Get well:

Myrna Cashman has received our get well card after hearing of her recent breast cancer diagnosis. She will consult with her surgeon before deciding on schedule of treatment. All friends and neighbors have her in our thoughts and prayers.

Sympathy:

Danny Pizzuttillo (5N) was sent card in New Jersey after his mother passed away in late October after a long illness.

Joy Billis (9J) after hearing of her grandson's unexpected passing in Illinois.

Harry Furry (14-C) sent a card after hearing of his younger brother, George unexpectedly passed away after suffering a heart attack in Canada.

Please don't forget to send word of residents who are ill or grieving for a loved one. All it takes is a call or send an email. Thanks.

We have many friends in need of prayers for various serious medical conditions. Continue to pray for them all.

Send all news to Jane McHugh (14-H), 581-2664 or TJMAC39@aol.com. Weekly KK News is sent via email. Send note to the email address with KK NEWS in subject line. Your address will be added. Send email, IF you do not receiving this on Wednesdays let me know.

CAN RECYCLING

Doris Myers

Please remember to bring your rinsed and drained aluminum cans to 3-I. Rinse them and remove tabs, if possible. Turn them in separately. Tabs are given to Ronald McDonald House. Do not leave in Blue Bin. That's for recycling. Drop off at 3-I., even through the summer months. Thank you to all who help.

2016 BAZAAR REMINDER:

 It's never too early to remind yourself of our Annual Bazaar being held this January, 2016. Time to cleanse your jewelry box. Albertson's offering Knives and Cutting Boards as their promotion this fall. Please save stickers for Joyce Mistovich (11-0) to use in her Chinese Auction baskets. Give them to her at KK or drop off at coach. Thanks. New or re-gifting are also good ideas for these basket donations. Joyce and her crew does a beautiful job preparing these baskets which are real money maker for Bazaar.

EXERCISE TO STAY FIT & Barb Wakeham

Jeannie Bovee, Donna Schulz

Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:30 in our very own pool participants meet for exercise. Classes in pool, weather permitting. Tuesday and Thursday's at 9:00 inside clubhouse. Tuesday/Thursday starting a 9:30 Donna Schulz holds a low-impact exercise class. Following this class Barb Wakeham holds a Yoga class. You'll need a towel or mat for using on the floor. Try to be at clubhouse ready for these classes. There are Noodles and Water Weights to use for doing a variety of exercises to increase your strength and cardio system. All residents and their guests are welcome to participate in either type of class.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Dee Hall

Our group is concentrating on Christmas items and annual Bazaar items. Watch for announcement of Christmas sale during Tuesday Bingo and following KK on Wednesday. Bring any new ideas to share with the group. Come and enjoy while you're learning and having fun.

Veterans' Projects

Gil Himes, Ed Palka

Ed Palka (11-N) collects any MANUFACTURERS' COUPONS. These are usually in Sunday's St. Petersburg Times, Largo Leader and various magazines. All coupons are taken to Largo Elks Lodge #2159 for distribution to our troops stationed in Germany. They are honored six months AFTER their expiration date. Any coupons for baby products or something a new mother might need are sent to Ramstein Hospital, Landstuhl. Drop off the sheets, clipped or unclipped. There's a blue plastic bin in car port at 11-N. American and Canadian flags needing proper disposal may also be left. Ed will see proper procedure is followed. Unneeded hearing aids and eye glasses may also be donated. All will find a useful home.

Gil Himes (15-I) collects articles for our veterans at Bay Pines Hospital in St. Petersburg. Lap robes, hard candy, toiletries, gently used books, magazines, playing cards, dominos and other types of games are welcome. New packs of socks and t-shirts are also needed in sizes L, XL, and 2X. Going on vacation? Collect the hotel small bottles of products for use. Drop off items anytime at his coach. Don't forget our veterans during the summer.

Thank you all for your donations.

NEA: Fewer Americans enjoy the arts in person

When was the last time you went to the symphony, the ballet, or a museum? A National Endowment for the Arts study points to a disturbing trend: The number of Americans attending core arts events like the opera, the theater, and other activities is on the decline.

According to “A Decade of Arts Engagement: Findings From the Survey of Public Participation in the Arts, 2002–2012,” only 33.4 percent of U.S. adults attended any arts events between July 2011 and July 2012—down from 34.6 percent in 2008, and down yet again from a decade earlier when the figure was 39.4 percent.

One bright spot in the report: Although only a third of U.S. adults attended a cultural event in person, 71 percent said they had watched, listened to, or downloaded some kind of artistic event via the Internet. That includes streaming pop music, however, lumping Beethoven in with Nicki Minaj.

Americans upbeat about science

Despite controversies and disagreements about climate change, genetically modified foods, animal testing, and other scientific issues, most U.S. citizens have a positive view of science and scientists, according to a study from the Pew Research Center.

The study found that 79 percent of U.S. adults believe science has made their lives better, and a majority of them have a positive view of science’s impact on such matters as food quality, health care, and the environment. Additionally, 61 percent believe that government investment is essential to scientific progress, although 34 percent say that private investment would be sufficient.

The effort to understand the universe is one of the very few things that lifts human life a little above the level of farce, and gives it some of the grace of tragedy.

—Steven Weinberg

Get on pace for a healthy new year

The end of the year is the perfect time to commit to a healthier lifestyle going forward. How can you maintain your resolve on a daily basis? Try these tips:

- Pick a partner. People who exercise with friend have a higher success rate.
- Set concrete goals. Don't vaguely aim to walk "more" each day. Set challenging but realistic goals. And be sure to chart your progress.
- Shorten the duration. Rather than a single hourlong session, aim for three 20-minute workouts or four 15-minute workouts a day. People who opt for shorter sessions actually tend to work out more over the course of a week.
- Redefine "exercise." You don't have to spend hours at the health club to stay in shape. Keep track of your daily activity and try to incorporate healthy behaviors like walking for at least 20 minutes, taking the stairs instead of the elevator, or getting off the bus or train a block early. Exercise will become part of your day, not an added chore.
- Clear your mind. Make a regular date with yourself for exercise and train yourself not to think about all the other tasks you could be doing. Focus on the here and now and don't get distracted by the future or the past.
- Find exercise you enjoy. Most gyms offer a variety of exercise equipment, so choose an activity that makes you feel good while you're doing it, not something you detest no matter how beneficial it may be. Riding a bike through your neighborhood is just as helpful as sitting on a stationary bicycle in the gym.
- Set your own goals. Even if you work with a buddy or trainer, decide for yourself what you want to achieve. Set realistic targets that challenge you, not impossible goals that make you reluctant to try.

Did you know that December is also...

Buckwheat Month. Buckwheat has been providing essential nutrients, vitamins, energy, and fiber to humanity for approximately 8,000 years. It contains higher levels of zinc, copper, and manganese than other cereal grains, as well as high levels of zinc, copper, and potassium. From pancakes to soba noodles to blintzes, try adding some more buckwheat to your diet.

National Impaired Driving Prevention Month. The month of December is one of the busiest on the nation's roadways, and also one of the most dangerous. Sponsored by Mothers Against Drunk Driving, this month-long event seeks to raise awareness about the consequences of driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs.

National Safe Toys and Gifts Month. Keep your family safe during the holidays by buying only toys you can trust. Remember to immediately discard plastic wrapping or other packaging before they become dangerous playthings, and keep toys appropriate for older children away from younger siblings.

Universal Human Rights Month. A commemoration of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations on Dec. 10, 1948. The need for this document grew out of the human tragedy of World War II and represents the first global expression of human rights.

National Handwashing Awareness Week, Dec. 6-12. Fight disease during the winter and all year long by remembering these principles of hand awareness: Wash your hands when they are dirty and before eating; don't cough or sneeze into your hands; and don't put your fingers into your eyes, nose, or mouth.

Hanukkah, Dec. 6-14. Beginning at sundown, this eight-day festival in the Jewish faith celebrates the triumph of light over darkness and the rededication of the Holy Temple (the Second Temple) in Jerusalem.

Computer Science Education Week, Dec. 7-13. Computer science opens doors for students. Learning even the basics will help in virtually any career. Just as we teach schoolchildren how electricity works, every 21st-century student should have a chance to learn what computers do and how they do it.

'Sandwich' material may protect future space travelers

One danger posed by long space voyages is damage to a spacecraft's hull by micro-meteoroids and other space debris. Even a very small object racing at high speeds can strike like a bullet, poking a nasty hole in the side of a spaceship millions of miles from Earth. Shields offer some protection, like the one used by the International Space Station to vaporize objects before they hit. But according to the Science Daily website, scientists may be close to perfecting a self-sealing substance that can repair a small breach in a short time.

The material is made by placing a reactive liquid between two layers of a solid polymer. In experiments shooting bullets into the "sandwich," the liquid was able to quickly establish a solid plug once it was exposed to air, preventing an oxygen leak from inside a spacecraft. The substance could also be used in cars and other terrestrial structures, the researchers say.

Undersea monolith poses a mystery

It may not be the imposing black monolith from the film "2001: A Space Odyssey," but it's mysterious nonetheless: Explorers have discovered a man-made stone structure deep in the waters off Sicily, and its purpose is a puzzle.

The object, originally on an island in the Sicilian Channel that became submerged during a flood 9,300 years ago, is 12 meters long (39 feet) and weighs 15 tons. Scientists estimate that it's about 9,350 years old. Broken in two pieces at a depth of 40 meters (139 feet), the object has three roughly similar holes: one on the top, and two more on its sides. The structure would have required cutting, extraction, transport, and installation, suggesting its makers had fairly advanced engineering skills. Its purpose remains unclear.

How do you weigh a dead dinosaur?

Paleontologists routinely tell us that a particular dinosaur or mammal from millions of years ago weighed X pounds, but how do they measure the weight of an animal that's extinct? Here's one new technique scientists have developed:

The first step is constructing a digital model of the bones recovered. Then a computer program covers the model in a digital "shrink wrap" to estimate the animal's volume. In the final step, they come up with an estimate using a volume-to-mass conversion based on 14 living mammals starting with the red deer (90 kilograms) to the African elephant (2.7 metric tons).

This process allows researchers to calculate that the woolly mammoth weighed in at 3.6 metric tons, and the giant ground sloth was 3.7 metric tons.

Know Your Organs: The Gallbladder

The gallbladder is a small, pear-shaped organ located beneath the liver and next to the pancreas. You may not give it a lot of thought—until it starts malfunctioning. Then it can cause pain and serious health problems.

The gallbladder stores a substance called bile, or gall, that comes from the liver and helps to digest fat. The main problem that can arise is the formation of gallstones, which can be as small as a grain of sand or as large as a golf ball. They affect both men and women, and may occur as a single large stone or a group of small ones. What causes them is unclear, though they're more common in people with excessive body fat around the waist, and in those who have lost weight very quickly. The risk of gallstones increases as you age, particularly among women as they approach menopause and everyone after age 40.

You may have gallstones for years without noticing them, regardless of their size or number. But during a gallstone attack, patients can experience sharp pain in the upper right side of the abdomen, along with nausea and vomiting. Attacks tend to occur at night, often after a large meal with lots of fat, as well as after drinking alcohol.

Gallstones are treated in a number of ways: Some people take an acid orally which dissolves the stones gradually, although they may reappear once the treatment is stopped. Otherwise, they can be broken up with ultrasonic shock waves or removed by surgery in serious cases.

Be on the lookout for these symptoms:

- Sudden severe pain in your upper right abdomen, lasting from 30 minutes to several hours.
- Pain in your right shoulder blade or under your right shoulder.
- Indigestion after eating desserts, fried foods, or foods high in fat or protein.

See a doctor immediately if abdominal pain lasts five hours or more, if you experience nausea, vomiting, fever, or chills, if you have a yellowish color in your skin or in the whites of your eyes, or if you have light-colored stools or dark urine.

Keep Your Heart Healthy With The Right Food Choices

The food you eat can make a big difference to your health, especially in matters of the heart. You can keep your heart ticking to a ripe old age by adding these foods to your diet:

- Tomatoes. A good source of vitamin C, vitamin A, potassium, and fiber, tomatoes also contain lycopene, an antioxidant that may help to lower bad cholesterol, keep blood vessels open, and lower the risk of heart disease. For best results, serve cooked tomatoes in stews, soups, and sauces.
- Blueberries. Blueberries contain antioxidants called anthocyanins, which may reduce blood pressure by relaxing blood vessels. One cup has only 80 calories, and they add fiber and vitamin C to your daily diet.

Eliminate the obstacles to a good night's rest

A good night's sleep is essential to everyone's health, and yet many people have trouble getting the shut-eye they need. If you're not waking up feeling refreshed and ready to start your day with energy, check out these problems that may be preventing you from sleeping soundly:

- Procrastination. You know you should go to bed, but you let yourself get distracted by household tasks or the TV. Set a firm time limit on your evening and stick to it.
- Caffeine. Avoid coffee and other caffeinated drinks after 3 p.m. The effects can linger for up to seven hours, making sleep difficult by the time you need to go to bed.
- Heat. You may not be sweating, but feeling just a little too warm can keep you from dropping off. Try sticking one foot out from under the covers to balance the temperature.
- Stress. The news, your job, or personal worries can make relaxation and sleep difficult. Practice meditation and other techniques to un-tense your body and your mind.
- Work. If your job starts too early in the morning, you'll have trouble waking up and performing well. Try to negotiate a later arrival time. Emphasize how your productivity will increase if you get the right amount of rest.

Prevent back pain before it strikes

Back pain can make your work difficult no matter what job you do. Lifting heavy items is only one potential source of damage; poor posture and repetitive movements can also cause strain and pain. Keep your back in good shape with these general tips from the Mayo Clinic website:

- Get some exercise. Losing weight and staying in shape will decrease wear and tear on your back muscles. Combine aerobic activity with strength training that stretches and strengthens your stomach and back.
- Practice good posture. Your parents were right when they told you to stand up straight. Make a point of keeping your weight balanced on both feet without slouching. Use a chair with good back support, and make sure it's the right height, allowing you to keep both feet flat on the floor and your knees on the same level as your hips.
