A delightful angelic little boy was waiting for his mother outside the ladies room of the gas station.

As he stood there, he was approached by a man who asked, "Sonny, can you tell me where the Post Office is?"

The little boy replied, "Sure! Just go straight down this street two blocks and turn to your right. It's on the left"

The man thanked the boy kindly, complimented him on how bright he was and said, "I'm the new pastor in town. If you and your mommy come to church on Sunday, I'll show you how to get to Heaven."

The little boy replied with a chuckle; "You're kidding me, right? You can't even find the Post Office."

Condolences

---

Iam sorry to have to report of the passing of three of our friends and neighbors. Mary Fullerton, Lot #6, Susie Walters, Lot #75, and John Enneking, Lot # 15. Sending condolences out to their families. We will miss them.

Sunday, July 16th was a memorial for Susie Walters. More on that next time.

Carolyn Carr shares this wisdom about Friends

Many years ago, a young man was sitting on a couch on a hot, humid day, sipping frozen juice during a visit with his father.

As he talked about adult life, marriage, responsibilities, and obligations, the father thoughtfully cast a clear, sober look on his son.

"Never forget your friends," he advised, "they will become more important as you get older."

"Regardless of how much you love your family and the children you happen to have, you will always need friends. Remember to go out with them occasionally, do activities with them, call them ..."

"What strange advice," thought the young man. "I just entered the married world, I am an adult, and surely my wife and the family that we will start will be everything I need to make sense of my life."

Yet he heeded his father; kept in touch with his friends and annually increased their number.

Over the years, he became aware that his father knew what he was talking about.

Inasmuch as time and nature carry out their designs and mysteries on a man, friends are the bulwarks of one's life.

After 70 years of life, here is what has been learned.

Time passes. Life goes on. The distance separates. Children grow up. Children cease to be children and become independent. And to the parents it breaks their heart, but children are separated from the parents.

Jobs come and go. Illusions, desires, attraction, sex ... weaken. People do not do what they should do.

The heart breaks. Parents die. Colleagues forget the favors. The races are over.

But, true friends are always there, no matter how long or how many miles they are.

A friend is never more distant than the reach of a need, intervening in your favor, waiting for you with open arms, or blessing your life.

When we started this adventure called LIFE, we did not know of the joys or sorrows that were ahead.

We did not know how much we would need from each other. Love your parents, take care of your children, but keep a group of good friends. Dialogue with them but do not impose your criteria.

NEIGHBORHOOD "WATCH TALK"

Greetings from your Neighborhood Watch Rep. I hope you're having a wonderful summer and staying safe.

Do you have a phone where you are able to see the telephone number that is calling you? Do you recognize the telephone number as one that you know?

Does your phone show you where the telephone call is coming from? Do you know anyone from that State or Country? If the answer is no or maybe, then DO NOT ANSWER YOUR PHONE!!!

More likely it's a scam and by answering your phone you are letting the dialer know that the telephone number is a good number. When in doubt, let it go to voice mail. If it's someone you know, you can call them back. More likely there will be no message left and you will know that it was someone phishing for a victim.

SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS:

1. Whenever you leave your vehicle to step into a store for a moment, run by a friend's house to just pick something up, or parking your vehicle in your driveway or any other place, LOCK YOUR VEHICLE!!!

Most vehicle thefts are crimes of opportunity from people not locking their vehicles. Save yourself a whole lot of aggravation by "Locking before walking!"

2. Neighborhood Watch... "the eyes and ears of law enforcement" by the Reporting of Suspicious Activity. Members participate in crime prevention by knowing what to report and how to report it. Don't worry about "bothering" the Sheriff's Office, or being embarrassed if your suspicions prove unfounded.

What is suspicious activity?

Suspicious activity is any event that seems out of the ordinary, or may be the precursor to criminal activity. The resident knows better than anyone else what is normal for your neighborhood.

What are some common examples of suspicious activity?

A stranger loitering in your neighborhood; strangers knocking on doors or soliciting; a vehicle cruising the streets repeatedly; someone peering into cars or windows; strange odors coming from a building; open or broken doors or windows at an unoccupied residence; etc.

How to report suspicious Activity? Pinellas Sheriff's Office (non-emergency call) 727-582-6200

The resident should be prepared to answer a series of questions so the dispatcher can determine the nature and priority of the call. The resident should be prepared for questions similar to the following:

- Location of the activity? - An exact address or cross street ensures the deputy's response is timely.
- Description of the individual(s)? - Suspicious persons could include race, sex, age, height, weight, hair, clothing, complexion, speech, distinguishing features, etc.
- Description of the vehicle(s)? - The license plate (tag), color, make, vintage, distinguishing features, etc.
- What is suspicious about the person(s) or vehicle(s)? - Many residents feel uncomfortable or are unable to articulate the purpose of their call. Explain the facts accurately of what was observed. Let the dispatcher decide the nature of the call.
- Do you want to be contacted by the deputy responding to the area? – Residents are not obligated to leave their name. However, the Sheriff's Office would prefer to be able to contact the resident observer if further information may be helpful. Residents may request that the deputy contact them in person or by phone following resolution of the concern.

Residents are reminded to avoid any form of confrontation relating to suspicious activities. Your job is to observe and report only.

Honeymoon Park Matters, You Matter, Getting Involved Matters

A footnote to the caution about leaving the keys in your car just for an instant.... Just two weeks ago, at our Concord Mall, a woman ran into Carsons to pick up something, leaving the car running because her 10-month-old baby was asleep in the back seat with her 15-year-old daughter keeping watch.

A strange woman got in the car, ordering the older girl to get out. The girl refused to leave her baby sister and phoned her mom so she could hear what was going on. The girl talked the car-jacker into letting them out at a nearby McDonalds, where they were found safe and sound by the police. The car was recovered a few days later.

Most certainly a crime of opportunity.

News from Pat Gilliland

Memorial Day was another excuse for a Honeymoon party! Darlene Orvis and friends put on the shindig – with chicken from Publix and other great food. Fifty-two friends attended, and nobody went away hungry.

Next, Pat and friends organized the Fourth of July picnic. Again, chicken from Publix and lots of other great food, followed up by a splash in the pool.

About 40 people attended the July 5 pool party, which also happened to be a surprise birthday party for Doug Hendricks. Ruth Cote got the cake, and there was plenty of other food, too.

Doug was totally surprised on his 79th birthday! And many more, Doug!

Irrigation system

A ce reporter Tom Lenard sent photos and an update on the “new look” for the front of the clubhouse. As of June 23rd, the irrigation system was installed.

While the plants were expected to be arriving shortly thereafter, Tom's last report on July 10th indicates that it is too hot to plant things now. But the sprinkler system is ready!

The plan is to have the work completed by the time the part-time residents return.

MICROWAVING CORN

I t's sweet corn season in Indiana! I want to share a great recipe I picked up from one of our local growers, Sweet Corn Charlie's.

1-2 ears per recipe, but can do as many as will fit in microwave and just increase the time.

Put 1-2 ears of sweet corn (leaving it in the husk, silk and all) in the micr0wave on a plate. Cook on high for 3 – 4 minutes per ear, or 7 – 8 minutes for 2 ears. Remove the sweet corn (it will be HOT) and put on a cutting board.

Using a heavy serrated knife, cut through the entire base of the cob, (throwing this part away). Hold the ear by the silk, cut end down, and shake lightly. The whole ear will fall out, leaving the husk and silk away from the cob. Discard the husk and silk, and enjoy delicious corn on the cob!

It doesn't work quite that easy for me. I hold onto the silk and peel away the husk. The silk comes off the corn easily.

An excerpt from “A Walk Through Time” Honeymoon Park 1968-1998

In 1979, residents voted 229 to one in favor of water meters. Howard Anderson, a former resident and retired plumbing contractor, negotiated an excellent price for the bulk purchase of 230 meters. Honeymoon became the first mobile home park in Florida to have water meters. When they were installed, water use decreased by two-thirds.

Although Honeymoon Park offers retirement living at its finest, it appears that many residents have stayed in high gear. Truth be told, some Honeymooners have a common affliction known as “lead foot”. Despite signs and warnings, residents often exceed the 10 mph speed limit. Speed bumps, installed in August 1972, may have helped a little, but there are still those who are trying out for the Indy 500.

When Honeymoon Park was built, the northern entrance was open to vehicles. Residents were able to enter and exit directly onto Alternate 19. Unfortunately, many locals began using East Street as a bypass, and traffic in the Park became quite heavy and hazardous. In September 1971, this access was modified, and restricted to walkers and bikers only. Plans are now underway to restore the entrance to Alt 19. A gate with personal openers for residents will add convenience and limit access, preventing flow-through traffic.

Kudos to Georgia Marcum who made 75 dresses for Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Dunedin to distribute to girls in Haiti. What great way to use your talent!

From the Editor's Desk

Susie Buckley

We are finally settling down to a relaxing summer. Dave's surgeries are over, recovery is progressing. Left knee was replaced May 30th, and cataract surgery for both eyes was done the end of June. Now he has no excuses for not dancing with me!

My vegetable garden is looking pretty good, flower beds not so much. But at least the flowers peek out above the weeds. Lately I've been thinking that we should just enjoy the weeds instead of trying to replace them with expensive flowers.

My granddaughter asked us to babysit with her 5-month-old while she and her husband celebrated their anniversary and her 21st birthday. She said I was the only one she really trusted to watch the baby – made my day!

Wherever you are spending the summer months, I hope you are having a great time! Remember to send any stories, photos, recipes, etc. to Honeymoongazette@gmail.com.

Life is good!

Words of Wisdom from the late Andy Rooney

---

I've learned....That the best classroom in the world is at the feet of an elderly person.

I've learned....That when you're in love, it shows.

I've learned....That just one person saying to me, "You've made my day!" makes my day.

I've learned....That having a child fall asleep in our arms is one of the most peaceful feelings in the world.

I've learned....That being kind is more important than being right.

I've learned....That you should never say no to a gift from a child.

I've learned....That I can always pray for someone when I don't have the strength to help in any other way.

I've learned....That no matter how serious your life requires you to be, everyone needs a friend to act goofy with.

I've learned....That sometimes all a person needs is a hand to hold and a heart to understand.

I've learned....That simple walks with my father around the block on summer nights when I was a child did wonders for me as an adult.

I've learned....That life is like a roll of toilet paper. The closer it gets to the end, the faster it goes.

I've learned....That money doesn't buy class.

I've learned....That it's those small daily happenings that make life so spectacular.

I've learned....That under everyone's hard shell is someone who wants to be appreciated and loved.

I've learned....That to ignore the facts does not change the facts.

I've learned....That when you plan to get even with someone, you are only letting that person continue to hurt you.

I've learned....That love, not time, heals all wounds.

I've learned....That the easiest way for me to grow as a person is to surround myself with people smarter than I am.

I've learned....That everyone you meet deserves to be greeted with a smile.

I've learned....That no one is perfect until you fall in love with them.

I've learned....That life is tough, but I'm tougher.

I've learned....That opportunities are never lost; someone will take the ones you miss.

I've learned....That when you harbor bitterness, happiness will dock elsewhere.

I've learned....That I wish I could have told my Mom that I love her one more time before she passed away.

I've learned....That one should keep his words soft and tender, because tomorrow he may have to eat them.

I've learned....That a smile is an inexpensive way to improve your looks.

I've learned....That when your newly born grandchild holds your little finger in his little fist, you're hooked for life.

I've learned....That everyone wants to live on top of the mountain, but all the happiness and growth occurs while you're climbing it.

I've learned....That the less time I have to work with, the more things I get done.

Columbus' anchor salvaged from the depths

A team of explorers believe they've discovered an anchor from one of Christopher Columbus' ships in the Caribbean. According to a story on the Fox News website, an analysis of the anchor shows that it dates from somewhere between 1492 and 1550. It weighed 1,200-1,500 pounds and probably belonged to a 300-ton vessel, typical of Columbus' time.

The anchor is believed to come from a fleet of smaller ships called caravels, which included the Pinta. Captained by Vicente Pinzon on one of the "minor voyages" of Columbus' third expedition to the New World, the ship sank in a hurricane near the Turks and Caicos islands in 1500.

In addition to the anchor, the team brought up other artifacts at the shipwreck site, including grappling hooks used for salvaging cargo from shipwrecks, as well as pieces of pottery and an olive jar painted with indigo.

Scientists create negative mass in the laboratory

Negative mass might sound like something out of science fiction, but physicists have created it in a laboratory. The BBC News website reports that scientists at Washington State University have created a particle composed of negative mass by using lasers to trap atoms of rubidium and then cooling them down to just above absolute zero. This caused the atoms to behave as a superfluid liquid, flowing without losing any energy.

Paradoxically, if you push something with negative mass, it accelerates in your direction, following behavior predicted by quantum mechanics. Scientists expect the technique to help them solve questions about black holes, neutron stars, and dark energy in the cosmos.

Ancient bone raises modern questions

An artifact unearthed in Crimea may shed new light on our Neanderthal ancestors, according to the Sci-News website. It's a bone fragment from a raven, and it's approximately 38,000 years old. A mere 18 mm long, the bone bears a series of notches that are too evenly spaced to be the result of everyday butchery. Archaeologists believe that two notches on the raven bone could have been made intentionally by Neanderthals to create a pattern meant to be consistent or symbolic. The bone may have worn as a personal ornament, some speculate.

Traditional books are alive and well

Publishers and traditional readers alike have long been worried about the rise of electronic books as sales of Amazon’s Kindle and other devices have grown, but their concerns may have been at least somewhat overblown. New studies suggest that the growth of e-book sales is leveling out—and possibly declining.

According to the Chicago Tribune website, during the first nine months of 2016 e-book sales dropped by 18.7 percent compared with the same period a year earlier. On the other hand, hardcovers, paperbacks, and audiobooks did not suffer a similar decline. In the same time frame, e-books’ share of the total market fell to 17.6 percent from 21.7 percent. In addition, sales of hardcover books in 2016 outpaced e-books for the first time in five years.

Don’t panic—books don’t look like they’re being replaced any time soon.

More Americans taking advantage of technology

The digital revolution continues gaining ground, according to the Pew Research Center. Seventy-seven percent of Americans own a smartphone, a figure that’s almost doubled since Pew began tracking smartphone ownership in 2011.

Similarly, broadband access is on an upswing, with home broadband service rising 6 percent in 2016 (after a slight decline from 2013 to 2015). In November 2016, nearly three-quarters (73 percent) of Americans reported having broadband service.

Finally, 69 percent of U.S. adults are using social media, especially young people—86 percent of 18- to 29-year-olds are on at least one social media platform.

New hope for headache sufferers

Cluster headaches, such as migraines, are rare, but they can cause intense pain to the people (mostly men) who suffer from them.

But there’s hope. According to the NBC News website, the Food and Drug Administration has recently approved a device known as the vagus nerve stimulator for treatment of cluster headaches. Sufferers place the small device, named gammaCore, against the neck and send a mild electrical stimulation to the vagus nerve—a large nerve that runs from the brain to the colon. The jolt disrupts signals along the nerve, reducing the pain.

Vagus nerve stimulation is already used to treat ailments such as epilepsy and depression. Gammacore, manufactured by the organization electroCore, is available in Europe, but electroCore plans to begin offering it in the United States later this year.

Monthly Mania: It Pays (Up to $100) To Patronize the Advertisers in Your Newsletter

THOUSANDS manufactured home residents have won over $135,000 since our contest began. It's simple to play ... when you patronize a current advertiser, ask for a Monthly Mania ticket (or a reasonable facsimile) and fill it out completely. Put the ticket in our Monthly Mania drop box in your community or mail your paid receipt to us at Monthly Media • 220 Bahama St. • Venice, FL 34285. That's all you do. At the end of the month the Publishers will pick up the tickets and hold a drawing. If your ticket is drawn, we mail you a check.

(Allow 4-6 weeks for mailing of check). This month's cash winners are:
