Please all stay healthy! Nanci, Editor

HOA President's UPDATES

Pat Lucksinger, HOA President, 518-573-0968

Notes from the monthly meeting with ELS:

- Mailboxes are in place but nothing is being delivered individually to homes (as of 9/08). There were an over whelming number of home delivery requests. The USPS will look them over and call physicians if that is needed. Mailboxes are ADA approved to make it accessible for any handicapped persons.
- No new furniture for the clubhouse porch as of yet. It is approved and ordered.
- Trying to come up with activities that will give people something to do and still remain safe. Any ideas or thoughts residents may have please let a board member know. ELS makes the decision whether they will approve it. It can not at this point be an HOA sponsored event so a small group getting together is fine. They are going to try to do 10 cent bingo but with many rules that ELS wants approved.
- Talked about getting a food truck to come in once a month to have something different to eat and not leaving the park.
- Filters and air conditioners in the park are being serviced monthly to insure they are keeping our facilities safe.

- ELS is having the dishwasher serviced per an independent contractor and when we can use the kitchen again it should be good.
  - No date for the lawn service change as of yet. There will be a change as another company won the bid. Who knows if it will be better or worse. Just know it will never be perfect.
  - ELS will leave the drop box at the office and you can drop off your checks or correspondence during 😊 BUSINESS HOURS 😊 and ONLY on days the office is open. All other times it will be locked. There is a large group that think it's not fair to residents to mail or pay on line. ELS decided if it's so important they will meet residents half way.
  - Looking into doing Zoom meetings for the fall and winter if we need to. Any thoughts?
  - HOA would also like to look in to events on Zoom. We could also get some speakers who would do a virtual meeting.
  - Remember you need an appointment to go to the office. Returning messages you may leave may take up to 48 hours if it's something routine. The best way to be in touch with management is email. serendipity\_mgr@equitylifestyle.com

Bowling

Bob Jones, 727-638-0822

Welcome back to our winter residents! I hope you all had a great summer with the pandemic going on.

At this time I have contacted most of the bowlers who were bowling last year to see if they want to bowl this coming season. Understandably, most of the people contacted have decided not to bowl until this pandemic is under control. So, as of now bowling this season is “up in the air” and will be POSTPONED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

To all our park residents – we would like to invite you all to join our Friday morning mixed bowling family in the coming months. There will be a sign up sheet in the West Clubhouse only for new bowlers to sign up for just in case all goes well!

Watch this Monthly Media and the bulletin boards for information on any changes or updates. No matter how well you bowl, please come, join our bowling family and have a great time with us! We are a “fun” league and we cheer everyone on! It is never too late to join. If you have any questions please call me at 727-638-0822.

Looking forward to seeing everyone at the lanes in the near future! -Bob

'Monday' Golf at Tarpon Woods Golf Club

Linda Taylor, 727-418-4087

At the present time, I have been contacting some of the courses as to rates and availability in the event that we want to change our venue for golf for the upcoming season.

Will keep current golfers aware of any changes via e-mail and will post updated information in Serendipity Clubhouses.

Anyone interested in playing with the group can contact me at lindataylor661@hotmail.com or call at 727-418-4087. Everyone is welcome and you do not have to be a resident of Serendipity.

WHEN TREATING A HEART ATTACK OR STROKE, TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE. EVEN DURING THESE TIMES.

Don't hesitate when it comes to getting emergency treatment.

Even during a pandemic, you still need to be treated immediately if you have an emergency. Debating whether or not to risk going to an emergency room during a heart attack, stroke or other health emergency—waiting even a few extra minutes—could be harmful. That's why in all BayCare hospital emergency rooms, patients who have symptoms of COVID-19 are isolated from other patients. This helps keep emergency room patients and our team members safe. So if it's an emergency, don't wait. For more information: BayCareEmergencyCare.org has experienced protests and riots. Seattle's unrest has seemingly subsided a little and taken a less confrontational path. Chicago has made the news several times. There have been approx. 25+ cities that have experienced notable destructive, civil unrest and the number creeps ever higher. Even Tampa's civil unrest made the local news.

The recent civil unrest has been devastating to many merchants around the country. Many of them, hanging on by the skin of their teeth due to lockdown ordinances, were wondering how much longer they could remain in business. Some might place the blame on the national government, others the rioters, and still others on their local governments. There will be owners that will rebuild, some will just close up, and others may move. The civil unrest may convince a few to explore re-energizing past regional statehood movements and put forth new proposals to carve out their own states.

Every once in a while you read of a movement to subdivide a state or of a region that desires to become its own state. The process is long and not easy. Article 4, Section 3, Clause 1 of the Constitution stipulates that; "New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new States shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress." The proposed state also must, if I remember correctly, submit a state constitution to be reviewed prior to the vote by Congress. Congress is under no obligation to admit a new state into the Union.

Actually these proposals are more common than you may realize. One reference site stated that if every proposal for a new state had been granted, since the revolution, the U.S. would have 124 states, according to a Mansfield University geography professor. Obviously most of the proposed new states never made it through the admission process.

However, there were four made from the original 13 states. Vermont was formed from New York in 1791, Kentucky from Virginia in 1792, Maine from Massachusetts in 1820, and West Virginia pried from Virginia in 1863. The remaining states were made from territories, and the Independent Republic of Texas. The territories denied acceptance, remained territories until they were partitioned into another proposed state and accepted by congress. Hawaii was the last territory to be admitted as a state into the Union in 1959. Puerto Rico has flirted with the idea of becoming the 51st state but has not had enough popular domestic support to initiate the admission process. There have also been proposals for New York City and Washington D.C. to become the 51st state.

In instances of succession the primary reason was or is dissatisfaction with the state or federal government. The inhabitants within the proposed states feel they're being ignored, not heard, or unfairly represented. Several proposed states actually functioned as states until the congressional vote for admission. They remained territories after congress denied them admittance and were later partitioned into another proposed state. These are the names of a few proposed states that were denied admission; Transylvania, Franklin, Jefferson, Lincoln, Scott, Superior, Sequoyah, Westsylvania, and Forgottonia.

The state of Jefferson has been proposed four times in different geographical locations. One instance concerned the Kansas Territory, second and third proposals subdivided Texas as a possible condition for admittance into the Union. The fourth took several counties from northern California and southern Oregon. That proposal faded away because of World War II. However an expanded version of the proposal still occasionally circulates around the region.

The individuals living in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan have often thought they were ignored by or detached from their government in the Lower Michigan Peninsula because, well... they were detached.

The U.P. has Wisconsin to the west, and surrounded by water on the remaining three sides. Before it became associated with the Lower Peninsula, Thomas Jefferson suggested it be named Sylvania, others preferred the name Ontonagon. The remote location of the U.P. also resulted in proposals for the state of Superior. In 1858 a meeting was held to start the admission process but the Civil War halted the matter. The completion of the Mackinac Bridge in 1957 connecting the Upper and Lower Peninsula addressed the feeling of isolation. However, it's been stated that frustration with recent tax laws has revived talks of succession.

The Republic of Forgottonia was not a serious proposal. Two men from West Central Illinois, along with other sympathetic citizens, made this fictional proposal. Citizens of a 14-county area felt ignored by the state and federal government in the late 1960s and early 1970s. They received little or no support for their regional projects. They had the audacity to elect their own governor and even made the town of Fandon the state capitol. They never seceded from the Union but caught the eye of the federal government. Amtrak returned to the area in 1972 and the government provided funds for infrastructure repair.

The state of Scott seceded from Tennessee during the Civil War to support the Union. The state of Tennessee didn't protest or recognize the county's independence. The fact that Scott had seceded from Tennessee was actually forgotten until 1986, the state's 125th birthday. The state of Scott repealed its proclamation of independence and was welcomed back to the state of Tennessee.

Once in a while you may hear the rumblings of a state or region that desires to secede from the Union. The most recent one that I have occasionally heard about was California becoming its own country. Was it a fictitious rumor? I have no idea. The last serious effort to leave the Union resulted in a long bloody civil war. The right of succession was debated during the writing of the Articles of Confederation and arguably put to rest with the Constitution, although the Constitution does not specifically address it. The Civil War was fought for several reasons, depending on which side of the Mason-Dixon Line you were on. One was to preserve the Union.

The 1869 case heard by the U.S. Supreme Court, Texas vs. White, reaffirmed the Union's interpretation of the Constitution. In 1850 Texas received $10,000,000 in federal bonds. In 1862 the state of Texas transferred those bonds to several individuals as payment for Confederate military supplies. After the war the Reconstruction state government filed the suit in an effort to recover the bonds. The suit stated that the bond transfer was illegal. The defendants stated that Texas had seceded from the Union, and therefore was not bound by federal law.

The Supreme Court held that the Confederate States had only temporarily lost privileges of Union membership but not its membership status. Writing the opinion for the court, Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase stated that the federal Constitution "in all its provisions looks to an indestructible Union, composed of indestructible States." Therefore, the Supreme Court decreed by law what the Union's Civil War victory had so brutally done by force, enforce the principle that no state may secede from the Union. Upon admission into the Union, Texas had entered into an irrevocable union with like members in a political body. Their time for reconsideration, or revocation of the admission process had passed. Their only escape from the Union was through revolution, or with the consent of the States. Consent was not given and Texas along

Long Time Resident Mae Schmidt Passes

Submitted by Cindy Rudd Sharpe, Lot #22A

Serendipity lost another Angel on the August 30, 2020. Mary “Mae” Schmidt passed away a short illness. She was 98 and just the sweetest woman to me and others. She had lost a sister and a son this year. Her survivors are a son, Frank Schmidt Jr. and a daughter, Barbara Knight, several grandchildren and great grandchildren. Mae was a devout Catholic and always attended Saturday’s 4 pm mass at St. Michael with her friend Bob here at the park. Then the pandemic hit and she and so many others here in the park were shut out of being able to anything except sitting inside their four walls of home. This has been so hard for many seniors to be confined without any sunshine or exercise, not only to keep their spirits up but also to keep healthy. During this same time is when her sister passed and later her son.

She and the other ladies were the first people I met when I arrived last August. I called to play dominos, rummy, and bingo. Mae still drove wherever she wanted to go. I know. Isn’t that awesome! I started playing with Marge K., Kay, Mae, Phyllis, Betty and Diane.

Last year we lost Kay. This year we lost Mae. About that same time Marge Krauser moved to an independent living apartment. Now, I understand that Marge is moving back to her home here. Yay!

I challenge all of us to look out for our neighbors and especially neighbors that stay home and do not get out often. This is a great park and I know several people here already look out for others. Thank you to everyone!

- Cindy
