successful innovation has these basic components:

- Imagination. Everyone on your team should be able to think creatively, find fresh solutions, make new connections, and take different approaches to everyday problems.
- Risk. Every new idea carries an element of risk. Don’t be reckless, but be ready to tolerate some uncertainty when you try something new.
- Work. Ideas won’t implement themselves. You and your co-workers should be prepared to do the hard work of bringing innovation to life.
- Optimism. You won’t always succeed, but you should maintain a sense of excitement and passion about every new idea. Some of them will work, feeding your desire to move on to the next project.

Creativity and insight almost always involve an experience of acute pattern recognition: the eureka moment in which we perceive the interconnection between disparate concepts or ideas to reveal something new.
