PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Park 1 Association Secretary

Once again fate intervened and Lake Haven was spared from most of the damage Hurricane Hermine wreaked. Leaky roofs had a few of us setting out buckets to catch the drips or mopping up with towels but consider ourselves lucky and won't complain. Local lore is that Lake Haven was built on sacred Indian burial grounds thus protected from harm. Every time potential danger passes over us I become more convinced that this is not lore but fact.

After days – weeks – months actually of rain, our umbrellas got a brief respite as sunny skies replaced the clouds and people were actually out and about riding bikes or walking pets. Of course after all that rain the weeds grew and grew and must be attacked and destroyed so that we no longer feel as though we are living in a jungle.

In spite of a brief evening deluge, Denny Wolff and Chuck Oller did their normal outstanding job hosting the Labor Day Cookout. However, both Terri Jo and Chuck Oller got completely soaked as the roof overhang provided only minimal protection – but thankfully the burgers and brats they were cooking stayed dry on the BBQ grill.

With the arrival of September activities are slowly getting back to normal. The bingo players are elated that games are now on a regular weekly schedule, and wii bowling will commence as soon as the TV is mounted and secured. Sadly pool time is winding down, not that the weather allowed us much opportunity to enjoy it this summer.

It brought back memories of the past when Carolyn Bailey decided to host a Pancake Breakfast. I remember when this was a monthly affair accompanied by an amusing skit provided by the Lake Haven Players. Thank you, Carolyn, for this special treat – love the fragrance of 'cakes and sausage in the morning.....what a way to start the day.

Kendra Perenyi and Terri Jo Oller are hosting the October pot luck dinner. As always, sign up so they know how many to cook for. It is a great help when you indicate what side dish you are bringing – this gives us a better chance to eat a well-balanced meal rather than just an entrée and five kinds of dessert with no veggies or salad.....not that I mind, but some folks are fussy.

Don't miss out on our annual Italian Night Dinner on Saturday, October 22. We've been hosting this for three or four years now so it has become a tradition. Your $8 ticket provides your beverage, several entrees, salad, and dessert. There's no better deal in town, so join us for this festive occasion. As always, tickets are available from Janel Balogh in Lot #41. She has a busy schedule so it might be best to call first; her number is in the Lake Haven directory.

The HOA board of directors held their quarterly meeting with ELS Regional and Park management. The park presidents will update residents in local Association Meetings.

TREASURE COVE UPDATE

Bob Baker, Park 2 Association Treasurer

HAPPY HALLOWEEN, October 31st

If you walk through Lake Haven park tonight,
You're sure of a big surprise.
If you walk through the park tonight,
You'd better go in disguise.

For every ghost that ever there was,
May gather by the lake because,
Tonight's the night they haunt the place
And look for eerie applause.

And, if you see a witch upon a big stick,
A riding through the air,
She'll fly around,
Then drop to the ground,
And give you an awful scare!

If you walk through Lake Haven park tonight,
You'd better not go alone.
Be careful as you pass the vacant coaches.
It's safer to stay at home.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN, October 31st

PLEASE NOTE: Our association dinner this month only will be on the 4th Sunday (September 23rd) at 5:30 pm. Our monthly potluck dinner will be at 5:30 pm on the first Sunday as usual.

It's good to see ELS bringing in new homes. Let's welcome all new residents, be they home owners or renters, and invite them to our Park 2 Association activities.

Although Tropical Storm (and then Hurricane) Hermine Isaac in late August brought us days of rain and gusty winds as it passed by Dunedin. For whatever reason, we fared better than those to the north, south and east of us. Count your blessings and remember in your prayers those who have lost their homes due to flooding and fallen trees. Do not become complacent about these storms. Next time it could be us.

New residents may not know that there are dumpsters behind the club house in Park 1 for the use of all Lake Haven Residents. Thanks, though, go to the residents in Park 1 who have landscaped that area and when needed sweep and clean up to keep the area looking presentable. You can help when putting things in the dumpsters by picking up anything you may drop.

This month, our “winter only residents, should begin to return. It will be good to see them. With that in mind, Park 2 Association President, Bob Scott, has again called our monthly association meetings to develop plans for the next six months or so. The meetings will be on the first Monday night of each month at 7:00 p. m. in Club House 2. The meeting last month was cancelled because only six members showed up. It will also soon be time to elect our officers and directors for 2017. Please talk to Bob Scott if you’d like to serve on the Board of Directors for next year either as an officer or as a director.

I want to again remind everyone to save any clean and usable household items, dishes, books, jewelry, clothes etc. that you can’t use or no longer want. Our annual White Elephant Sale, to enhance the association treasury, will be in March and we need items for the sale. It’s the monies raised from this once a year sale that pay for most of our activities and lets us keep our membership dues low. Please contact Bob Scott If you have larger items that need to be picked up and stored until the sale.

Again, I remind everyone to look out for the ghosts and goblins of Lake Haven Halloween night. You may scare them away by saying “Boo!” or “Go away” but if that doesn’t work, try one of these from The Book of Random Oddities by Laurence Sterne:

Make like a tree – leave!

Make like a banana – split!

Make like a bakery truck – move your buns!

Make like a nut – and bolt!

Make like a dog – and flea!

Make like a jacket – and zip!

Make like a tire – hit the road!

Make like rain – get the hail out of here!

Make like a river – and run!

Good luck, maybe one of these will work for you.

GREAT GUANA CAY UPDATE

Linda Parker, Park 3 Association President

WOW! October already. The rain should subside soon and we will start enjoying one of the very best months of the entire year. Many of our friends from “up North” will start showing up in the days to come, and Park III will suddenly be a very active place. We have spent the past few months getting ready for an active and fun filled season. In just one month the fun begins all over again. We have an extensive calendar of events that include a lot of great food and drink, some dancing, a lot of partying and mostly just meeting and visiting with new and old friends. It’s funny how old folks somehow have more fun than younger ones, and everyone knows that the best fun is at Park III. Get ready! If you are new to Park III, you are in going to find out how much fun it is to live in Park III. It is our hope that many of our new residents join the Park III Association, and keep in mind, any single event is worth far more than the $10.00 membership fee.

We will begin our membership drive in early November. We have included a separate sheet which shows our calendar of events for the coming year. Post it somewhere so that you can see it often, so you won’t miss a single event. We look forward to seeing you at the first Park III Association Meeting on November 2, 2016 at 10:00 AM. Don’t forget to check your information tubes!

Check medical bills with care

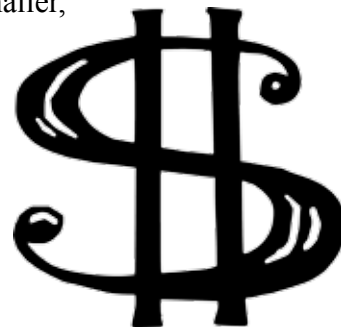

Dealing with health insurance claims can be frustrating and time-consuming. Multiple bills from different departments for what seems like one medical procedure can baffle even the most organized consumer. The key is to keep track of insurance claims and keep detailed records. Follow this advice:

- Review records. Verify that the medical provider has the correct billing information. Also, check the identification or group number of your insurance plan on claim forms.
- Follow up to be sure the claim is being processed. Contact the provider or insurer after receiving a bill to confirm receipt. Write down the names of everyone you speak to, noting the date of the call and any available confirmation numbers.
- Verify all the expenses. Check to see if you are being billed twice. Similarly, verify that the contracted rate between the insurer and the provider is actually what you are being billed for.

Revamp your finances to save more money

If you can figure out how to save just $125 per month, then set up an automatic savings to a mutual fund that yields an average of 7 percent, in five years you will have almost $9,000. In 20 years, that amount will have grown to $65,000! Here are four suggestions for coming up with that $125 per month:

- Look at your cable TV bill. Do you need all those channels? You can roll your bill back by getting rid of premium channels or subscribing to a smaller, cheaper package.
- Stop picking up magazines from the supermarket or newsstand. Save yourself some money by reading online or subscribing to your favorite magazine instead. And if you're subscribing to anything you don't read, cancel it.
- Change your cell service. Shopping around can get you a better deal that will save you bucks. Just make sure you won't be penalized for breaking a contract early.
- Call your credit card company. You may be able to get a lower interest rate just by asking.

Some challenges spur imagination and success

Imagination performs best when it's challenged. Perfect freedom leaves the imagination listless, and whatever is created is lifeless as well. Only when a challenge presents itself does the imagination perk up. How can the problem be solved? What other paths could you follow?

Take for example, American writer Flannery O'Connor. She was stricken with lupus erythematosus in her mid-20s. She spent almost all of her life (she died at age 39) on her family's farm. But as the disease made movement more and more difficult, it also pushed her to sit at her typewriter every day and write. The stories she churned out are full of wild imaginings and a great spirit of hope.

Just listen

A man whose marriage was in trouble sought advice from his minister. The minister heard the man out and then said, "You must learn to listen to your wife."

The man took this advice to heart, but he returned a month later to say the marriage was still unhappy, even though he had learned to listen to every word his wife said.

The minister said with a smile, "Now go home, and listen to every word she isn't saying."

Learn to let go

A little boy was playing one day with a very valuable vase. When he put his hand inside it and couldn't draw it back out, he called for his mother. His mother tried gently to slide his hand free, but it remained stuck.

She was ready to break the vase when she said, "OK, let's try one more time. Open your hand and hold your fingers out straight, and then pull."

"Oh, no, mommy!" the boy cried. "If I do that, I'll drop my penny!"

Storytellers have as profound a purpose as any who are charged to guide and transform human lives.

—Nancy Mellon

From our family to your family

Morton Plant Hospital got its start in 1914 when several local women asked railroad magnate Morton F. Plant to fund a hospital. He agreed, if the community would also make a substantial contribution. They took the challenge and the hospital opened in 1916. Throughout the years, the hospital and its physicians served the community, and the community gave back, ensuring that generations of families would be able to count on the compassionate, quality care provided by Morton Plant Hospital.

One of the most noteworthy hospitals in the nation, Morton Plant Hospital was founded because a community cared. And 100 years later, one thing remains the same — our commitment to caring for your family.

The new Doyle Tower at Morton Plant Hospital, scheduled to be completed in 2017. Another example of how the community gave back.

Try these tips for better napping

Sleep is important to your health, and regular naps can make a positive difference. One Harvard study found that people who nap at least three times a week for a half hour or more have a much lower risk of heart disease. Other studies suggest that a 40-minute nap can improve performance on the job.

So what's the best way to nap? The Science of Us website summarized the findings of different studies. First, try to sleep for at least an hour to get a deeper sleep, even though shorter naps have positive benefits as well. Second, lie down for your nap; you'll wake up feeling more alert than if you sleep sitting up in a chair.

Finally, nap in the morning if possible. You're more likely to get REM sleep because your brain still craves it from the night before. Although, on the other hand, afternoon naps tend to be more restorative and improve memory.

Chest pain? Worry—but don't panic

You're having chest pains. Should you rush to the hospital? Although you shouldn't ignore the pains, don't panic. According to an article on the Medline Plus website, fewer than 6 percent of chest pains are symptoms of a heart attack. That's the good news. The bad news is that doctors usually can't determine the cause of chest pains, and they can be evidence of a serious illness.

Researchers studied a database containing records of emergency room visits, looking at 11,000 cases of chest pain unrelated to other trauma. They found that only 5.5 percent of patients suffered from life-threatening ailments. The most common diagnosis was simply "non-specific chest pain," accounting for more than five in 10 patients complaining of discomfort.

Chest pains cause more than 8 million trips to emergency rooms each year, second only to abdominal pains.

Heart health improving for Americans

Americans are taking better care of their hearts, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. According to a study published in the American Journal of Preventive Medicine, the rate of heart disease in Americans over 40 dropped to 8 percent in 2011-12, down from 10 percent in 2001-02. Among Americans 60 and older, the rate dropped from 19.5 percent to 15 percent in the same time frames. The researchers found no significant change either way in Americans 40-59 years old, however.

One factor influencing the improvement was having access to health insurance, according to the study. Better management of risk factors like high blood pressure, cholesterol, smoking, weight, and diabetes probably contributed to the decline, the report suggested.

Go for the quick laugh

Jokes don't have to be longwinded. Try these one-liners out on your friends:

- I sold my vacuum cleaner—all it was doing was gathering dust.
- I give all my dead batteries away—free of charge.
- I hate elevators, so I take steps to avoid them.
- I know a man who drinks brake fluid. But he says he can stop any time.
- When will all the rhetorical questions end?
- Women really should not have children after 35. After all, 35 children are enough.
- It's hard to explain puns to kleptomaniacs because they always take things literally.
- A hard-boiled egg in the morning is hard to beat.
- There are only 10 types of people in the world—those who understand binary and those who don't.

Hot tip

A man was watching TV one night when his wife walked up behind him and smacked him on the back of the head with a newspaper.

“What was that for?” he demanded.

“I was doing the laundry and I found a piece of paper folded up in your back pocket with the name ‘Carol Anne’ written on it,” she said.

“Oh, honey,” the man said. “I was at the track the other day and a guy gave me a hot tip on a horse named ‘Carol Anne.’ I won $50.”

Unconvinced, the wife said, “All right, then,” and went back to the laundry.

Two nights later the husband was watching TV again when the phone rang. A minute later, his wife walked up behind him and once again hit him with the newspaper. “What are you doing?”

“The phone call? That was your horse.”

Get your imagination going when you paint

You don't have to be a Picasso to find satisfaction and enjoyment in creating art. When you're searching for ideas or subjects to paint, consider these approaches:

- Seek inspiration. Spend some looking at art—paintings, sculpture, drawings. Listen to music to stimulate your creative juices.
- Start small. If you're hesitant, or blocked, don't tackle a big art project. Start with something small and easy. Work on one section of a painting you're planning, and don't think of the rest of the project. You'll accomplish something concrete, and your success may give you the momentum you need to continue.
- Switch things around. If you usually paint or draw horizontally, switch to vertical. Instead of painting what you see, paint what you feel. If you draw with your right hand, try switching to your left. A small change can make a big difference.
- Try an exercise. Pick a common saying: "Once in a blue moon," for instance. Draw or paint what the saying means to you. What kind of rare occurrence springs to your mind? How would the world look under blue moonlight? Choose other clichés and catchphrases to illustrate, and you'll keep your perceptions sharper.

Fear criticism? Do it anyway

The cliché that you can't please everyone is a simple lesson on dealing with criticism. You'll always have detractors, so you may as well follow your heart and do what's right.

That's what Julia Butterfly Hill learned. Hill made headlines a couple of years ago when she climbed into a California redwood and lived there for two years to protest logging in the ancient woods. After she came down, she wrote a book about her experience, The Legacy of Luna (Luna is the name she gave to her tree home).

Then came publicity—and criticism from loggers whose livelihood she was curtailing and environmentalists who accused her of selling out.

"For every action, there's an equal and opposite criticism," Hill said. So do it anyway.

Gas giant found orbiting two stars could host life

A Jupiter-size planet in the habitable zone of two suns may have moons capable of supporting life, scientists say. Kepler-1647b is 3,700 light-years from Earth, and its two parent stars are about the size and age of our sun. It's a gas giant without a solid surface, the largest planet discovered in a two-star system, and it orbits the stars in 1,107 days.

As the MSN website reports, almost half of all sun-like stars discovered exist in binary systems. Most of their planets are closer to the size of Saturn and circle relatively closer to their parent stars, not in the zone where liquid water could exist. The discovery of Kepler-1647b by the Kepler space telescope suggests that other such Tatooine-like worlds (after Luke Skywalker's home in the Star Wars movies) could be waiting elsewhere in the universe.

Volcanoes on Mars? Maybe

The Curiosity rover has made an unexpected discovery on Mars that's making scientists re-examine what they know about the history of the red planet.

As reported on the ScienceDaily website, Curiosity drilled into a rock at a location on the Martian landscape known as "Buckskin," collecting powder that was analyzed by X-ray diffraction. Scientists identified the powder as tridymite, a silicate mineral.

What's surprising? Tridymite is associated with volcanism—which wasn't thought to be a feature of Mars. The discovery has scientists wondering whether active volcanoes were at one time present on Mars despite its lower temperature. Mars, it seems, is still full of surprises.

Science is not about control. It is about cultivating a perpetual condition of wonder in the face of something that forever grows one step richer and subtler than our latest theory about it. It is about reverence, not mastery.
