Calm your ocean

A master and his disciple were strolling on the beach by the ocean. It was a cold day and the wind was blowing strongly over the ocean, raising very high waves.

After walking for some time, the master stopped and asked: “What does the choppy ocean remind you of?”

“It reminds me of my mind and my rushing and restless thoughts,” answered the disciple

“Yes, the stormy ocean is like the mind, and the waves are the thoughts,” the master agreed. “The mind is neutral like the water. It is neither good nor bad. The wind is creating the waves, as desires and fears produce thoughts.”

“How can I calm the waves of my mind?” the disciple asked.

The master smiled. “You don’t calm the ocean by holding the water and not letting it move. What is necessary is to stop the wind. Your thoughts, desires and fears are like the wind, and you need to calm them down, and not let them rule your life. You learn to control them by controlling your attention and focus, and then the ocean of your mind would become calm.”

“And how do I do that?”

“First, learn to calm down the wind in your mind,” the master explained. “When you can control your mind and make it peaceful, you will have more control of your life. However, don’t focus on changing the outside world. Focus on changing and calming your inner world. After you are able to control your inner world, you would be able to control the world around you.”

Build the road

Born on the lowest rung of India’s caste system, Dashrath Manjhi worked in the coal mines of Gehlaur village.

One day his wife was injured. The nearest doctor was in a town 34 miles away, and Manjhi’s wife died.

Because of this, Manjhi decided to make a new roadway through a ridge of hills to make his village more accessible.

For 22 years, using only a hammer and chisel, Manjhi worked until he completed the road, which reduced the distance between the start and finish areas from 34 miles to 9.3 miles.

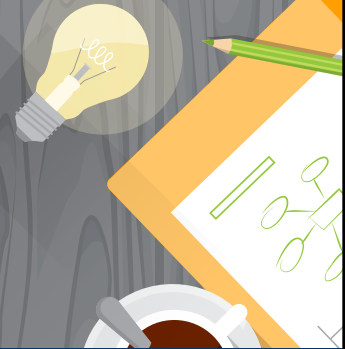

That’s a sign of dedication.

If a child is to keep alive his inborn sense of wonder, he needs the companionship of at least one adult who can share it, rediscovering with him the joy, excitement, and mystery of the world we live in.

A few short ones

A police officer was interviewing a bank teller after the bank had been robbed three days in a row. The officer asked, “What did he look like?”

The teller responded, “He looked better every time he came here.”

Teacher: “Which book has helped you the most in your life?”

Student: “My father’s checkbook!”

A doctor got a phone call from one of his colleagues. “Hey, we need a fourth for poker.” The doctor replied, “I’ll be right there.”

His wife asked him, “Is it serious?”

He replied, “There’s already three doctors there and they need me.”

Speed limit

A state police officer parked by the side of the highway spotted a car driving only 22 miles per hour. He started up, turned on his lights, and pulled the car over.

As he approached the car, he saw the driver was an elderly woman with three friends, one next to her in the front seat and two in the back. “What’s the matter, officer?” the driver asked. “I wasn’t speeding.”

“No, ma’am,” the officer said, “but you were driving much lower than the speed limit, and that’s just as dangerous.”

“But the sign back there said 22,” the woman said.

The officer chuckled and explained that 22 was the route number, not the speed limit, which was 65. Embarrassed, the woman apologized and thanked the officer.

Then he peered into the car. “Ma’am, are your friends all right? They all seem a bit frightened.”

“Oh, they’ll be all right in a minute, officer. We just got off route 157.”

Smart lawyer

A man went to his lawyer. “My neighbor owes me $500 and he won’t pay up. What should I do?”

“Do you have any proof he owes you the money?” asked the lawyer.

“Nope,” replied the man.

“OK, then write him a letter asking him for the $5,000 he owes you,” said the lawyer.

“But it’s only $500,” replied the man.

“Precisely. That’s what he will reply and then you’ll have your proof!”

Online shopping frustrating

Online shopping isn't new, and it's growing in use due to the coronavirus pandemic. Still, it's not a snap for everyone. The Retail Dive website reports that 40% of shoppers struggle with simple tasks on retail websites, and 52% of those who have difficulty abandon their shopping carts before checkout.

Instead of contacting customer service, most frustrated shoppers—52%— simply go to another site. Only 26% seek assistance from the original site.

Who's having the most trouble? Surprisingly, it seems to be the younger generation. Forty-six percent of Gen Z consumers have struggled with shopping online, followed by millennials (41%), Gen Xers (40%), and baby boomers (33%).

The reason for 'no'

Once a bird was searching for a home to lay her eggs so they'd be safe during the coming rainy season. In her search, she saw two trees, so she went to ask them for shelter.

When she asked the first tree, it refused to give her shelter. Disappointed, she went to the second tree.

The second tree agreed, so she built a nest and laid her eggs. Then the rainy season arrived. The rain was so heavy that the first tree toppled over and was carried away by the flood.

The bird saw this and laughed. "This is your punishment for not offering me shelter."

The tree smiled. "I knew I wasn't going to survive this rainy season. That's why I refused you. I didn't want to risk yours and your children's lives." And it drifted away.

The bird got tears in her eyes. Now that she knew the reason, she felt gratitude and respect for the tree.

We are all storytellers. We all live in a network of stories. There isn't a stronger connection between people than storytelling.

—Jimmy Neil Smith

Storytelling is the most powerful way to put ideas into the world.

'Tis the season: What we're celebrating this month

December is a month of holiday celebrations crossing different cultures and nationalities. Here's a quick snapshot of what people celebrate, and why:

- Hanukkah. An eight-day Jewish holiday beginning this year at sundown the day before Dec. 10, Hanukkah celebrates the rededication of the Temple of Jerusalem after the Jewish victory over the Maccabees in 165 BCE. Each night, families light one candle on the menorah, observing the traditional story of how the one-day supply of oil for the temple's eternal flame burned for eight days.
- Christmas. This Christian holiday, observed on Dec. 25, celebrates the birth of Jesus between the years 7 and 2 BCE. The date may have been chosen to correspond with the winter solstice, or to coincide with a Roman holiday honoring the sun during the same period. Christmas became a federal holiday in the United States in 1870.
- Kwanzaa. A seven-day celebration of African heritage and culture, Kwanzaa is observed from Dec. 26 to Jan. 1. Activist Ron Karenga created Kwanzaa in 1966 to emphasize African-Americans' shared history and experience. The name Kwanzaa is derived from "matunda ya kwanza," a Swahili phrase meaning "first fruits."

Try these alternatives to pricey wrapping paper

If you never seem to have enough wrapping paper for all your presents in December, or if you just don't want to head out to the store for yet another roll of high-priced, tissue-thin paper that will end up in the trash, consider these options for saving money and helping out the planet:

- Newspaper. Last week's newspaper—especially the comics section with all its colors—can serve as a wrapping substitute. A few ribbons or bows can dress the package up.
- Recycled paper. Save the wrap after the present has been opened. Large sheets can be reused easily.
- Cloth. If you have scraps of old clothing lying around (clean, of course), use those in place of paper for a homemade look.
- Gift bags. Save small paper bags with handles to stuff an assortment of gifts into. Again, you can dress them up with bows, photos, or shapes clipped from colored paper you may have lying around the house.

December Monthly

Buckwheat Month. Despite its name, buckwheat is not a type of wheat—in fact, it’s not technically a grain at all. Buckwheat is one of the six pseudo grains that are not part of the Poaceae cereal family but are considered grains due to their similar uses from a culinary and nutritional perspective. Buckwheat has a rich history in Asia, where it is used for traditional noodles such as soba, and in Eastern Europe, where it is used to make a type of porridge called kasha.

National Impaired Driving Prevention Month.

Sponsored by Mothers Against Drunk Driving. Take personal responsibility this holiday season by making a plan for a safe ride home before your celebrations begin. Designate a nondrinking, unimpaired driver. Take a taxi, a bus, or a train. Use a rideshare app like Uber. If you’re a host, provide an alternative to your guests, such as festive, nonalcoholic drinks.

National Tie Month. Neckties originated when Croatian soldiers wore silk scarves; at the time, they were called cravats. Take a selfie in your favorite necktie and post a picture of yourself rocking that business-professional-with-a-little-bit-of-edgy-personality look.

Universal Human Rights Month. Universal Month for Human Rights began in 1948, when the United Nations wrote a document called the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. This happened after the Second World War, because the UN wanted to prevent future atrocities. It created the document to properly define what human rights would be protected universally.

Weekly

National Handwashing Awareness Week, Dec. 6–12. Handwashing is more important than ever these days. Remember to wash your hands when they are dirty and before eating; do not cough into your hands; do not sneeze into your hands; and do not put your fingers into your eyes, nose, or mouth.

Hanukkah, Dec. 10–18. The Jewish Festival of Lights remembers the rededication of the second Jewish temple in Jerusalem in 165 BCE.

Gluten-Free Baking Week, Dec. 13–19. This special time brings awareness to the predicament of dealing with gluten allergies around the holiday season. People allergic to gluten should not have to go without the savory deliciousness of all kinds of desserts.

Kwanzaa, Dec. 25–Jan.1. A celebration based around seven major principles which are, according to its founder Maulana Karenga, a communitarian African philosophy: unity, self-determination, collective work and responsibility, cooperative economics, purpose, creativity, and faith.
