Great News!

The LHRO Board of Directors recently approved the payoff of the SunTrust mortgage. On June 5th the payoff was completed and a new mortgage established. The Board will provide more details on the process and specifics about the new mortgage at a future board meeting later this year. A special thank you to Susan Zerbe and her financial team (Dusty Rhodes, Michel Bergeron, Doug Stewart) and Beth Carroll for all their hard work in making this a smooth transition and a very positive outcome for the Lake Highlander Community.

The Story of the Fourth of July

The Declaration of Independence

We celebrate American Independence Day on the Fourth of July every year. We think of July 4, 1776, as a day that represents the Declaration of Independence and the birth of the United States of America as an independent nation.

But July 4, 1776 wasn't the day that the Continental Congress decided to declare independence (they did that on July 2, 1776).

It wasn't the day we started the American Revolution either (that had happened back in April 1775).

And it wasn't the day Thomas Jefferson wrote the first draft of the Declaration of Independence (that was in June 1776). Or the date on which the Declaration was delivered to Great Britain (that didn't happen until November 1776). Or the date it was signed (that was August 2, 1776).

So what did happen on July 4, 1776?

The Continental Congress approved the final wording of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. They'd been working on it for a couple of days after the draft was submitted on July 2nd and finally agreed on all of the edits and changes.

July 4, 1776, became the date that was included on the Declaration of Independence, and the fancy handwritten copy that was signed in August (the copy now displayed at the National Archives in Washington, D.C.) It's also the date that was printed on the Dunlap Broadside, the original printed copies of the Declaration that were circulated throughout the new nation. So when people thought of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776 was the date they remembered.

In contrast, we celebrate Constitution Day on September 17th of each year, the anniversary of the date the Constitution was signed, not the anniversary of the date it was approved. If we'd followed this same approach for the Declaration of Independence we'd be celebrating Independence Day on August 2nd of each year, the day the Declaration of Independence was signed!

How did the Fourth of July become a national holiday?

For the first 15 or 20 years after the Declaration was written, people didn't celebrate it much on any date. It was too new and too much else was happening in the young nation. By the 1790s, a time of bitter partisan conflicts, the Declaration had become controversial. One party, the Democratic-Republicans, admired Jefferson and the Declaration. But the other party, the Federalists, thought the Declaration was too French and too anti-British, which went against their current policies.

By 1817, John Adams complained in a letter that America seemed uninterested in its past.

But that would soon change.

After the War of 1812, the Federalist party began to come apart and the new parties of the 1820s and 1830s all considered themselves inheritors of Jefferson and the Democratic-Republicans. Printed copies of the Declaration began to circulate again, all with the date July 4, 1776, listed at the top. The deaths of Thomas Jefferson and John Adams on July 4, 1826, may even have helped to promote the idea of July 4 as an important date to be celebrated.

Celebrations of the Fourth of July became more common as the years went on and in 1870, almost a hundred years after the Declaration was written, Congress first declared July 4 to be a national holiday as part of a bill to officially recognize several holidays, including Christmas. Further legislation about national holidays, including July 4, was passed in 1939 and 1941.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Submitted by Lynn Marro #256

---

We've all cooked a turkey, ham, or even a large chicken and have had a lot of leftover meat. Unless you just love eating the same thing for days, you might want to try this recipe. The original recipe calls for chicken, but I have also made it with leftover turkey and ham, and have substituted frozen, chopped spinach (thawed and drained) for the broccoli.

Impossibly Easy Chicken and Broccoli Pie

(Betty Crocker's Bisquick Cookbook)

1 10 oz. frozen chopped broccoli, thawed and drained

1 ½ cups shredded Cheddar cheese

1 cup cut-up cooked chicken

½ cup chopped onion

½ cup Original Bisquick

1 cup milk

½ t. salt

¼ t. pepper

2 eggs

-Heat oven to 400 degrees.

-Grease a 9x1¼" pie plate. Sprinkle broccoli, 1 cup of cheese, the chicken and onion in the pie plate.

-Stir remaining ingredient (except the remaining ½ cup cheese) until blended.

-Pour into pie plate.

-Bake 30 to 35 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

-Sprinkle remaining ½ cup cheese on top and bake for 1 to 2 minutes or until the cheese has melted.

-Let stand for 5 minutes before serving. Six servings

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

Keep Em Laughing

What's A Tupperware Party?

One evening after dinner, my five-year-old son Brian noticed that his mother had gone out. In answer to his questions, I told him, "Mommy is at a Tupperware party."

This explanation satisfied him for only a moment. Puzzled, he asked, "What's a Tupperware party, Dad?"

I've always given my son honest answers, so I figured a simple explanation would be the best approach. "Well, Brian," I said, "at a Tupperware party, a bunch of ladies sit around and sell plastic bowls to each other."

Brian nodded, indicating that he understood. Then he burst into laughter. "Come on, Dad," he said. "What is it really?"

Hurricane Preparations

The Atlantic hurricane season runs from June 1 to November 30.

This is a list of what you can do to prepare for a hurricane:

Check your disaster supplies kit. Your disaster supplies kit should contain the following:

1. Flashlights and several sets of batteries for each member of the family.
  2. Portable radio and batteries.
  3. Drinking Water. A supply of one gallon per person, per day for a minimum of three days.
  4. Non-perishable Food. A two-week supply is best.
  5. Special dietary foods.
  6. Non-electric can opener.
  7. Prescription medications. Always keep a two-week supply on hand.
  8. Infant supplies that include sterile water, diapers, ready formula, bottles, etc.
  9. Mosquito repellent.
  10. First aid kit including a first aid book, bandages, antiseptic, tape, compresses, aspirin and nonaspirin pain reliever, antidiarrhea medication and antacid.
  11. Distress flag and/or whistle.
  12. Toilet paper, paper towels and pre-moistened towelettes.
  13. Camera and film.
  14. Coolers. One to keep food and another to transport ice.
  15. Plastic tarp, roofing paper, nails, tools, etc.
  16. Plastic trash bags.
  17. Clean-up supplies including a mop, buckets, towels, disinfectant, etc.
  18. Water purification kit. Tablets, plain chlorine and iodine.
- If you evacuate take the supplies above and also take:
1. Personal hygiene items such as toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, etc.
  2. Extra clothing, shoes, eyeglasses, etc.
  3. Pillows, blankets, sleeping bags, cots or air mattresses, folding chairs or lawn chairs.
  4. Turn off electricity, water and gas.
  5. Lock windows and doors.
  6. Let relatives know where you are going.

Pay attention to news broadcasts. Keep a watchful eye on developing storms and their projected paths. Don't trust rumors.

Keep your car's gas tank FULL. Top the gas tank in your car off every couple of days. Lines get long, the gas supply becomes scarce and even non-existent the closer a storm gets to your area. Also, gas pumps do not operate without electricity and may not be available for days after a storm.

AUGUST AD DEADLINE - JULY 10, 2016

• Advertise BUY, SELL, TRADE ITEMS by sending copy & check to Monthly Media at P.O. Box 1023, Venice, FL 34284.

Water. You should have on hand at least one gallon of water per person, per day for at least three days, but preferably two weeks.

Non-perishable ready-to-eat foods that do not require refrigeration or cooking and little or no water. Examples: ready-to-eat canned meats and fruits; canned juices; milk; high energy foods including peanut butter, jelly, crackers, granola bars, trail mix; comfort foods including cookies, hard candy, instant coffee, tea, etc.

Prescription medication. You should have at least a two-week supply of your medications.

Make a PLAN and a LIST. Find out if you are in an evacuation zone. If you are, decide where you will go if you need to evacuate — a relative's house, a friend's house or perhaps a hotel. Make a list of articles you will need to take along if you have to evacuate (this includes your disaster supplies kit). If you plan on staying in your home, make a list of what supplies you will need for your disaster supplies kit.

Store valuables and documents in waterproof containers. This includes birth certificates and passports.

GET CASH! Banks and ATMs won't be in operation without power and few stores will be able to accept credit cards or personal checks. Think small bills, finding change for a $20-bill may be difficult.
