PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Submitted by Bob Doty

Greetings to all!
The Mother's Day brunch was on May 8th at the clubhouse and was well attended. The food was great and there was plenty of it! Thank you to Serena Libby, Bobbi Christian and everyone who assisted.

Hoping to have a great turnout for the Memorial Day BBQ on May 30th. Looking forward to seeing everyone. Also looking forward to the HOA BBQ on June 11th and the Father's Day Breakfast on June 19th.

If anyone would be interested in learning shuffle board Bob Vogel has volunteered to teach and assist to anyone wanting to learn how to play. He is usually at the shuffle board court during normal Tuesday practice from 10 a.m.

And I am proud to mention our new Vice President, Jane Ballentine! Thanks for stepping up and we look forward to working with you to make this park a great place to live.

There are several new residents in the park and CC is re-establishing the "Know your Neighbor" articles. She will be contacting the new residents to see if they would like to participate. In closing, stay safe, stay hydrated and enjoy the pool!

Remember June is the start of hurricane season. The weather is really starting to heat up, Be prepared, stay informed and have a plan.

God bless and stay safe.

NEWS FROM THE EDITOR

Submitted by Cheryl "CC" Doty

So starting in June, we have brought back our "Know your neighbor" articles. This month I had the pleasure of getting to know Jenny and Tony in #25. Thank you for being my "test subjects". Read on my friends...

Thanks for all the jokes, recipes, etc. I save them all and will get them all in! Nice to have a little stash to do that.

Thanks, CC

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR

Knock, knock, "Hi CC".... and that's how the conversation started. Jenny and Tony have lived in #25 for just a year now and have absolutely made this their home. They think the park is great with great people in it. Tony works for the Clearwater Central Catholic School, which I'm sure gets busier when the children are out on summer break.

They are both originally from Ohio, Jenny the Buck Eyes and Bengals fan, and Tony who isn't a big sports fan... go figure ...right? They met when they were teenagers, went their separate ways and found each other only to marry 3 years ago. If that isn't a great story then add to the mix, Jenny is a breast cancer survivor! Wow, there are no words, stay strong Jenny. Jenny has a Hard Rock bear collection that is the cutest and, if you've haven't ventured past their house recently, you should, her yardwork is beautiful.

They have 2 sons and 1 daughter, with only the oldest son, Scott, living in Florida, the 2 others are still up North. They are very family oriented and Jenny misses her Mom who recently moved back to Ohio.

A belated Welcome to Tony and Jenny to Shangri-La!! We are so happy to have you as our neighbor!

JOKES

Submitted by various residents

A Sign in a Shoe Repair store in Vancouver that read:
“We will heel you, We will save your sole, We will even dye for you”

Sign over a Gynecologist’s office:

In a Podiatrist office:
“Time wounds all heels”

At an Optometrists office:
“If you don’t see what you are looking for, you’ve come to the right place.”

On a Plumber’s truck:
“We repair what your husband fixed.”

Another Plumber’s truck:
“Don’t sleep with a drip. Call your plumber”

A dog lover, whose dog was a female and in heat agreed to look after her neighbor’s male dog while the neighbors were on vacation. She had a large house and believed that she could keep the two pets apart. However, as she was drifting off to sleep she heard awful howling and moaning sounds; rushed downstairs and found the dogs locked together, in obvious pain, unable to disengage, as so frequently happens when dogs mate. Unable to separate them and perplexed as to what to do next, although it was late, she called the vet... who answered in a very grumpy voice. Having explained the problem to him, the vet answered, “hang up the phone and place it down alongside the dogs. I will then call you back, and the noise of the ringing will make the male lose his erection and he’ll be able to withdraw.” “Do you think that will work?” she asked. “Just worked on me...” he replied.

Did you know that June is also...

Adopt a Cat Month. Thousands of cute cuddly kittens and mellow older cats are waiting in shelters across the country for someone to take them home. Members of the shelter staff are ready to help you adopt your very first cat or bring home a friend for another beloved cat.

Alzheimer's and Brain Awareness Month. Around the world 47 million people are living with some form of dementia, and that number is expected to climb to 76 million by 2030. Learn how to maintain your brain's health, and help raise awareness and support of research aimed at treating brain illnesses.

National Zoo and Aquarium Month. Explore your local zoo and aquarium as well as the websites of America's great zoos and aquariums. Many of them have excellent educational resources—photographs, videos, facts, lesson plans, and activities for the whole family.

PTSD Awareness Month. Post Traumatic Stress Disorder can affect anyone, and its effects are felt throughout every community. The purpose of PTSD Awareness Month is to encourage everyone to raise public awareness of effective treatments and to help all those affected by PTSD.

Sun Safety Week, June 5-11. Sponsored by The Sun Safety Alliance, which believes that a focus on skin cancer prevention, education, and awareness will improve public knowledge of the importance of sun safety.

Men's Health Week, June 13-19. Celebrated each year during the week leading up to Father's Day to heighten awareness of preventable health problems and encourage early detection and treatment of disease among men and boys.

Superman Week, June 9-12. An event held in Metropolis, Ill., to celebrate the adventures of the Man of Steel in comics, film, and TV.

Animals Rights Awareness Week, June 19-25. An annual event to raise awareness for the care and concern for animals of all varieties and to educate the general public about the humane treatment that all animals deserve whether they're someone's pet, wildlife residents, residents of a zoo, or raised as food sources.

National Running Day, June 3. Put on your running shoes and some sunscreen and go out for a run!

Father's Day, June 19. Remember your dad—and fathers everywhere—on this special day.

Teach children or grandchildren this important skill

Problem solving is a skill that's valuable throughout your children's lives, from school to their adult careers. You can teach your children how to tackle any problem they're facing by sharing these steps:

- Identify the problem. This is the most important step, and often the most overlooked. Your child can't solve a problem until he or she can state what it is.
- Come up with a list of solutions. Brainstorm possible solutions, even ones that initially seem farfetched. Just keep the ideas flowing.
- Assess each idea. Now is the time to evaluate the merits of each idea, weighing the pros and cons thoroughly.
- Pick one or two ideas. Have your child pick the top two solutions and give his or her specific reasons for choosing those possible solutions.
- Put the decision into action. Before going forward, talk about possible outcomes. What are the potential obstacles? What help can you expect? How can you avoid traps?
- Evaluate and learn. How did the solution work? What changes need to be made to make it work better? What would your child try the next time?

The hungry thief

Joe and Sam went into a bakery. When the cashier wasn't looking, Joe quickly slipped three doughnuts into the pocket of his jacket.

"What are you doing?" Sam whispered. "You just stole those!"

"So what?" Joe asked. "Nobody saw a thing."

Sam waved the cashier over. "Give me a doughnut, and I'll show you a magic trick."

Intrigued, the cashier handed over a doughnut. Sam ate it, then asked for a second one, and then a third.

"So what's the trick?" the cashier asked, skeptically.

"You know where those doughnuts are now?"

The cashier frowned. "Where?"

"Look in my friend's pocket."

Get more from your to-do list

A to-do list can help you organize your time and energy effectively, but successful people know that it's just a start, not an end in itself. Get the greatest impact from your list by following this advice:

- Start the night before. Instead of making your list in the morning, finish your day by planning tomorrow's work. You'll arrive fresh and ready to tackle your most important tasks right away.
- Keep it short. A list of 100 items is intimidating. Limit your to-do lists to tasks that add maximum value to your organization, not routine busywork.
- Prioritize your tasks. Don't list items at random. Decide which job to tackle first, second, and third so you don't waste time on less important tasks.
- Categorize your tasks. After you've identified your two or three most important jobs for the day, go through your list and group similar tasks together—answering phone calls and emails, meeting with co-workers, organizing various projects. You'll get more done by not switching between different kinds of tasks all day.
- Get specific. Include the results you want, not just the name of the task. "Work on Johnson report" doesn't give you a goal; "Finish Johnson report by 3:30" will help you focus on what you want to achieve.
- Expect the unexpected. No matter how organized you are, interruptions will occur. Build in enough time to deal with them so you're not thrown off by the day-to-day demands of the workplace.

Quick Thinking

A stockboy in the produce section of the supermarket one day had a customer who asked to buy half a head of lettuce. The stockboy told him that they sold only whole heads of lettuce.

The man insisted that he didn't need the whole head and wouldn't pay for a whole head if he wanted half of it. Finally the stockboy said he had to ask his manager about the situation. As he walked into the back room, the stockboy blurted out: "Some jerk out there wants to buy only a half a head of lettuce."

The manager's eyes grew wide in shock. The stockboy turned around to find the customer standing right behind him

He quickly said, "And this gentleman here wants to buy the other half."

Coffee may keep you healthy

Is drinking coffee good for you? A recent article on The New York Times website linked to a number of different studies touting the positive effects of caffeine on several different health problems. They include:

- Liver damage. A review of data collected by studies of more than 430,000 people found that coffee may lower the risk of cirrhosis of the liver, a disease associated with overindulgence in alcohol (among other causes).
- Tinnitus. Researchers kept track of more than 65,000 women and found that those who drank more than one 8-ounce cup of coffee a day were less likely to suffer from tinnitus, that persistent ringing or buzzing in your ears.
- Auto crashes. A study of truck drivers who routinely work on long hauls found that coffee drinkers (or consumers of other caffeinated drinks) seem 63 percent less likely to be involved in crashes while driving.
- Melanoma. An analysis of health and dietary data involving more than 400,000 people ages 50-71 found that those who drank four or more cups of coffee a day were 20 percent less likely to develop skin cancer. (The researchers cautioned that avoiding exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays is still the most important way to avoid melanoma.)

State of health: What's the best place for you to live?

Where you live may affect your health, at least according to the Gallup/Healthways Well-Being Index. Their most recent report (using data from 2014) ranked all 50 states in order of health. The top 10 healthiest states?

- Alaska
- Hawaii
- South Dakota
- Wyoming
- Montana
- Colorado
- Nebraska
- Utah
- New Mexico
- Texas

The least healthy state, according to the Index, was West Virginia. The Index looks at a variety of factors, including purpose, social relationships, financial stability, community, and physical health.

How fast do you want that package?

Americans tend to be an impatient bunch. A study by fulfillment software vendor Temando found that 80 percent of U.S. consumers want same-day shipping from retailers, and 61 percent want their purchases shipped out even faster, within three hours.

Retailers haven't responded, at least not yet. The study noted that only 53 percent offer same-day shipping even though 55 percent of buyers indicated they'd be willing to pay for it, and only 20 percent send products within three hours, although 31 percent said they'd be ready to pay for that.

Watch your words when talking to doctors

Communicating with your doctor is important, but you can overdo it. From the Prevention.com website comes this lists of things doctors don't want to hear from their patients:

- "I'm sure I have ____." Researching your symptoms online is fine, but most doctors want to diagnose illnesses themselves. Don't walk into the doctor's office insisting you know what's wrong.
- "It's probably just stress." Writing off your problems to stress might keep you from fully describing what's going on. Be ready to tell your doctor all your symptoms so he or she can get a clear idea of your illness.
- "I'm sorry for wasting your time." You may feel that your illness isn't important, but doctors would prefer that you come in before a minor ailment turns into a serious one. You don't have to apologize for taking care of your health.
- "Haven't you heard of this new drug?" Doctors are busy people who don't have time to keep up with every new medication, no matter how hard they try. Don't insist that your doctor prescribe something you saw on TV, but do print out articles that might be helpful in treating your illness.
- "You're supposed to be the expert." Again, doctors are human, and they sometimes miss things. Have realistic expectations, and talk openly about your needs so the doctor can make an informed decision.

The winning argument?

William Gladstone, prime minister of Great Britain for many years in the 19th century, was known as a master of argument, even within his own family. On one occasion Gladstone and his sister Mary argued over where to hang a picture in their house. A workman stood around while the argument went on and on. Mary wouldn't yield, and eventually Gladstone simply stopped talking.

The workman finally hung up the picture where Mary wanted, but when he was done he walked to the other side of the room and hammered a nail in the wall where Gladstone had wanted the picture to hang. Mary asked him what he was doing.

“Well, Miss,” the worker replied, “that’ll do to hang the picture when you come round to Master William’s opinion.”

One act of kindness

One rainy night many years ago, an elderly gentleman and his wife entered the lobby of a small hotel in Philadelphia. The man asked the clerk if he had any rooms.

The clerk was a friendly man who prided himself on superior customer service. He said that unfortunately the hotel was completely booked. “However,” he said, “rather than send you out in the rain at 1 in the morning, I would be happy to offer you my room. It’s not a suite, but it will be comfortable for the night.”

The elderly man tried to object, but the clerk insisted. The next morning, as he paid his bill, the elderly gentleman said to the clerk: “You are the kind of manager who should be the boss of the best hotel in the United States.”

Two years passed. One day the clerk received a letter from the elderly guest, inviting him to New York for a visit with a round-trip airline ticket. When the clerk arrived in New York, the man met him and led him to the corner of Fifth Avenue and 34th Street. He pointed to a brand-new building. “There is the hotel I have built for you to manage,” said the elderly man.

“You must be joking,” said the astonished clerk.

“I can assure you that I am not,” said the old man, a smile on his lips.

The elderly gentleman was William Waldorf Astor, and the palace that he had built for the young clerk was the original Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The moral: You never know when kindness will come full circle.
