From the HOA PRESIDENT'S DESK

Communications at IITS

Things are changing.

For the first time in five years we are dealing with legalities and abstractions, not just parties. In our community of about 600 souls, we have a problem keeping everyone informed. We really are trying to get out factual information. We have this publication, the Monthly Media; we have the sign board near the entrance; our official Facebook page, Island in the Sun HOA; Robocall; monthly membership meetings for two-way discussion. But we still have folks confused about what we are doing.

We know that some don't have computers, some aren't on Robocall and others can't get out much anymore. Hopefully they will read this magazine.

Over the next six weeks we will hold three Townhall Meetings (see the calendar for dates) in an informal question-and-answer format open to all residents, not just members. We will also bring back our attorney for a second session. This will be timed to include our Northern friends.

We hope this works. The HOA legally represents ALL residents, not just dues-paying members.

Manufactured Homes vs Flatpack

Kenn Brody Lot #84

The advantages of a manufactured home over the usual site-built home are obvious to us who live in them. They are made under controlled conditions in a place where the workers just make houses and get very efficient at what they do. They cost less and you know what you are getting when you order one. I'm pretty happy with mine, which was built by Jacobsen, in Palm Harbor.

But manufactured homes are just one option on a gray scale of prefabrication. They are at the "build and ship" end of that scale. There are various levels of "some assembly required" houses, ranging from modular, where the wall components fit together like pieces in a kids' construction kit, to flatpack, where the entire house, roof, walls, floor and interior, is shipped flat in a single truckload.

The latest developments in flatpack homes range from Cubicco, a Florida builder, to Britespace, a high-end product that looks like a piece of furniture, inside and out.

Cubicco houses range in price from $58,000 to over $100,000, making them roughly comparable to a manufactured home. They are designed and rated to withstand a Category 5 hurricane. Assembly takes a small crew several days. Otherwise, the carport, ground prep and landscaping are the same as any other home.

Britespace make an open, airy home that is priced on the higher end of the scale. However, they are exemplars of modern design, using bamboo and engineered wood structures that are quite appealing.

Decades ago I owned a franchise for Green Mountain Homes. They were modular, built with panels of a standard 16 foot size, and ranged from under a thousand square feet to over 3000 square feet. They were heated and cooled by a “basement” full of fist-sized river rocks and a clever heating/cooling system that stored heat or chilled the rocks to compensate for the weather. They were very well insulated and had many innovative features, but outside they looked a bit like a nice dairy barn in Vermont. It took two weeks to assemble a mid-sized house with a crew and a crane.

We sold them but I never got the chance to live in one.

Since then I have investigated many housing options, including my design, (with Chandra) a modular house made of our unique Hodari Strongboards. That series of inventions is intended to create a complete and decent shelter in an African village for about $2500 US dollars.

The quest for shelter is basic, and our options are slowly improving.

Spotlight on John and Debbie Schweikowsky

John and Debbie Schweikowsky are new IITS residents as of June and reside at 228. They are from Orchard Park, New York (both grew up in Buffalo) where they claim is the home of original “Buffalo style chicken wings” with blue cheese dressing and of course the Buffalo Bills Football Team. John and Debbie have been vacationing in this region for about eighteen years staying at resorts and condos from Clearwater to Treasure Island, and always dreamed that this area would one day be their home.

Their story starts in high school, where John and Debbie met as freshmen and didn’t start dating until they were 17 and after 5 years of dating they finally married in 1986 and have been together for 37 years and married this November for 32 years. They have two children,

JONES & SONS
PLUMBING INC. LIC. # CFC 1428749

www.jonesandsons-plumbing.com

John and Jackie now 29, and 26. Their career path was to start a small business to earn extra money so that Debbie could stay at home and raise the children. Well this small business on a whim turned out to be a full-time job for them that lasted 27 years. They ran a special events company from their garage, and in a matter of just a few years, they had to hire additional help and purchase a building to house their equipment. They did special events including weddings, tradeshow, seminars, corporate events and sporting events. John and Debbie were very passionate about their business working 7 days a week during their peak season. That is why vacation time was so important to them, getting time away from the business and spending quality time with their kids and relaxing on the beach – what could be better.

As the kids grew older and after every vacation they always asked themselves “why can’t we live in vacation land” (their nickname for Florida). They had several conversations about what it would take to move there and what would they do for jobs if they sold their business. Debbie decided at the age of 46 to switch gears and go to college so that she would be marketable with her experiences, she earned back to back business degrees one in Business, Management and Economics and the other in Business Administration; all while John focused more on the business and picked up the slack while she attended college.

Now what? Debbie started a career in banking and during this time her younger brother found out he had cancer. The thought of even leaving her brother during this difficult time was not even an option. They fought the battle with dignity, grace, and a “kick cancers ass” attitude. Debbie said the cancer took her brother last year. John and Debbie said that 2018 would be a new year and a new beginning. The business was sold, and they planned a vacation for April. Debbie thought, for the heck of it, to apply to a few banking jobs in the area. She received two offers and took one of them. They quickly put their home on the market and purchased the home they live in at lot 228, sight unseen. Their brother and sister-in-law were their eyes on the new house.

Debbie and John love the beach, walking their two pugs Diesel (who is 11) and Holly (a rescue who is about 6 years old). They love to remodel and since John is semi-retired, there is always a honey-do list. John and Debbie love to play poker (they just started to play at the club), mimosas on the beach and on Sundays. John is extremely passionate about cooking and barbecuing and cannot wait for the pot lucks and any food competitions that could be in the future for IITS. He makes amazing soups, ribs, seafood and anything that can be smoked.

No doubt the stress of being apart from Debbie, who was here working while John was back in New York, was difficult. But they are now together living their dream. Their kids were here at the end of August for a visit along with Debbie’s niece (her brother’s daughter) and they had an amazing time going to the beach and swimming.

Debbie said that “home is really where the heart is” and having your life partner and soul mate with you.... is all that matters.

John says that “a happy wife makes a happy life”.

Bless them both!

For Men Who Cook

By Kenn Brody #84

In this enlightened age, men learn to cook simply in order to get their favorite meals. Especially if your wife is on a diet and her average dinner plate looks like a white space punctuated by three vegetables and one bite of chicken. But even the average Joe cannot live entirely on delivered pizza and hot dogs. So we cook our own recipes.

Here are two of mine: Golden Curry Chicken

Ingredients (serves 3 or 4):

1.5 lb skinless boneless chicken breast
6 oz mushrooms, sliced
8 oz broccoli, cut in pieces
8 oz potatoes cut into 1" cubes
1 medium Spanish onion, chopped fine

1 large sliced carrot
2 tbsp Sesame oil
2 tbsp vegetable oil
2 squares of SSB Golden Curry sauce mix
Curry powder to taste

Cut the chicken into 2" cubes. Heat up the sesame oil (for the flavor) and the vegetable oil on high heat in a wok or large frypan to the point of fragrance. Add the chopped onion slowly. A curry requires onion or it isn't a curry. Brown the onion slightly.

Add the cut up chicken and stir fry until it is lightly cooked (all white). Add the vegetables and stir fry them until they are lightly cooked. Add some curry powder (I use a tbsp) and stir a bit more.

Add 2 cups of water and return to a boil. Add in the golden curry cakes (the cakes are in sections, use two sections).

Turn down the heat to medium and boil for 20 minutes to half an hour, until the sauce thickens. Adjust the seasoning by adding curry powder to taste. Serve over rice or noodles.

Pairs well with pinot noir or a good IPA beer.

Sauce and Shreds

I found this prize-winning recipe in a newspaper I was using to wrap glassware. It seems too simple to be believed, but it is good!

Ingredients (serves 2 or 3):

½ large cabbage, shredded
1 lb Italian sausage (or your favorite spicy sausage) cut in small slices
¼ stick of butter
1 tbsnp vegetable oil
Salt, pepper, seasoning to taste

Heat the oil in large frypan or on high. Add the sausage and brown well. Add the butter and the cabbage. Stir fry for about ten minutes, or until the cabbage is softer but still crisp. Add salt, pepper, seasoning (I like Badia Saizon Completa). Serve in bowls.

The surprising flavor of cabbage sautéed in butter and oil combines with the spice in the sausage.

Pairs well with Mexican cerveza.

I bought my wok from the curb of someone here in IITS that wanted $5 for it. Best investment I ever made.

Passages

I count among my treasures days so new:
Betimes embarked upon a misty morn,
With wind-filled sails, on ruffled crests I flew,
Saw sunsets flame and fresh, blue days reborn.

I hoard the warm, unfettered nights
I drew a silver wake across the moon,
Steered a sail among the starry lights
Renewed, and knew I need not turn back soon.

So far, so far I've come. And why?
I marked my passage, noon to noon,
On charts that spirit makes and only soul can buy.

For ocean's power doesn't heed man's whim.
Some mighty seas drive, roaring, by the mast.
In time I'll pass Pacific's curving limb
To paradise, and furl my ragged sails at last.

Dottie Newman Lot #46 724-6283 pcfriar64@yahoo.com or dlnewman823@gmail.com

Eileen World, #14, had very intricate knee surgery which could require her to wear a leg immobilizer for as long as 6 months. Yikes! We'll hope that time line can be reduced and you can be back to doing everything you did before this serious fall.

Our lovely Alta Keith, #177, took another fall and has some stitches in her head to prove it. She is, as of 9/11, still in rehab. But, Don wants her home so he can put his nursing skills to work.

Betty Johnson, #217, has passed away due to cancer. She is survived by her caretaker and wonderful daughter, Kris Taylor and son-in-law, Larry Taylor, #296. Our condolences to Kris and Larry and to the many friends Betty had made since moving to IITS.

Grace Dumond, #62, passed away at her home in New York. We were told pancreatic cancer. She leaves five sons and grandchildren. Her twin sons lived here in the park for some time. They only moved recently. Grace sang in the IITS choir since its beginning and looked forward to their performances at the clubhouse events. Our condolences to her family and all the friends she made over the years she lived as a snowbird here with us.

Kyle McIvor, #178, was sent condolences for the passing of her mother.

Did you know that October is also...

National Apple Month. Because apples are high in fiber and contain no sodium, cholesterol, or fat, they make a great snack. With more than 2,500 varieties grown in North America, it won't be difficult to find one you can enjoy chopped into your morning oatmeal, baked into a pie, or cored and sliced any time of the day when you want a delicious treat.

International Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) Awareness Month. AAC is a set of strategies, tools, and devices used by people to overcome communication challenges. People who rely on AAC might use sign language, text, pictures, symbols, speech-generating devices or a combination of these for their basic communication. This month let's increase our awareness of the possibilities that could develop when everyone has the ability communicate effectively.

National Work and Family Month. In 2003 the U.S. government designated October as a time to promote sensible, flexible, and healthy work environments, as well as the benefits of work/life balance. Don't wait for your employer to create an initiative or perk to combat the daily grind. Take a day or more of PTO to decompress from your busy life and reconnect with your family.

Positive Attitude Month. Researchers believe people who embrace a positive outlook have less stress, an increased sense of well-being, better coping skills, and longer life spans. Purge the negativity from your life: Meditate, pray, practice positive affirmations, and surround yourself with only happy people. Do whatever you must, but always look on the bright side.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13. This year's motto is "Look. Listen. Learn. Be aware. Fire can happen anywhere." Look for and eliminate potential fire hazards in your home. Listen for the sound of smoke alarms. Learn two ways of exiting every room in the event of an emergency. Visit the National Fire Protection Association website at <https://www.nfpa.org/Public-Education/Campaigns/Fire-Prevention-Week> to access more information.

Bone and Joint Action Week, Oct. 12-20. It's estimated that more than half of the U.S. population over 18 is dealing with some sort of musculoskeletal issue. This can include arthritis, osteoporosis, back pain, injuries or other conditions causing pain, disability, and a diminished quality of life. There is hope. Visit the website for the U.S. Bone and Joint Initiative at <https://www.usbj.org/> to find out about research, prevention, and initiatives targeting bone and joint issues

National Taco Day, Oct. 4. Have one for breakfast, lunch, dinner, or any time of the day. We celebrate the taco on this day just to give you one more reason to enjoy them.
