Easter Sunday

April 16, Easter Sunday, Darlene Musico and friends put together a very nice first annual Easter Dinner. The food was delicious and there was plenty of Easter candy!

Ladies and gentlemen were encouraged to decorate a bonnet or hat, and there were many entries.

The votes were counted after the parade, and the winners were Pat Gilliland, Faye Lynch, and Susie Buckley.

It was a very nice affair, and many thanks to Darlene and her crew. Hope this is the start of a new tradition.

Beer and Sunshine

Rich Gropp

On April 21st the Honeymoon beer club was asked to do a show about our beer tasting. We agreed to do it.

We all could not be there due to one had to leave for home, another a prior commitment and another for health issues. Larry Hoffman, Dale Wittig and myself went with our wives. We didn't know what to expect. It turned out to be a fun night for all of us.

We tried to be as informative as possible and let everyone know how we grade different beers in our tasting. We hope we encourage others to start a beer tasting club of their own.

You can go to YouTube and type in "Beer and Sunshine episode 4" and watch our show.

Pool Party

The Wednesday 4:00 pm Honeymoon Park Pool Parties began the 1st week of May. Thirty- four attendees were present with plenty of food for all. Finger food and snacks were complemented with several desserts.

The weather was excellent and water temperature was refreshing. There were a lot of conversations about the upcoming summer season and best wishes for safe travel to the last winter season residents before they depart. Several new full time residents joined the party and had a chance to meet their new neighbors.

Off to an excellent start we anticipate an average attendance of between 20 to 25 each week between now and about the middle of September.

All are welcome and we look forward to every Wednesday afternoon!!!! Join us when you can!!!!

Jesse the Chicken Plucker

As a boy, Jesse was a chicken plucker. That's right.

He stood on a line in a chicken factory and spent his days pulling the feathers off dead chickens so the rest of us wouldn't have to.

It wasn't much of a job. But at the time, Jesse didn't think he was much of a person.

His father was a brute of a man.

His dad was actually thought to be mentally ill and treated Jesse rough all of his life.

Jesse's older brother wasn't much better.

He was always picking on Jesse and beating him up.

Yes, Jesse grew up in a very rough home in West Virginia. Life was anything but easy.

And he thought life didn't hold much hope for him.

That's why he was standing in this chicken line, doing a job that darn few people wanted.

In addition to all the rough treatment at home, it seems that Jesse was always sick.

Sometimes it was real physical illness, but way too often it was all in his head.

He was a small child, skinny and meek.

That sure didn't help the situation any.

When he started school, he was the object of every bully on the playground.

He was a hypochondriac of the first order.

For Jesse, tomorrow was not always something he looked forward to.

But, he had dreams. He wanted to be a ventriloquist.

He found books on ventriloquism. He practiced with sock puppets and saved his hard earned dollars until he could get a real ventriloquist dummy.

When he got old enough, he joined the military.

And even though many of his hypochondriac symptoms persisted, the military did recognize his talents and put him in the entertainment corp.

That was when his world changed.

He gained confidence.

He found that he had a talent for making people laugh, and laugh so hard they often had tears in their eyes. Yes, little Jesse had found himself.

You know, folks, the history books are full of people who overcame a handicap to go on and make a success of themselves, but Jesse is one of the few I know of who didn't overcome it. Instead he used his paranoia to make a million dollars, and become one of the best-loved characters of all time in doing it!

Yes, that little paranoid hypochondriac, who transferred his nervousness into a successful career, still holds the record for the most Emmy's given in a single category.

The wonderful, gifted, talented, and nervous comedian who brought us

Picture Directory

Ann Scott reports that the picture directories should be ready the end of May. Darlene Orvis, lot #80, will be handling the distribution. Part-time residents who ordered the books will be able to pick up their copy at the office. The project made $350.00 for the Association. Thank you Ann, and your committee, for all your hard work to get this directory completed. Ann is also finishing up work on the park phone directory. If you have any changes to make to the current directory, let Marty or Ann know by June tenth. The phone directory will be published in lieu of the July newsletter.

Kids Stealing Cars

We're Zack Sampson and Lisa Gartner, reporters for the Tampa Bay Times. We spent the last eight months delving into a crime wave that has swept Pinellas County: Kids stealing cars.

Yes, boys and girls as young as 10 are one of the biggest problems local police face right now. And we, the residents of sunny Tampa Bay, have a hand in it. In 98 percent of theft cases, the young thieves had access to our keys -- left in the cup holders or glove boxes of our unlocked cars.

In the newsroom, we were skeptical when frightened police officers called it an "epidemic" perpetrated by middle schoolers. But after reading thousands of pages of auto theft reports from the last couple of years, we can tell you it's not a joke.

At least once every four days, kids crash a stolen car. Dozens of people have been seriously hurt, including teenagers with bruised or punctured lungs and broken bones. A boy stole two cars and was arrested at gunpoint. In a report, officers listed his occupation as "third grade."

Children, who sometimes didn't even know how to turn on a car's headlights, accelerated to 120 miles per hour, careening the wrong way on the highway, just for a thrill. We talked to them. They called it joyriding.

One year ago, three teenage girls died when they drove a stolen car into a cemetery pond while fleeing Pinellas deputies. The sheriff said then the situation was unacceptable, but the problem has continued into 2017.

Today, (April 26th) we present the first and second installments of our series online at tampabay.com.

It shows how dangerous car theft is, even though it's considered only a property crime, something that often lands young suspects in lockup for just a few hours or days. They get back out and steal another car, then another

These stories were also in print in the Tampa Bay Times, Sunday, April 30 and May 7. And ask yourself, is your car locked right now? Are you sure?

Wooden Leg Insurance

Carolyn Carr sends this in

A man and his wife moved back home to Newfoundland from Toronto. The wife had a wooden leg, and to insure it in Ontario was $2000.00 a year! When they arrived in Newfoundland they went to an insurance agency to see how much it would cost to insure the wooden leg. The agent looked it up on the computer and said to the couple, "$39.00".

The husband was shocked and asked why it was so cheap here in Newfoundland to insure, because it cost him $2000.00 in Ontario!

The agent turned his computer screen to the couple and said, "Well, here it is on the screen, it says: "Any wooden structure with a sprinkler system over is is $39.00."

Students and the Flat Tire

also from Carolyn Carr

There were four seniors taking Microbiology and all of them had an 'A' so far. These four friends were so confident that the weekend before finals they decided to visit some friends in Butte and have a big party.

They had a great time, but after all the hearty partying, they slept all day Sunday and didn't make it back to Montana State University in Bozeman until early Monday morning.

Rather than taking the final then, they decided that after the final they would explain to their professor why they missed it. They said that they visited friends but on the way back they had a flat tire. As a result, they missed the final.

Professor Olesnicki agreed they could make up the final the next day. The guys were excited and relieved. They studied that night for the exam.

The next day Professor Olesnicki placed them in separate rooms and gave them a test booklet.

They quickly answered the first problem worth 5 points. Cool, they thought! Each one, in a separate room, thought this was going to be easy...then they turned the page...

On the second page was written – for 95 points – which tire?

Don't need a will? Think again

Does everybody need a will? The straight answer is YES. That's true even for people who think they don't have a dime to leave to anyone. What if you were in an accident and died later of injuries, and your estate won a $1 million settlement?

Who gets the money?

Admittedly, that's a little far out. You might get away without having a will if, say, you're a renter living on Social Security with no savings. If you have savings, a pay-on-death account will pass that money to named beneficiaries when you die.

But there are hitches to any no-will scheme, says attorney Patrick Lannon of Bilzin Sumberg in Miami. To begin with, a random financial asset almost always turns up. Examples might be a rental deposit that's returned or a medical reimbursement. Those checks will be made out to the deceased. How do your heirs get them cashed?

If you had a will, you'd have named an executor to cash checks, pay off creditors and distribute any money or property to your beneficiaries. Without one, your heirs will have to ask a court to appoint a personal administrator. Usually, it will appoint your surviving spouse or a child. But you risk a family fight over who should be in charge.

Some couples try to go will-free by putting everything into joint names. Joint assets pass to the other owner automatically. So do assets with beneficiary forms, such as individual retirement accounts. But something is inevitably left out - typically, a car, Lannon says. Heirs would need an administrator to transfer title.

Even if the joint-asset strategy works for the first death, what happens when the other spouse dies? He or she should make a will, which you both could have done from the start.

When there's no will, state law dictates who gets the house, car, savings and other assets.

Those laws vary widely. A surviving spouse might get everything in one state but only one-third in another state, with the rest going to your children. If you have no children, half might go to a spouse and half to your parents.

Lawyers are the best source for reliable wills. Your lawyer will also remind you that you need a durable power of attorney and a health care proxy, so someone can manage your finances and make medical choices if you're unable to do so yourself.

If you're allergic to lawyers, you can find free, state-specific will forms online. In most states (not all), handwritten wills are also accepted, provided that they were witnessed properly. DIY should be better than nothing. But be careful.

By Jane Bryant Quinn
from the May 2017 AARP Bulletin

From the Editor's Desk

by Susie Buckley

I am finishing up the June edition of the newsletter, and it's the middle of May, the day after Mother's Day. The weather has finally warmed up here in northern Indiana, and I'm anxious to start gardening. Funny thing, though, I seem to have pesky rabbits running around in my back yard, just waiting to see what my garden has to offer them. Did they follow me from Honeymoon?

My summer is looking pretty busy, and I'm sure most of you are in the same boat.

View the newsletter on-line at www.monthly-media.com, and send stories and photos to honeymoongazette@gmail.com.

Life is good!

n June

Did you know June is also...

Adopt a Cat Month. Your local shelter has tons of cute, cuddly newborn kittens mellow older cats, and everything in between. Shelter staffers are ready to help you adopt your very first cat or bring home a friend for another beloved cat.

National Dairy Month. Start the summer with nutrient-rich dairy foods. From calcium to potassium, dairy products such as milk contain essential nutrients that can help you manage your weight and reduce your risk for high blood pressure, osteoporosis, and other health problems.

National Zoo and Aquarium Month. June is an excellent time to explore your local zoo and aquarium as well as the websites of America's great zoos and aquariums. Many of them have excellent educational resources—photographs, videos, facts, lesson plans, activities, and sounds so real you'll think you're there.

PTSD Awareness Month. The purpose of PTSD Awareness Month is to raise public awareness of PTSD and effective treatments and help all those affected by PTSD. Mental health experts aren't sure why some people develop PTSD and others don't, but if stress reactions don't improve over time and disrupt everyday life, seeking help to determine whether PTSD is present is important.

National Automotive Service Professionals Week, June 11-17. A weeklong celebration to honor the commitment and dedication of the automotive, truck, collision specialists and parts specialists who keep our vehicles running safely.

Men's Health Week, June 12-18. The purpose of Men's Health Week is to heighten the awareness of preventable health problems and encourage early detection and treatment of disease among men and boys. This week gives health care providers, public policy makers, members of the news media, and individuals an opportunity to encourage men and boys to seek regular medical advice and early treatment for disease and injury.

National Nursing Assistant Week, June 15-22. Nursing assistants work in hospitals and nursing homes performing everyday living tasks for the elderly, chronically ill, or rehabilitation patients who cannot care for themselves. This week is set aside to recognize the nursing assistants who dedicate their lives to the well-being of others.

Global Day of Parents, June 1. The Global Day of Parents was proclaimed by the UN General Assembly in 2012 to honor parents throughout the world in appreciation of their selfless commitment to children.

Flag Day, June 14. Fly Old Glory with pride!

Father's Day, June 18. A day to honor fathers everywhere.

Stay safe when working in the heat

When heat and humidity combine to reduce the amount of evaporation of sweat from the body, outdoor work can become dangerous even for those in good shape. The key rules for coping with heat are to drink plenty of water to avoid dehydration and slow down and cool off when experiencing fatigue, a headache, a high pulse rate, or shallow breathing. Overheating can cause serious, even life-threatening conditions such as heatstroke. Look out for these symptoms of heat illness:

- Heat cramps. Working in hot weather can lead to muscle cramps, especially in the legs, because of brief imbalances in body salts. Cramps become less frequent as a person becomes used to the heat.
- Heat syncope or fainting. Anyone not used to working in the heat can experience a quick drop in blood pressure that can lead to fainting. As with heat cramps, the best approach is to take it easy.
- Heat exhaustion. Losing fluid and salt through perspiration or replacing them in an imbalanced way can lead to dizziness and weakness. Body temperature might rise, but shouldn't exceed 102 degrees. The best defense is to take it easy and drink plenty of water. Don't take salt tablets without consulting a physician.
- Heatstroke. In some cases extreme heat can upset the body's thermostat, causing body temperature to rise to 105 degrees or higher. Symptoms are lethargy, confusion, and unconsciousness. Even a suspicion that someone might be suffering from heatstroke requires immediate medical aid. Heatstroke can kill.

Stay awake on the road

Fatigue can be a killer, especially when you're driving on the open highway for long periods of time. Here are a few tips for staying safe at the wheel:

- Get enough rest. Try not to start a trip late in the day. Long-distance driving is tough enough in the daytime. Be ready and awake.

- If possible, don't drive alone. Passengers can take turns driving, or at least help you stay awake if you need stimulation.
- Adjust your car's environment. Use your controls to keep you awake and alert. Keep the temperature cool, with open windows or air conditioning in the summer and frugal amounts of heat in the winter.
