PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, HOA Secretary

It's time to hang the stars and stripes, play patriotic music and sing God Bless America – happy Independence Day and happy birthday America. How are we celebrating this auspicious day? With a cook-out of course - it's in lieu of our monthly pot luck dinner, so as usual bring a side dish to share and your beverage and we will have a grand old time.

Carolyn, thanks a bunch for the fabulous spaghetti dinner – what a great idea for the monthly pot luck, we must do it again. It was a terrific turnout, thanks everyone for coming and sharing with us. We were delighted to welcome new members Rick & Peggy Lightener and Martha & Dean London at the event. A special thank you to Terri Jo, Marcia and Barbara who did most of the clean up afterward – it was no easy task, tomato sauce makes a real mess.

A few adventurers of the artistic persuasion tried something new – painting with dots – either on rocks or small canvasses. Everyone had a great time experimenting with color and form, and left the class with a personal “masterpiece”. Our thanks to Jennifer Simon for teaching us this new approach to creating art. Loved it!

Park #1 has monthly events planned through October – post these dates and events to your calendar:

July 4: Pot Luck Dinner – BBQ Cookout at the pool; bring your beverage and a side dish to share.

August 4: Pot Luck – Pizza-Your-Way; bring your beverage. Members free; guests welcome for a minor charge of $5 each.

September 22: Italian Night – ticketed event

October 20: Oktoberfest – entertainment by Happy Days

The ELS office is conducting annual 360 inspections to ensure homes and gardens are maintained to Park Prospectus standards. These inspections are beneficial to residents as well as to the corporate owner as they ensure a pleasant living environment and a maximum return on your investment if you decide to sell your unit.

There will be no monthly Association Meetings during July, August or September. Hope you all have a fabulous summer whether at the beach, at the pool, traveling, or “stay-cations”. Watch for monthly posting for bingo and hot dog night dates.

Stay cool!

HOA UPDATE

JULY HAPPENINGS

The HOA Board held its quarterly meeting with ELS local and regional management in May. We acknowledged the recent improvements made in the laundry rooms, pool furniture cleaned, tattered plastic windows removed in shuffleboard courts, new swings for all parks and picnic tables for Park #3. Community Manager, Karen White, continues to make physical and cosmetic improvements in Lake Haven. The clubhouses will be painted outside and gutters repaired; ultimately interior clubhouse painting and new fans. This work will be done in-house using the maintenance staff so it may take some time to complete. Karen has scheduled initial sidewalk repairs and is pursuing replacement windows for the shuffle court in Park #2. The HOA continues to campaign for removal of or paving over the shuffleboard courts in Parks #1 & #3 so they can be used for an alternate amenity.

The HOA repeated its request for an updated Lake Haven telephone directory. The delay stems from the fact that release of this personal information has not been obtained from all residents. When you receive an authorization form in your mail, please complete and return it as indicated at your earliest convenience. Your personal information is not released to any outside organization.

Recently the HOA was legally served in a law suit by an individual alleging injury from a fall within the park. The HOA neither owns, manages nor maintains this property and was in no way responsible for this alleged accident. However, since the HOA was legally served by a representative of the Pinellas County Court, we were forced to hire an attorney to have the action terminated; the cost was $350.00. This was a waste of your money created by a Personal Injury Attorney's inefficient pretrial investigation. Should you or someone visiting you get injured, and believe it was caused by negligence in maintaining the Lake Haven property, any resultant legal action should be directed to the corporate owner, not the HOA.

Did you know that July is also...

National Blueberry Month. This yummy fruit is packed with antioxidants and in season during July. They're great in muffins, pancakes, and pies, or on their own as a low-calorie snack. Head to a farmer's market or you-pick, and take some home today.

National Cell Phone Courtesy Month. For the next 31 days, exercise common sense when it comes to cell phone use. Keep your phone turned off when you're having dinner, taking a yoga class, or at the theater. If you are in a workplace or public setting, move to a more private location if you need to take a call.

National Recreation and Parks Month. There are 417 parks in the National Park System, as well as a multitude of historic landmarks and places, rivers, trails, and heritage areas. Go to NPS.org and find one for camping, hiking, and exploration.

Social Wellness Month. Now is the time to take stock of your quality of life. Develop daily practices that support your health and well-being. Commit to having loving and supportive relationship with family, friends, and colleagues. Make your home a clean, organized, and peaceful environment.

Everybody Deserves a Massage Week, July 15-21. The third week of July has been designated to promote the benefits of therapeutic massage and bodywork. Find a licensed professional, and book your next appointment.

Quilt Odyssey Week (Pennsylvania), July 19-22. Quilters from across the country will gather to learn techniques from the pros, network, and show off their creations.

International Plastic Bag Free Day, July 3. Only 1 percent of the 100 billion plastic bags Americans consume are recycled during the year. The rest add to the pollution of our planet and threaten all sorts of ecosystems. Let today be the day you become part of the solution to ending the waste.

National Fried Chicken Day, July 6. We will never agree on which fast-food joint does it right, but one thing is certain: Anyone who loves fried chicken will tell you that "momma" makes the best. If you're lucky, she's in the kitchen right now and the cast iron skillet is on the stove.

Simplicity Day, July 12. Celebrated on the birthday of Henry David Thoreau, this day is observed to raise awareness regarding the need for sustainable living. Find ways to live in harmony with your environment and reduce your ecological footprint.

Reduce arthritis pain without surgery

Arthritis is the leading cause of disability among U.S. adults over 55, in many cases requiring surgery to replace troubled joints. You don't have to resort to joint replacement all at once, though. These simple steps from Dr. Victor Romano, an orthopedist and author of Finding The Source: Maximizing Your Results—With and Without Orthopaedic Surgery, can help you deal with arthritis before surgery becomes necessary:

- Wear good shoes with arch supports. Over time, the arches in feet tend to fail. Arch supports can help with the alignment of your feet and improve the alignment of your knees, letting your feet better serve as shock absorbers for the knees.
- Exercise daily. Try at least a 20-minute program that includes stretching, aerobic activity, strength training, and balance.
- Wear a hinged knee brace for better support. You don't have to wear it all the time, but it can help during sports or other strenuous activity.
- Watch your weight. Lower weight decreases the stress on your joints and helps with mobility. Eat nutritious foods and cut your intake of sugar, which can cause inflammation of your arteries and joints.
- Take care of your bones. Calcium, vitamin D, and weight-bearing exercises can reduce arthritis pain and build up your bone density. Should you need replacement surgery, greater bone density will help your artificial joint last longer.

Staying up late may damage your health

Benjamin Franklin's advice, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise," turns out to be true—at least the "healthy" part. A British study of genes and health that analyzed surveys of more than 400,000 people found that night owls have a 10 percent higher risk of death over a 6½-year period than early risers, according to an article on the NBC News website.

The negative impact of burning the midnight oil doesn't depend on how much sleep you actually get—both night owls and early risers reported getting the same amount—but on the fact that it throws the body's natural rhythms off track. Also, the study found that people who stay up late tend to eat fattier foods, drink more alcohol, and use recreational drugs. In addition, staying up late at night has been shown to increase depression and mood disorders, especially among people 50 and older.

Consumers nervous about online data

If you're worried about how well businesses are protecting the data they collect from you, you're far from alone. A survey from IBM found that 77 percent of consumers say that an organization's ability to keep their personal data secure is a factor in their buying decisions—and only 20 percent say they “completely trust” businesses to ensure their privacy.

The survey also found that 75 percent of buyers refuse to purchase from organizations they don't trust, regardless of the quality of their products. Another finding: Almost three-fourths of consumers believe that sellers are more concerned about profits than about privacy and data protection.

Retirement: Golden years or a fading dream?

Americans these days are worried about their retirement—and whether they'll even be able to retire.

A Willis Towers Watson survey of approximately 5,000 U.S. workers found that 37 percent expect to keep working to age 70 or longer, up from 30 percent two years ago. Only 26 percent believe they'll be able to retire before they're 65, a drop from 29 percent in 2015.

Minimum wage: What should it be?

Debates about the minimum wage have been heating up for years. To find out what Americans think it should be, CreditLoan surveyed 2,669 people across the country. The results? People in every state said it should be higher than the current federal level of $7.25 an hour. On average, Americans support a minimum wage of $11.56 an hour, allowing employees working 40 hours a week 52 weeks a year to earn $24,044 for the year.

Most Americans, though, don't even know what the minimum wage is. Just 35.5 percent identified the actual amount correctly. The average estimate was $8.09 an hour.

BY ALL MEANS, HAVE YOU GIVE GREAT ATTENTION TO YOUR ARITHMETIC, AS ITS ADVANTAGES ARE SO MANY AND IMPORTANT.

Can you drink the water?

Worries about clean water are all over the news lately. Before you shell out the bucks for bottled water, though, try these steps first to protect you and your family from exposure to bacteria, lead, or disinfection products in tap water:

1. Let water run for at least 30 seconds. Water sitting in pipes and just out of the faucet can pick up lead if it's been sitting for several hours, so run your tap briefly before drinking or getting water for cooking.
2. Don't use hot water. Hot water leaches lead from pipes faster than cold, so don't use it for drinking or cooking.
3. Test it. If your water smells funny, leaves stains in your sink or laundry, or is cloudy, test it. In general, be aware lead can get into tap water for a variety of different reasons.

Domesticated dog remains are oldest in the Americas

Dogs may have been man's best friend for longer than we thought. The remains of three dogs uncovered at two sites in Illinois have recently been radiocarbon dated to show that they were buried 10,000 years ago, making them 1,500 years older than previously thought. That makes them older than dogs found at a Texas site, which had been killed and eaten 9,300 years ago, according to an article on the Science News website.

The findings at the Illinois sites suggest that the dogs were domesticated—there's no evidence of their having been killed, suggesting they died of natural causes and were buried after death. They're believed to be the oldest known domesticated dogs in the Americas. (A dog buried at a German site 14,000 years ago was included in a grave with two people).

Scientists studying the remains found that the lower jaw and teeth of two of the dogs share similarities to modern-day wolves. Another dog showed traits found in present-day coyotes, suggesting some ancient interbreeding.

We are just an advanced breed of monkeys on a minor planet of a very average star. But we can understand the universe. That makes us something very special.

Does practice make perfect?

There's a theory that it takes 10,000 hours of practice in any given subject to develop one's expertise in that area, regardless of familiarity with it.

The theory intrigued Dan McLaughlin, so he decided to put it to the test. In April 2010, at age 30, McLaughlin quit his job and devoted his time to learning how to play golf—a sport for which he had no interest or aptitude.

He practiced for hours each day and soon realized time was just one of many factors that would aide in his development. The quality of the time spent in practice was equally important, as was his strategy for learning the fundamentals of the sport.

This prompted his correspondence with some of the leading researchers in the field of cognitive psychology and neuroscience. Their advice guided him to fine-tune his practice methods. It turns out that the most effective manner of learning requires you to work with material in a certain way and also challenge yourself with it.

After seven years and 6,003 hours of high-quality practice, McLaughlin achieved a handicap of 2.6. According the United States Golf Association, fewer than 6 percent of golfers have attained this level of mastery in the sport. Not bad, considering that the guys who win the green jackets and tour the pro circuit are part of an exclusive group that accounts for an even smaller percentage of players, albeit ones who have been playing the game a lot longer.

Unfortunately, we will never know if McLaughlin could've developed the skills to be a pro golfer. Beset by back injuries, he abandoned his experiment. Still, the progress he made is encouraging. It is proof that a certain level of success is possible if you commit wholeheartedly to an objective, develop a solid plan, and put in the work.

The purpose of learning is growth, and our minds, unlike our bodies, can continue growing as we continue to live.

—Mortimer Adler

A story about loss and luck

There once lived a farmer who took pride in only two things in life: his son and his horse.

One day his horse kicked out the stall door of the stable and ran off. When the neighbors heard of what happened they said to the man, “What a loss,” and, “What bad luck.”

The man contemplated these words and asked the question, “How do we know this is a loss or bad luck?”

Most people were confused by this response until a few days later. The horse returned, at that time, trailed by a dozen wild stallions. The man now had 13 magnificent horses.

“What good luck you have,” the neighbors remarked.

To which the man said, “How do we know this is good luck?”

No sooner had the neighbors began to mutter about this strange remark when the man’s son was trampled while attempting to corral one of the wild stallions. His injuries were severe, but not fatal. The young man would need surgery and a long recovery. In time he could resume his life.

“How horrible,” the neighbors said. “Such bad luck.”

“How do we know it’s bad luck?” asked the man.

By now the neighbors were beginning to grumble. The son was the star player football team at the local university. He was expected to go pro after graduation. Now he’d have to create a new future for himself.

Though the man never thought of his son’s injuries in terms of loss or luck, the prevailing opinion was otherwise.

Until ...

There was a horrible accident on the interstate involving the bus carrying the members of the university football team. No one on board survived. It was a tragedy mourned by the entire town.

The man sat at his son’s bedside. The young man grew stronger with each new day while his father felt grateful for the mysteries of life and also its blessings.

Getting unstuck

Three men were driving in the woods in a pickup truck when they became stuck in the mud.

The driver became angry and began to shout and curse. He pounded on the steering wheel and then sat fuming about their bad luck.

The second man climbed out of the truck and took refuge under the shade of a large tree. “I’m going to hang out here until someone comes along who can tow us out,” he said.

The third man retrieved an ax and a saw and found a felled tree. He cut pieces to wedge under the tires so the truck could drive out of the mud.

We all get “stuck in the mud” at times while we are traveling down life’s road. Will you melt down, walk away, and do nothing? Or will you embark on a course of action for getting unstuck?

Lincoln settles a problem

Abraham Lincoln ran a legal practice, but he never encouraged litigation that was unnecessary. One day, as Lincoln was working at his practice, a man entered the establishment in an impassioned state. He pleaded with Lincoln to bring suit against a man who was impoverished and in debt.

The man wanted to sue the debtor for $2.50. Lincoln tried to reason with the man, but he was set on getting his revenge. When Lincoln saw that he could not talk the man out of bringing the lawsuit against the debtor, he slyly asked for $10 in legal fees to head up the lawsuit. The man paid the money to Lincoln.

Lincoln then hunted down the debtor and gave him half of the legal fee. The debtor used part of the money to pay off the man who brought the lawsuit against him. In this way, the man who brought the suit was completely satisfied that justice had been done, the debtor got out of debt, and Lincoln probably had a good laugh about it all.

Pursue what catches your heart, not what catches your eyes.
