PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Association Secretary

Happy fall, y'all. Ask a northerner what their favorite color is and they often say "October" – the leaves are turning beautiful shades of red and gold, the air is cooler, and it's the month when pumpkin rules: pumpkin pie, pumpkin bread, pumpkin lattes, pumpkin-flavored – well, everything – and of course Jack-O-Lanterns for Halloween decoration. Welcome autumn – we're glad you are here.

Except for the few anxious days when Hurricane Dorian's path was uncertain, September was a rather quiet month. The weather remained in the 90s so there was a lot of activity at the pool (even though the water was warm) but it was way too hot to pull weeds or pursue outdoor activities. We had to postpone the Labor Day event so it morphed into a pot luck dinner on the following Saturday. Thanks to everyone who supported the event and especially to Deb Grant who did much of the clean-up.

With Lei & Richard and Steve & Jeanie traveling for several weeks, as of the publication deadline we had not locked-in on October Association-sponsored activities. For certain, seasonal monthly Association meetings will start in October, so if you are a Paradise Island resident, we invite you to attend on Saturday, October 5th; coffee and donuts at 8:30AM (bring your coffee cup) – the meeting starts at 9:00AM. The monthly pot luck dinner is also on the 5th please sign up if you plan to attend; Association dues-paid members bring a side dish, guests pay $5 at the door. And, since it is Oktoberfest month, we will serve brots along with dogs on Hot Dog Night. Planned activities however are subject to clubhouse availability – hopefully the clubhouse interior will have been painted by the time you read this, but unfortunately things don't always go as planned, so remain flexible.

See you at the meeting – new residents, don't be shy - please come so we can get acquainted. And, a very special "welcome back" to our seasonal residents.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN

Treasure Cove Goings-On

---

Hello All in Treasure Cove!

My how time flies! Another month behind us, but the beautiful month of October is here... bringing us some beautiful weather. We all can feel the humidity easing up, and the cool night air – Perfect! And even though we don't get a dramatic change in our landscape here in Florida in the Fall, the flowers start to bloom again, which is so beautiful.

Our Christmas and Mardi Gras dates have been selected and the entertainment booked, so now it is time to get to planning our other events, so watch your tubes.

If you are new to the Park 2, Welcome! We look forward to meeting you!

Notes from the Board of Treasure Cove

- Park 2 Clubhouse painting is complete. A new Cork Board is on order and will be put up on arrival. Management has furniture location being changed, so upon completion is will be pretty much the same as Park 3, which is complete, if you want to go take a look. From what I understand, the ceiling fans will be replaced as well, but the timing on that project is not yet defined.
  - o Management has asked to keep from putting extra furniture, etc. in the clubhouse with the exception of tables/chairs/piano/storage cabinets & cork board. They have asked us to remove a side chair & the ping pong table – these items will go into our White Elephant Sale – if interested in either just let any of the board know.
- For your information, the pool is on a Maintenance Schedule defined by Management, and after a conversation with the Pool Maintenance Crew, any type of Maintenance/Cleaning needed to be done is always completed.... It will help keep the pool clean between visits if you wash off any tanning oils, etc. before you go into the pool, there are showers around the South Corner of the Clubhouse.

Well folks there's hardly any.

The highly-anticipated Parker prepared Membership promotion dinner was, as usual, a great success. Some folks have said Mike and Linda should consider a catering business.

Not a bad idea!!!

The Monday/Thursday Aqua Aerobic sessions are growing in popularity. Richard (Noodleobergruppenfuhrer) Lilley is now leading folks from all three parks.

Friends from cooler climes are beginning to arrive – Welcome Back!!!

Mark your calendars – First General Meeting 11/6 at 10:00 am. Donuts and coffee available.

And – that's about it.

Monthly

Adopt a Dog Month. American Humane celebrates “Adopt a Dog Month” each October to help the estimated 3-4 million animals waiting in shelters every year get the loving, forever homes they deserve. Be a hero this month and adopt a dog from your local shelter or rescue group. You’ll be saving his or her life and greatly improving your own.

Eye Injury Prevention Month. Experts say that more than 90% of eye injuries can be prevented by wearing protective eyewear and taking other simple precautions. The American Academy of Ophthalmologists sponsors Eye Injury Prevention Month every October to reinforce the importance of preventing accidents and injury.

National Bullying Protection Month. Every day thousands of young people experience bullying from their peers while at school, after school, and at home through social media. There are many ways to support bullying prevention as an individual, with friends and family, and with your school or community. Go to the National Bullying Prevention Center for information and resources: <https://www.pacer.org/bullying/>

Weekly

National Walk Your Dog Week, Oct. 1–7. Forty percent of dogs—about 17 million in the United States alone—are overweight. If you walk your dog just 30 minutes a day, you (and your dog) will meet national recommendations for heart health. Make the pledge to start walking your dog at least 30 minutes a day for a week—and beyond.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6–12. In a typical home fire, you may have as little as one to two minutes from the time the smoke alarm sounds to escape safely. Escape planning and practice can help you make the most of the time you have, giving everyone enough time to get out.

Earth Science Week, Oct. 13–19. The American Geosciences Institute has organized this national and international event to help the public gain a better understanding and appreciation for Earth sciences and to encourage stewardship of the Earth. This year’s Earth Science Week will celebrate the theme, “Geo-science is for Everyone.”

National Massage Therapy Awareness Week, Oct. 20–26. Years of research support the efficacy of massage therapy for the treatment of many health issues. These include massage therapy for chronic pain management, behavioral health treatment, rehabilitation/physical training, and acute medical conditions.

Collateral

During the Depression of the 1930s, an old farmer went to a bank to apply for a $500 loan.

“What are you going to do with the money?” the banker asked as he pulled out the loan application.

“Plant more soybeans,” the farmer responded.

“What have you got for collateral?”

“What’s collateral?”

“That’s something of value that would cover the cost of the loan. Have you got any vehicles?”

“Yes, a Model T Ford,” replied the farmer.

The banker shook his head, “How about livestock?”

“I have a horse.”

“How old is it?” the banker asked.

“Don’t know. It’s blind and doesn’t have any teeth,” the farmer said.

It didn’t seem like a good idea, but the banker liked the old man, so he decided to make the $500 loan.

Several months later the farmer was back in the bank. “I’m here to pay.” He handed the banker $500.

“What are you going to do with the rest of the money you made?” the banker asked.

“I’ll hide it in my mattress,” replied the farmer.

“Why don’t you deposit it in my bank?”

“How does that work?”

The banker smiled. “You put the money in our bank, and we take care of it for you.

Whenever you want to use it, you can withdraw it.”

The farmer leaned across the desk. “What you got for collateral?”

One-liners

Try these zingers at your next party:

- My dog used to chase people on a bike a lot. It got so bad. I had to take his bike away.
- I’m so good at sleeping, I can do it with my eyes closed.
- My boss told me to have a good day. So I went home.
- A woman walks into a library and asks if they have any books about paranoia. The librarian whispers, “They’re right behind you!”
- What did the pirate say when he turned 80 years old? “Aye matey!”
- Why did the old man fall in the well? Because he couldn’t see that well.
- A blind man walks into a bar. And a table. And a chair.
- I know a lot of jokes about unemployed people, but none of them work.
- My wife accused me of being immature. I told her to get out of my pillow fort.
- I ate a clock yesterday. It was time consuming.

What's happening to the monarchs?

Monarch butterflies are dying off at a potentially devastating rate, the UPI website reports, and scientists are scrambling to figure out why—and what to do.

In North America, the monarch population that migrates between the U.S. Midwest and Mexico has dropped from around 1 billion in the 1990s to 200 million in 2018, experts estimate. Another monarch population that migrates between California and the Pacific Northwest is suffering a more alarming decline—from 1.2 million in the 1990s to only 30,000 in 2018, a drop of 98%.

The cause is unknown. Some scientists speculate that climate change is disrupting migration patterns. Others theorize that urban sprawl is destroying the flowering plants that monarchs rely on. Another explanation is that the Mexican forests where the butterflies spend their winters are being overlogged.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is engaged in a study to determine whether monarchs should be covered by the Endangered Species Act. The results of the study are expected in 2020—but scientists worry that could be too late.

New material recharges devices as you walk

Soon you may be able to recharge your smartphone by taking a walk, the Science Daily website reports. Scientists at the Chinese University of Hong Kong are developing an “energy harvester” that attaches to the knee, generating 1.6 microwatts of energy when the wearer walks at a normal pace, enough to power small devices like health monitors and GPS devices.

Scientists designed a special smart macrofiber material that generates energy from bending. The constant back-and-forth motion every time the knee flexes makes the device bend, creating electricity.

A prototype weighing just 0.68 pounds was tested on people walking at one to four miles per hour. Measurement of the wearers’ breathing patterns with and without the device showed that it worked without any extra effort on the part of the walker. The device could enable users to stop worrying about the daily charge.

I believe it to be of particular importance that the scientist have an articulate and adequate social philosophy, even more important than the average man should have a philosophy.

—Percy W. Bridgman

How do you like your pizza?

Pizza may be many people's favorite food, but it's not without controversy. Take, for example, the debate about pineapple and anchovies. The Food&Wine website reports on a survey by Slice, a pizza ordering platform, in which consumers were asked to rate different toppings.

With more than 9,000 responses to Slice's poll of customers, pineapple emerged as the least popular topping, rejected by 54% who said it shouldn't be considered a topping at all. Anchovies turned out to have some fans, though, principally in East Coast states. Delaware is where they're most popular—63% of residents there are willing to include them in their order, but only 1% of Kansans would do the same thing.

One thing many people agreed on, however, was breakfast. The survey found that 53% of respondents would prefer a slice of cold pizza for breakfast over juice and eggs.

Support for electric cars building

Are you ready for an electric car? If so, you've got plenty of company. According to the CleanTechnica website, a survey of 1,659 Americans planning to buy a new car in the next two years have a strong interest in electric vehicles. Thirty-one percent said they'd consider an electric vehicle for their next purchase, and 27% would think about it further in the future. Five percent said they'd definitely buy or lease one for their next vehicle.

Other findings from survey participants:

- Seventy-three percent believe increased electric cars will help reduce oil use.
- Seventy-two percent said auto manufacturers should provide a wider range of electric vehicles, including SUVs, pickup trucks, and minivans.
- Seventy-two said they think increased electric car use will help reduce pollution.
- Sixty-five percent believe electric cars will help save money on fuel and maintenance.

Pet insurance on the rise

The North American Pet Health Insurance Association reports that total premiums for pet insurance have hit a new level, reaching $1.42 billion in 2018.

In the United States, pet insurance increased 18% for 2.43 million pets. In Canada, the rate grew 10.9% for 277,000 pets. The most common coverage was for accident and illness plans. Accident and illness premiums for dogs came in at $566 yearly in the U.S., and $734 in Canada. For cats, the U.S. premium was $354, and the Canadian rate was $400.

The little puppy

A shop owner placed a sign above his door that said, “Puppies for sale.” Signs like this always have a way of attracting young children, and soon a boy saw the sign and approached the owner. “How much are you going to sell the puppies for?” he asked.

The store owner replied, “Anywhere from $30 to $50.”

The little boy pulled out some change from his pocket. “I have $2.37,” he said. “Can I please look at them?”

The shop owner smiled and whistled. Out of the kennel came Lady, who ran down the aisle of his shop followed by five teeny, tiny balls of fur.

One puppy was lagging considerably behind. Immediately the little boy singled out the lagging, limping puppy and said, “What’s wrong with that little dog?”

The shop owner explained that the veterinarian had examined the little puppy and had discovered it didn’t have a hip socket. It would always limp. It would always be lame.

The little boy became excited. “That is the puppy that I want to buy. I’ll give you $2.37 now, and 50 cents a month until I have him paid for.”

The shop owner countered, “You really don’t want to buy this little dog. He is never going to be able to run and jump and play with you like the other puppies.”

The little boy reached down and rolled up his pant leg to reveal a badly twisted left leg supported by a big metal brace. He looked up at the shop owner and replied, “I don’t run so well myself, and the little puppy will need someone who understands.”

A recipe for success

A sixth-grade girl was running for secretary of her elementary school class. A major part of her campaign was a speech to be given to her classmates, but she had no idea what to say. She asked her mother for ideas.

“Well, you love to cook,” her mom said. “Why don’t you look in a cookbook?”

It was the stupidest idea she’d ever heard, but, desperate, the young girl followed her mother’s advice. Then, flipping through the pages, it hit her: Why not write a recipe for what would make a good class secretary? Two cups of good handwriting, one cup of dependability, and so on.

She won the election. But she also learned to look in unusual places for creative solutions.

No story lives unless someone wants to listen. The stories we love best do live in us forever.

Watch for the mental health risks of your social media use

Social media can help you keep in touch with friends and family, but it's not always beneficial to your mental health. It's been linked to depression, low self-esteem, social anxiety, and other problems. How can you stay sane online? The Philadelphia Inquirer website offers these suggestions:

- Limit your use of social media. Don't let Facebook, Twitter, and other social media platforms dominate your life or interrupt your interactions with people in the real world. Put your smartphone down during mealtimes, and don't take it to bed with you. Take breaks from social media from time to time to reduce its hold on you.

- Pay attention to your emotions. Think about why you're scrolling down the screen and how what you see and read makes you feel. Are you genuinely enjoying the experience? Do you find yourself getting depressed or angry? Are you checking social media because you want to find out something, or just from habit? Be mindful about your social media use so you can control it instead of letting it control you.

- Prioritize your real-world relationships. Make a point of spending time with your family and friends in person, not just online. From time to time, go through your list of friends and contacts and eliminate those who are no longer relevant to your life.

Two hours a week in nature boosts well-being

Staying healthy isn't all about exercise and diet—as important as they are. An article on the Science News website suggests that spending just two hours a week in nature is crucial to your health and well-being.

A study of data from 20,000 people in England, conducted by the University of Exeter, found that folks who spend 120 minutes a week out in nature tend to report significantly better health and psychological well-being than those who don't commune with nature at all in a typical week, or who spend less than two hours outside in parks, woodlands, and beaches.

Your two hours don't have to happen all at once, either. The findings showed that the benefits accrued in both one single visit or several short periods. The benefits also were evident across the board regardless of gender, age, ethnicity, financial status, and disability.

The bottom line: Get outside now, and you'll feel better soon.

The best six doctors anywhere, and no one can deny it, are sunshine, water, rest, air, exercise, and diet.

Health insurance decisions can be confusing due to endless coverage changes and many policy types. Fortunately, there is someone who can work diligently to help and without cost to you – Michael Crotts, owner of Best Plan Choice.

Through his own healthcare experience Mr. Crotts learned the value of good health coverage and quality medical care. He dedicates his agency to helping people with Medicare and Medicaid needs. You can visit the office to learn about Medicare plan options or he will come to your home.

Every year your Medicare health plan coverage changes even if you do not change plans. Also, new products are introduced and many offer benefits beyond original Medicare and/or Medicaid plans. Baby Boomers had completely different insurance products during their working years. The indemnity and major medical policies are no longer the only choice and often do not meet the financial needs of consumers today.

Don't waste time trying to figure it out. Michael will sit with you and review all of the documents, and answer all of your questions. Most importantly, he will conduct a needs analysis to determine your individual needs – if you expect a hospitalization, use certain medicines, or want benefit like dental or vision – everything is taken into consideration.

Best Plan Choice is there to help you make the right choice and is available long after the policy is written. This means helping with doctor changes, plan questions, annual review of your benefits, and of course taking great care of any friend or family member you refer. At Best Plan Choice clients become friends, and friends become clients.
