PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Park 1 Association Secretary

Happy Birthday America! Fly your flags proudly to celebrate our independence. Despite all our problems, this is still THE GREATEST country in the world. It's not politically correct, but I'm saying it anyway: God Bless America.

America has much to celebrate, but closer to home, the Paradise Island community celebrates:

- The dedication and leadership of our Association & HOA President, Richard Crance
- The talents of Hobby President & Social Worker Extraordinaire, Lei Crance
- The attention to detail given to our finances by Association Treasurer, Janel Balogh
- The involvement, valuable input and support of VPs, Carolyn Bailey & Irene Haskell
- The dedicated Association Members who support both the Assn and social activities
- The special event coordinators who spend much of their personal time, and often a portion of their personal finances, to ensure all activities are inclusive and entertaining
- The Hobby Club members without whom this Association could not function
- Friends and neighbors from Parks 2&3 who support our social activities

The Paradise Island Association salutes each of you, and is grateful for your support and community spirit.

It isn't always easy – in fact it's often darn frustrating and a real challenge to keep our Association viable and active. The Association would not survive without those who devote their time, talents, and solid support to our community. If you are not an Association member, give me a call and I will drop by for a visit to tell you all about our organization and get you signed up. If you are already a member, but an inactive one, come on out and join us – you'll have a good time, and it won't be long before you truly feel part of our Association "family".

As an example: How about that Memorial Day Pool Party/BBQ??!! Master Chefs, Denny Wolff and Chuck Oller, achieved an outstanding encore performance...the food was delicious, the ambience warm and friendly, and the comradery was the greatest. An afternoon of food, fun, friendship and frolic. Congratulations, well done!

What's next, you ask....well let me tell you. Again we will forego the 1st Saturday Pot Luck Dinner in lieu of a Cook-Out Pot Luck Dinner on Monday, July 4. How about some pool time (weather permitting) then grilled hamburgers, drumsticks & wings – you bring the side dishes and we will have a great Independence Day celebration. For those wanting to attend firework displays, you will have plenty of time following dinner to make it to the event of your choice. Please remember to sign up so we can plan food purchases, and it really helps if you indicate what side dish you plan to bring so that we don't end up with 10 potato salads, 5 baked beans and 25 desserts.....as much as I love all of the above, a few other choices would be welcomed.

Not many other Association events scheduled in July – weekly Ladies Poker and Hobby Club, Bingo on the 21st – otherwise many residents will be taking advantage of the unscheduled time for socializing at the pool, personal vacations and anything else the heart desires. Speaking of vacations, welcome back Janel from your exciting visit to Ireland – I’m sure you had a fabulous time and are anxious to share all your memories with us.

See you around!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY AMERICA!

Your commute may improve your health

You may not like going to work in the morning, but the way you get there can have a positive influence on your overall health. The journal Lancet Diabetes & Endocrinology has published a study that found middle-aged people who walk, ride a bike, or even take public transportation to their workplace tend to have a lower body mass index (BMI) than those who regularly drive.

The reason is simple: More physical activity keeps weight down and results in better overall health. Researchers at the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine looked at data from 150,000 people ages 40–69. Not surprisingly, those who biked to the office weighed showed a healthier BMI than those who drive their cars, followed by walkers and then workers who took a bus or train.

Although walking or biking may be impossible for many people, the physical activity involved in just getting to the bus stop or train station can have a significant positive effect.

One measure of friendship consists not in the number of things friends can discuss, but in the number of things they need no longer mention.

—Clifton Fadiman

TREASURE COVE HAPPENINGS!

Written by Bob Baker, Park 2 Association Treasurer

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AMERICA! On July 4th, celebrate your freedom and independence with a barbeque, a picnic, or a family gathering. If nothing else, be sure to at least fly your flag!

Last month, we reminded everyone again that our annual hurricane season officially started on June 1st and runs through November 30th. Although we had lots of rain and some minor wind gusts, last month's Tropical Storm Colin was almost a non-event for us but tropical storms this time of year are unpredictable and everyone now needs to stay alert to the local weather reports and forecasts especially for the next five months or so.

ATTENTION WW II, KOREAN WAR AND VIETNAM VETERANS IN ALL THREE PARKS! If you've not been on a one-day free Honor Flight to Washington, DC to see the monuments and memorials, please see Bob Baker, Lot 280, for an application to fly with Honor Flight of West Central Florida.

Although only 10 to 12 residents attend our monthly potluck dinners, the dinners will continue through the summer. If you've not been attending you've missed out on some "good vittles". Bring a dish to share, your place setting and whatever you'd like to drink and break bread with us on the first Sunday of each month.

We'd also like to see all our year-round residents at our association dinner normally on the third Sunday of each month. There's good food provided by the association and certainly good fellowship with your neighbors. You only need to bring yourselves and whatever you'd like to drink. Watch the tube under your mail box for the monthly announcements and be sure to let Bob and Eileen Scott in Lot 277 know if you will attend – but, not by email, please.

I also want to remind everyone in all three of our parks that Hand and Foot card games are played every Wednesday in Club House 2 from 12:00 noon to 4:00 pm. After that, Pinochle is played starting at 6:45 pm. All Lake Haven residents are welcome!

Here's a little humor: A man who was hard of hearing was in Walmart paying for his purchases at the cash register. He thought the cashier said "Strip down and face me"! He did so because the cashier was bigger than he was. Well, after the ladies in the line behind him stopped screaming and the police had left, he realized that the cashier was only trying to tell him how to put the black magnetic stripe on his credit card through the scanner. Moral of the story: When you speak to some old folks, you need to speak clearly!

GREAT GUANA CAY UPDATE

Linda Parker, Park 3 Association President

How time flies, here we are in the middle of summer. Hope everyone has had a good one enjoying the pools and the quiet. There isn't much action in Park III this time of year however we are about to change that. On Sunday July 10th the Park III Association will be hosting a summer picnic (inside) at Clubhouse III followed by swimming, cards, and games of your choice or just a chance to sit and visit. So please join us and bring along a neighbor, a friend or family member. We will be serving Fried & Baked chicken, homemade potato salad, baked beans, a yummy fruit salad and dessert. Top that with a tall glass of lemonade or iced tea and enjoy! There is no charge for this event, however we will be graciously accepting any and all free will donations. There is one catch....YOUR NAME AND YOUR GUESTS NAMES MUST BE ON THE SIGN UP SHEET IN CLUBHOUSE III ON OR BEFORE JULY 8TH. We hope to see you there! Lunch will be served at 1:00 PM. Don't be late!

Reminders: We are collecting items for the fall sale. Please deposit any gently used items in the corner of the clubhouse by the piano. We will take it from there. No clothes at this time please. They need to be saved for the March sale. The can recycling is being taken care of. Be considerate and leave Ben nice clean crushed cans.

Have a great summer and stay cool!

Linda Parker, President Park III 612-508-7510

'Hobbits' older than thought

Scientists discovered ancient human fossils on the Indonesian Island of Flores more than 10 years ago and nicknamed the new species "hobbits" because of their diminutive size, about 3.5 feet tall. They believed these small humans (official name: homo floresiensis) lived about 18,000 years ago, or perhaps even later.

But according to an article in The Christian Science Monitor, the remains may be much older. Some scientists are now arguing that erosion made the fossils appear modern than they really are. Using such techniques as radiocarbon dating and uranium-series dating, they've determined that the fossils may be 60,000 to 100,000 years old. Artifacts made of stone discovered in the same area appear to be between 50,000 and 190,000 years old, pushing the date of the hobbits' existence—and extinction—back further than previously thought.

Balance your internal ‘thinker’ and ‘doer’ to bring ideas to life

Creative people can have dual personalities: the “thinker” who comes up with bright ideas and the “doer” who puts plans into action. How can you help them work together effectively? Follow these steps:

- Record your revelations. When an idea strikes in the middle of a task, don’t stop what you’re doing so you can ponder your brainstorm. Instead, keep a notebook where you can record sudden inspirations to review at a more appropriate time.
- Take time to think. Set aside some time each day when you can forget about performing tasks and quietly focus on shaping your ideas.
- Conduct a weekly review. Bring the thinker and doer together each week to decide how to turn vision into reality. Review your ideas, then create action steps to ensure they come to fruition.

Take the risk of being creative

Creativity is a risky business. Your best ideas may get shot down—or never even make it into the air. If your worries are interfering with your ability to find creative solutions to problems, keep this advice in mind:

- Practice. Don’t wait for the pressure of a crisis to start flexing your creativity. Envision some possible scenarios where you’d have to think fast to find a solution. When real problems arise, you’ll be better prepared to deal with them.
- Seek feedback. Look for people who can help you evaluate your ideas fairly. They should challenge you, not just say, “Great idea!” This will help keep your thinking sharp.
- Take small risks. Get used to uncertainty by using your imagination when the risks are minimal. You’ll build confidence as you learn what works and what doesn’t.
- Search for data. Be on the lookout for all the information you can gather about the problem you’re trying to solve—and about your organization and industry. The more facts you have, the better the creative decisions you’ll make.

When you’re heartbroken, you’re at your most creative—you have to channel all your energies into something else to not think about it.

—Florence Welch

Did You Know That July is Also...

Independent Retailer Month. Support and celebrate independent retailers across the country. Independent Retailer Month encourages consumers to shop at independent retailers in their communities, highlighting their positive social and economic impact local, nationally, and globally.

National Black Family Month. During this month, African-American families celebrate their connection, common heritage, and commitment to one another. Families around the nation seek to implement positive changes, connect through old traditions, create new ones, and participate in activities that can be continued throughout the year.

Parks and Recreation Month. Sponsored by the National Recreation and Park Association, the leading nonprofit organization dedicated to the advancement of public parks, recreation and conservation. Discover wildlife and outdoor fun at your local park.

Captive Nations Week, July 7-13. A week aimed at raising public awareness of the oppression of nations under the control of Communist and other nondemocratic governments. Begun in 1953, it was signed into law by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1959.

Sports Cliché Week, July 10-16. It's time to celebrate—or possibly get rid of—such common sports clichés as “We’re taking it one game at a time,” “He gave 110 percent,” “Step it up,” and more.

National Zoo Keeper Week, July 17-23. Sponsored by the American Association of Zoo Keepers to advance excellence in the animal keeping profession, foster effective communication beneficial to animal care, support deserving conservation projects, and promote the preservation of our natural resources and animal life.

World UFO Day, July 2. Look to the skies for evidence of alien visitors.

Independence Day, July 4. Celebrate the birthday of the United States of America.

Global Forgiveness Day, July 7. Begun in 1994 to help people around the world identify with their personal need to forgive and be forgiven.

Space Exploration Day, July 20. Neil Armstrong and Edwin “Buzz” Aldrin first walked on the moon on this day in 1969.

World Ranger Day, July 31. Sponsored by the International Ranger Federation to celebrate the work rangers do to protect wildlife.

Stories to tell your grandkids

Most children enjoy hearing their grandparents tell stories. You can captivate your grandchildren for hours at a time with some of these tales that are certain to pique their interest:

- How their grandparents met. Did you meet your future wife in grade school? Did you initially dislike the man you eventually married? Children are often curious about how people in their lives ended up together—and they’ll like the joy they see in your eyes as you talk about your enduring love.
- The day their parents were born. Kids usually like hearing about their parents. Describe in detail what happened the day their father or mother was born: what time they came, what you were hearing, who helped out, and most important—how you felt.
- The day they were born. Do the same with a story about your grandchild’s birth. What preparations did you make? What did you expect? When did you first see your grandchild? What did he or she look like?
- School days. School has changed a lot since you were a child. Talk about what your typical day was like. Describe your favorite teacher. Discuss challenges you had. Tell children what life in a classroom was like without computers, DVDs, and other modern technology they take for granted.
- First jobs. Talk about the restaurant where you washed dishes, or the shop where you stocked shelves. Tell children about your best and worst bosses, experiences helping customers, and what you learned from each position.
- Proudest achievements. Think back to the moments in your life when you felt proud. You’ll teach your grandchildren to try hard, never quit, and take pride in their accomplishments.

The water cure

A man went to the doctor because he had no energy. After asking a few questions, the doctor wrote a series of prescriptions.

“Now,” she told the patient. “I want you to take the red pill with two glasses of water in the morning, the yellow pill with two glasses of water at lunch, and the green pill will three glasses of water before you go to bed.”

“Wow,” the man sighed. “What do the pills do?”

“Nothing. You’re not drinking enough water.”

Pacific weather may signal heat waves

We don't usually expect weather forecasters to predict temperatures more than a few days ahead of time, but some meteorologists think they may soon be able to forecast periods of extreme heat up to 50 days in advance.

According to the U.S. News & World Report website, when a certain Pacific Ocean region experiences an extreme mixture of temperatures (unusually warm in the south and unnaturally cold in the northeast), a condition called the Pacific Extreme Pattern signals the likelihood of a heat wave to one in four 50 days in advance, and one in two at 40 days. If true, such forecasts could help farmers, cities, and utilities plan for dangerous conditions.

White dwarf is one of its kind

Astronomers have located a white dwarf star that seemingly breaks the rules. A white dwarf is formed when a dying star flings off most of its gaseous body into space, leaving behind a hot, exposed core. Most retain an atmosphere of hydrogen and helium, with heavier elements like oxygen and carbon sinking deep to the center of what's left of the star.

But the Science News website reports that scientists have discovered a white dwarf in the Draco constellation, some 1,200 light-years away, with an atmosphere that's rich in oxygen—affording astronomers a clear look into the interior of the body that they haven't had before.

One theory is that another nearby star might have pulled gas—and mass—from the star as it decayed, leaving the oxygen behind. Another explanation is that a heavy layer of hydrogen might have triggered a massive thermonuclear explosion and ripped off the white dwarf's outer layers.

This is the only white dwarf of its kind observed so far—but exceptions can help scientists understand the rules behind how the universe runs.

We are trying to prove ourselves wrong as quickly as possible, because only in that way can we find progress.

—Richard Feynman

Advice from the A-List

Celebrities aren't necessarily smarter than the rest of us, but their success speaks for itself. Here's what they have to say about achieving success in any endeavor:

- Leonardo DiCaprio, actor: "I've been very lucky to have achieved a lot of the things that I dreamt of achieving as a young man. But at the end of the day—and I truly believe this—it is not about achieving great wealth or success, because they don't bring happiness ultimately. They really don't. What matters is whether or not you've fulfilled the idea of having led an interesting life, whether you've contributed in some way to the world around you."
- Beyoncé, singer: "The reality is, sometimes you lose. And you're never too good to lose, you're never too big to lose, you're never too smart to lose; it happens. And it happens when it needs to happen. And you have to embrace those things."
- Justin Timberlake, singer: "I like being a beginner. I like the moment where I can look at everyone and say, 'I have no idea how to do this. Let's figure it out.'"
- Chris Pine, actor: "Fear runs our lives. It doesn't matter who you are. You have to understand your relationship with fear. Whether you're scared of getting into a relationship or taking the new job or a confrontation—you have to size fear up."
- Ellen DeGeneres, talk show host: "Never follow anyone else's path, unless you're in the woods and lost and you see a path. Then, by all means, follow that path."

Succeed with kindness—and these kindly tips

Nice people can finish first. The key is knowing how to use kindness to your advantage. Practice these habits until they become second nature:

- First, be kind to yourself. You'll find being nice to others easier if you build your self-respect with positive thoughts about your personality and achievements.
- Treat everyone with respect. Don't worry about who's on top. Treat everyone the way you want to be treated, regardless of their position or job title.
- Say no when necessary. You can't do everything. But when you do say no, be polite and positive.
- Plant seeds of kindness. Do something nice every day even when your kindness may not have an immediate payoff.
- Complete this statement: "If I were a better person I would _____." Then act on it.
