From The President

Kathy Bornick

The Clubhouse repair is moving along. When you receive this newsletter delivered to your home, we should be close to the finish line. Lots of plans and work to keep Holiday Shores looking great.

Harvey has painted and spruced up the pool area. A new table and with an umbrella and new shower have been added to the pool area. We are getting quotes for new fencing at the pool. We have ordered new outside area tables and benches with more to come in the future.

Lots of work left for the summer months.

For those of you who are not here, have a great summer.

From The Office

Kay Tyrrell

The renovation of the Clubhouse is going right on schedule, United Decorating Services expect to be finished within the next two weeks. After that the floors will be cleaned professionally, and then the finishing touches will be added i.e. artwork, lighting etc.

We are also getting bids for putting a new fence around the pool area, this will be a great improvement to the pool area.

Our Mother's Day luncheon was held at Alfano's Italian Restaurant on May 11th. The food was delicious, the ladies beautiful, funny and happy. A good time was had by all.

Beautiful roses were donated by Walt Douglass and given to all the ladies present. Walt has donated roses for the last two years for our "Mother's Day" event luncheon. We all wish to thank Walt dearly for his donation and thoughtfulness. Thank you Walt!!!

We will dispense with monthly luncheon for the summer. Thank you one and all for your support and participation.

Stay safe and have a great summer.

PLEASE call me if you know of someone who is ill, in the Hospital, having surgery, or has passed away, etc. Very often, people think someone else has called me, therefore I am not informed. So please give me a call!! Thanks for your help.

Dick Lessard was in the VA Hospital with pneumonia and is now recovered.

We offer our sympathy to the families of Ginny Warner, Dawn Schohl and Shirley Siekerski (former resident), who passed away recently. We also extend our sympathy to Carl & Alida Lintner on the passing of their son.

Thank you

The family of the late Evelyn Rapoza would like to express their thanks to all Holiday Shores residents. Your support and expressions of sympathy was deeply appreciated.

Thank you for the sympathy cards, prayer and healing cards, donation to the St. Jude's Hospital for Children, the personal inquiries about Evelyn's progress at the hospital and her death.

The memories of her will always bring a smile to our faces. We hope your memories of her will do the same.

The Rapoza family will never forget the love and kindness shown to Evelyn.

Thank you all for your thoughts and prayers. May God Bless You All

TO THE HOLIDAY SHORES RESIDENTS

Thank you from Marie Rapoza

On March 6, Evelyn Rapoza celebrated her 90th birthday.

Her "belated" 90th birthday celebration was held on March 21.

She was thrilled and overwhelmed with all the attention and love shown to her. She truly loved everyone here in the Holiday Shores community.

Her smile and "sense of humor" will never be forgotten and her memories will linger on.

I (Marie) would like to thank everyone for celebrating her 90th birthday with her. Thank you for your presence at the party, the birthday cards, flowers, candy, cookies, "special" gifts, and scratch tickets. I will treasure these memories forever. It is truly wonderful to have "special" people in my life.

God Bless You All

Did you know June is also...

Adopt a Cat Month. Your local shelter has tons of cute, cuddly newborn kittens mellow older cats, and everything in between. Shelter staffers are ready to help you adopt your very first cat or bring home a friend for another beloved cat.

National Dairy Month. Start the summer with nutrient-rich dairy foods. From calcium to potassium, dairy products such as milk contain essential nutrients that can help you manage your weight and reduce your risk for high blood pressure, osteoporosis, and other health problems.

National Zoo and Aquarium Month. June is an excellent time to explore your local zoo and aquarium as well as the websites of America's great zoos and aquariums. Many of them have excellent educational resources—photographs, videos, facts, lesson plans, activities, and sounds so real you'll think you're there.

PTSD Awareness Month. The purpose of PTSD Awareness Month is to raise public awareness of PTSD and effective treatments and help all those affected by PTSD. Mental health experts aren't sure why some people develop PTSD and others don't, but if stress reactions don't improve over time and disrupt everyday life, seeking help to determine whether PTSD is present is important.

National Automotive Service Professionals Week, June 11-17. A weeklong celebration to honor the commitment and dedication of the automotive, truck, collision specialists and parts specialists who keep our vehicles running safely.

Men's Health Week, June 12-18. The purpose of Men's Health Week is to heighten the awareness of preventable health problems and encourage early detection and treatment of disease among men and boys. This week gives health care providers, public policy makers, members of the news media, and individuals an opportunity to encourage men and boys to seek regular medical advice and early treatment for disease and injury.

National Nursing Assistant Week, June 15-22. Nursing assistants work in hospitals and nursing homes performing everyday living tasks for the elderly, chronically ill, or rehabilitation patients who cannot care for themselves. This week is set aside to recognize the nursing assistants who dedicate their lives to the well-being of others.

Global Day of Parents, June 1. The Global Day of Parents was proclaimed by the UN General Assembly in 2012 to honor parents throughout the world in appreciation of their selfless commitment to children.

Flag Day, June 14. Fly Old Glory with pride!

Father's Day, June 18. A day to honor fathers everywhere.

Flying in the face of disaster

In the 1980s and early '90s, Continental Airlines was a disaster. The organization had gone bankrupt twice and was on its way to a third (and final) catastrophe. It had gone through 10 presidents in 10 years, and employees mistrusted management.

Then in 1994 Gordon Bethune stepped in. Instead of running around willy-nilly trying to stamp out the various raging fires, Bethune took a step back to return to the basics. He identified Continental's key goals so that employees' efforts would be concentrated on them rather than diffused by the disaster of the moment. One of his areas of focus was creating a corporate culture. Without the commitment of the employees, the other goals would be impossible.

Drawing on the organization's history of excellence in service, he rallied the workforce. Bethune discovered that the employees weren't bad—they just worked in a dysfunctional organization. So they were quick to get behind his new leadership.

Senior management was a different story. Bethune knew he had to make wholesale changes, and that meant getting rid of the bureaucracy. In a couple of months, Bethune and his top executives replaced 50 of the company's 61 officers with 20 top-notch people.

The changes were dramatic. In one year's time, Continental went from being ranked the worst in customer satisfaction among major airlines to first.

The birth of 'excellence'

Tom Peters didn't exactly give birth to excellence, but he did establish the idea that companies can achieve excellence under the inspiration of a management guru—like himself.

It all began in the spring of 1978. John Larson of McKinsey's San Francisco office was set to give a presentation to a client. But his computer crashed and took with it his notes. He turned to another consultant, Tom Peters, to throw together a presentation that would satisfy the client.

Peters had just returned from traveling the world to compile research on best practices in business. Up until then, his research had been collecting dust after he had presented it to the McKinsey powers that be. With an opportunity to present his findings again, Peters gathered his data. In search of a sexy title to give his presentation, Peters came up with "Excellence." It was a hit.

Eventually, Peters edited the material into a manuscript. Continuing with the idea of excellence, he titled the book The Secrets of Excellence. But the title didn't fly with the McKinsey folks, who feared that clients would think the company was selling the secrets of client operations. In 1982, Peters and co-author Robert Waterman renamed it the more politically astute In Search of Excellence. And thus was excellence born.

Stay safe when working in the heat

When heat and humidity combine to reduce the amount of evaporation of sweat from the body, outdoor work can become dangerous even for those in good shape. The key rules for coping with heat are to drink plenty of water to avoid dehydration and slow down and cool off when experiencing fatigue, a headache, a high pulse rate, or shallow breathing. Overheating can cause serious, even life-threatening conditions such as heatstroke. Look out for these symptoms of heat illness:

- Heat cramps. Working in hot weather can lead to muscle cramps, especially in the legs, because of brief imbalances in body salts. Cramps become less frequent as a person becomes used to the heat.
- Heat syncope or fainting. Anyone not used to working in the heat can experience a quick drop in blood pressure that can lead to fainting. As with heat cramps, the best approach is to take it easy.
- Heat exhaustion. Losing fluid and salt through perspiration or replacing them in an imbalanced way can lead to dizziness and weakness. Body temperature might rise, but shouldn't exceed 102 degrees. The best defense is to take it easy and drink plenty of water. Don't take salt tablets without consulting a physician.
- Heatstroke. In some cases extreme heat can upset the body's thermostat, causing body temperature to rise to 105 degrees or higher. Symptoms are lethargy, confusion, and unconsciousness. Even a suspicion that someone might be suffering from heatstroke requires immediate medical aid. Heatstroke can kill.

Stay awake on the road

Fatigue can be a killer, especially when you're driving on the open highway for long periods of time. Here are a few tips for staying safe at the wheel:

- Get enough rest. Try not to start a trip late in the day. Long-distance driving is tough enough in the daytime. Be ready and awake.

- If possible, don't drive alone. Passengers can take turns driving, or at least help you stay awake if you need stimulation.
- Adjust your car's environment. Use your controls to keep you awake and alert. Keep the temperature cool, with open windows or air conditioning in the summer and frugal amounts of heat in the winter.

It's liquid! No, it's gas! No, it's . . . a supersolid!

As most of us learned in science class at a young age, matter exists in three states: liquid, solid, and gas. But scientists have discovered a dual state that can exist at a quantum level—a “supersolid” state.

As reported on the Sci-News website, two independent teams of researchers have succeeded in arranging a clump of atoms in a crystalline pattern in which particles move without friction like a fluid. One group used laser cooling combined with evaporative cooling methods to lower the temperature of sodium atoms close to absolute zero.

The other team used an alternative method involving mirrors and lasers to cool a minuscule amount of rubidium gas to just above absolute zero, resulting in a similar crystal-like structure with superfluid properties.

Now that scientists have proven that supersolids can exist, they plan further research—possibly with unexpected results.

Mix these ingredients for cultural creativity

Do you want to nurture a culture of creativity in your organization? Try to build in these essential ingredients:

- Curiosity. Ask people questions that challenge the conventional wisdom. Encourage them to stretch boundaries and take chances on new opportunities.
- Emotion. People who love what they do are better at generating new ideas about their work. Hire and support people who show a real enthusiasm for your organization and its mission.
- Tolerance. People won't suggest ideas if they're afraid of being punished for failure. Encourage risk taking by showing forgiveness when things don't work out, as long as people are giving their best efforts.
- Direction. A clear sense of what you want to achieve will help people focus their ideas. Have a concrete mission statement that tells everyone what you're trying to do, why it's important, and how it will benefit everyone.

Science is the process that takes us from confusion to understanding.

—Brian Green

What millennials want when dining out

Millennials are driving more and more of the economy, especially with their food and dining choices. Y-Pulse, a youth marketing and millennial research firm, looked at some of the restaurant trends being pushed by people 18-34 years old, and here's some of what it found:

According to the survey, 71 percent of millennials love to attend food-focused events, and 81 percent enjoy exploring new cultures through food. Memorable dining experiences are also important, with 48 percent saying they seek out new restaurants with famous chefs and 69 percent enjoying eating establishments with chefs' tasting menus.

On the other hand, 61 percent say they wish they could find more restaurant offerings that remind them of their grandmothers' cooking, and 69 percent are looking for food that reminds them of their childhood.
