How doctors stay healthy

Doctors are exposed to germs and diseases every day, so how do they avoid getting sick themselves? Follow their rules for staying healthy when surrounded by illness:

- Wash your hands often. Use soap and water, and take your time. Try singing “Happy Birthday to You” twice in your head as you wash. Wash your hands before eating, after using the bathroom, and before touching your face and mouth. If washing is inconvenient, use a hand sanitizer.
- Eat a healthy diet. A good mix of fruits and vegetables will provide the vitamins your immune system needs to fight off infections early—before they balloon into major health issues.
- Get sufficient sleep. Lost sleep can damage your ability to fight off disease. Get seven to nine hours a night to stay healthy and alert.
- Clean off surfaces. Wipe down your phone and keyboard often to get rid of germs and bacteria. Wash or sanitize your hands after touching doorknobs or shaking hands. Remember that some viruses and bacteria can live for days on surfaces that haven’t been cleaned.

Be on the lookout for ‘sick building syndrome’

Is your home or workplace making you sick? “Sick building syndrome,” also known as “multiple chemical sensitivity,” is a condition in which people become ill due to prolonged exposure to mold, formaldehyde, or other dangerous substances that can spread through a building’s ventilation system virtually undetected. Everyone should watch for signs that their environment may be hazardous to his or her health. Here are some symptoms:

- Frequent headaches
- Persistent fatigue
- Dizziness and nausea
- Difficulty with concentration
- Problems with memory
- Frequent muscle pain, stiffness, or cramps
- Dry skin or itchiness
- Chest pain or heart palpitations
- Persistent sore throat and/or coughing

Watch for these heart attack symptoms

Hear disease is the leading cause of death for both men and women in the United States. Stay on the lookout for these basic signs of a heart attack:

- Chest pain. The classic signal of a heart attack is an uncomfortable feeling of pressure or squeezing in the chest.
- Jaw or arm pain. This tends to be more common in women, but don't ignore it.
- Heartburn/upset stomach. Don't write off stomach problems as just a minor ailment. Nausea and vomiting can occur during a heart attack.
- Shortness of breath. Again, more common among women, but seek assistance if you're having trouble breathing.
- Dizziness. You may feel lightheaded or on the verge of passing out.
- Sweating. Breaking out in a cold sweat is an additional symptom of a heart attack.

Choosing a doctor? Consider this study

Choosing a doctor is an important decision. Here's one factor to keep in mind: A study by the Harvard School of Public Health has found that patients who are treated by female doctors are less likely to die of the illness they're being treated for, and they're less likely to return to the hospital after discharge.

The study examined records of more than 1.5 million elderly Medicare patients admitted to hospitals for reasons other than surgery from 2011 to 2015. Patients treated by female physicians had a lower 30-day mortality rate than those treated by men, and over the course of four years, approximately 11 percent of patients treated by women died within one month of being hospitalized, compared with slightly more—11.5 percent—of patients treated by men.

Healthy citizens are the greatest asset any country can have.

Help for Severe Aortic Stenosis

Severe aortic stenosis is a narrowed aortic heart valve that doesn't open and close properly, reducing blood flow to the rest of the body.

Morton Plant Hospital is now enrolling eligible patients in the Medtronic Evolut R low-risk trial, which investigates the safety and effectiveness of a transcatheter aortic valve replacement (TAVR) system in patients with severe aortic stenosis who are at a low surgical mortality risk. TAVR is a minimally invasive alternative to open-heart surgery used to treat failing aortic heart valves in patients with severe aortic stenosis. Morton Plant Hospital was chosen as the first hospital in Tampa Bay to offer the TAVR procedure for patients with severe aortic stenosis who were at an intermediate or high surgical mortality risk. Our team has completed more than 700 TAVR procedures over the last five years.

To see if you or a loved one with severe aortic stenosis may be eligible for this trial, or for more information on the trial, call the Center for Advanced Valve and Structural Heart Care at Morton Plant Hospital at (855) 44-VALVE (855-448-2583) or visit MortonPlantValveTrial.org.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word – the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

Take these steps to innovation

Innovation is a journey that depends on continuous improvement. Expert James O’Loghlin suggests following these steps to get started:

- Focus on value. Look for inefficiencies in whatever kind of work you do. Challenge assumptions about processes, products, services, and customers. Search for ways to save time or money and increase the value of what your organization does.
- Gather ideas. Brainstorm some possible solutions, and share them with your colleagues. Ask for feedback. Be prepared for criticism, and stay ready to adapt your ideas as necessary, but don’t give in too quickly. Be persistent.
- Present your ideas. Learn how to pitch your innovative ideas without jargon or needless detail. Focus on the story you want to tell—how your idea will help the organization. Anticipate likely questions and objections to show you’ve thought everything through.
- Implement your solution. Be prepared to get to work. Don’t try to do everything yourself; assemble a team to help you with test projects and full implementation.
- Repeat. Follow the same steps for your next project. Once people see your commitment to innovation, they’ll be eager to join in.

Lost in space

Scammers are some of the most creative people around. Finding new and innovative ways of separating fools and their money is what keeps them in business. The famous “Nigerian scam letter” sent by email or fax is perhaps the best known: The sender claims to be a deposed president or king in need of assistance to liberate several million dollars from a foreign bank account. All the recipient has to do is forward some money, and possibly give the sender access to a bank account. The target eventually realizes he or she’s been had, but usually not after losing lots of money.

A new twist on the con game, as reported on the Mother Nature Network website, takes the target into outer space: Victims receive an email from a scientist who claims that in 1989, a Nigerian astronaut went on a mission to a secret Russian space station—and was stranded there when the Soviet Union collapsed. The poor space traveler is still up there, more than 25 years later. He’s been resupplied from the ground all this time, and he’s in good health, but he’d really like to come home. Fortunately, he has back pay coming to him in the amount of about $15 million dollars. All the target has to do is . . . well, you can probably guess.

No one seems to know if anyone has fallen for this variation of the scam, but it’s certainly a testament to the crooks’ ingenuity—and possibly faith in the gullibility of their victims.

Not Stupid

A boy named Johnny hung out at the local grocery store. The manager noticed that the other boys who hung out in front of the store always teased him, calling him stupid and playing tricks on him.

One of their tricks was to offer Johnny his choice between a shiny nickel and a dusty old dime. Johnny always took the nickel because it was bigger and shinier.

One day the store manager took Johnny off to one side. “Look, son, those boys are making fun of you. They think you don’t know the dime is worth more than the nickel. Don’t you know that?”

“Yeah,” Johnny said, “but if I took the dime, they’d quit doing it!”

Beating the competition

A barber was confident in the knowledge that his was the only barber shop in his small town. One day, though, a new barber shop opened right across the street. A sign out front proclaimed, “EVERYTHING FOR $10! $10 haircuts, $10 perms, everything for $10.”

Soon all his customers began patronizing the cut-rate shop across the street, and the man’s once profitable business took a nosedive. In desperation, he hired a big-city business consultant, saying to him, “I’m finished. How in the world am I going to compete with that big outfit with all that advertising and with those kind of prices?”

The consultant stood looking at the shop across the street for several minutes. Then he picked up the phone and dialed the town’s only billboard company.

“Yes,” he said, “right on top of our building. In the biggest letters you can find, and do it right away. And make the message read: WE FIX $10 HAIRCUTS.”

The person who can bring the spirit of laughter into a room is indeed blessed.

Americans nervous about biometric security

Technologies that can read your fingerprint, recognize your voice, or scan your retina are becoming more reliable, but many of us don't trust them. As reported on the Digital Trends website, a study of more than 1,000 Americans over 18 found that 58 percent prefer standard written passwords to biometric security measures for their smartphones and other devices.

Reasons? Among the survey respondents, 42 percent worried about organizations saving their biometric data, and fewer than 1 in 10 considered the technology to be free of risk. Also, 42 percent expressed concerns that malfunctions would leave them unable to access their accounts.

'Superfoods' will be big in 2017

The most recent "What's Trending in Nutrition" national survey of more than 1,700 dietitians has found that Americans are putting more emphasis on eating healthier foods. Here's a list of the top 10 "superfoods" this year:

- Seeds, like chia and hemp
- Avocado
- Nuts, like almonds and walnuts
- Fermented foods like yogurt
- Ancient grains
- Kale
- Green tea
- Coconut products
- Exotic fruits
- Salmon

Where did the tea bag come from?

The custom of steeping tea in bags came about by accident, according to Cassie Liversidge, author of Homegrown Tea: An Illustrated Guide to Planting, Harvesting and Blending Teas and Tisanes (St. Martin's Griffin).

Thomas Sullivan, a tea dealer in New York in the early 20th century, shipped samples of his teas around the world in silk bags made by his wife. They expected customers to remove the tea from the bags for brewing, but many of the recipients believed that they were supposed to brew the tea in the bags. In time, the concept of the tea bag spread around the world. By 2012, more than 65 percent of the tea consumed in the United States was brewed in tea bags.

An inventive smuggler

A cigarette smuggler in Denmark had a problem: He usually brought his illegal goods into the country by boat and unloaded them on the beach, which was generally cold and empty.

But one unseasonably bright, warm day (according to a story on the Knowable website), his boat showed up to find a packed beach—men, women, and children everywhere enjoying the unexpectedly pleasant weather. How to get his goods off the boat?

The clever smuggler went to a production company and rented film equipment—cameras, a director's chair, and everything else. Then he went back to the beach and announced he was shooting a movie about . . . cigarette smugglers. He recruited several young men to be extras in the film.

After the smuggler called out “Action!” the young men unloaded the illegal cigarettes from the boat and put them in a waiting truck. The “director” called, “Cut!” and the trucks drove off as he thanked everyone for their assistance.

Flag day

An American tourist in the Netherlands was chatting with a friend and asked about the meaning of the red, white, and blue stripes in the Dutch flag.

“Our flag symbolizes our taxes,” the friend joked. “We get red when we talk about them, white when we get our tax bill, and blue after we pay them.”

“That’s the same with us,” the American said. “Only we see stars, too.”
